Israeli-Syrian Peace Pact Is Followed By Cease-Fire

Kissinger Is Applauded For Successful Efforts

GENEVA (UPI) — Israel and Syria signed a formal agreement today to separate their warring armies on the Golan Heights front. A Syrian spokesman in Damascus announced that a cease-fire went into effect at 7:30 a.m. EDT, 45 minutes after the Geneva ceremony.

Diplomats throughout the world hailed the signing as the first step toward permanent peace in the Middle East. But difficult and dangerous negotiations lay ahead and Syria, as one of the most radical of Arab nations and heavily backed by the Soviet Union, was expected to take a hard line throughout.

Both Israel and Syria reported extremely heavy fighting on the Golan Heights at the time of the actual ceremony and Israel took advantage of the pre-truce period to carry out widespread bombing raids against Arab guerrilla bases in Lebanon. It was the 82nd consecutive day of fighting in the Heights.

UPI Correspondent Thomas Cheatham, with Israeli forces in the Golan Heights, said what might be the last of the Middle East wars went out with a bang that the Syrians extended well past the cease-fire zero hour.

The Israeli order "hold your fire" crackled out over the Israeli communications network promptly at noon (6 a.m. EDT) and one of the soldiers said, "I hope it can last." For 15 minutes the Israelis held their fire while the Syrians bombarded the southern sector of the Israeli bulge with a thunderous barrage that left the battlefield bathed in smoke.

Then came the cease-fire.

President Nixon and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today reviewed Kissinger's diplomatic triumph as the guns fell silent on the Golan Heights front.

After only a few hours of sleep following his return from his Mideast peace mission, Kissinger went to the White House for a breakfast meeting with Nixon in the family dining room on the first floor of the mansion.

After that came a White House Cabinet room meeting, with top congressional leaders of both parties on hand to hear Kissinger's report on what he described, in a 1:45 a.m. arrival statement, as an agreement that could contribute to "a just and permanent peace in the Middle East."

Nixon and Kissinger were accorded a standing ovation by the congressional leadership when they walked into the Cabinet room.

As newsmen were admitted briefly for a picture-taking session, House Speaker Carl Albert said loudly to Kissinger: "Congratulations! That may be one of the great things of the century."

A Beruit newspaper said today that the United States and Syria had agreed in principle to resume diplomatic relations. The report said Alfred Atherton, a State Department Middle East expert, would be the first U.S. ambassador to Damascus since diplomatic relations were severed during the June, 1967, Arab-Israeli war.

Tam District Back To 'Normal'

By BILL ROBERTS

Teachers and students were back to school in "normal" numbers today in the Tamalpais High School District following a one-day strike by teachers yesterday over salary negotiations.

Only 65 of the district's 334 teachers — who are asking a 15 per cent pay raise — were on the job yesterday while the remainder protested what they called the "insulting 4 per cent" offered by trustees. About 60 per cent of the district's students attended school but found only recreational programs and movies being offered at two short-staffed schools.

All but 21 of the teachers were at work today, according to Edward J. Neumeier, district administrative assistant, and those who were absent had either called in sick or were on school business such as coaching track teams.

But Frank Gold, teachers union president and one of the strike organizers, disagreed with Neumeier's use of the word normal.

"Things in these schools will never be back to normal," he said. "The strike was overwhelmingly successful. I just hope that the district will come to its senses and reopen negotiations."

Negotiations were cut off last week after nearly two months of negotiation and mediation by state representatives. District trustees announced they would adopt a salary schedule at their meeting Monday which would allow only a 4 per cent raise, their final offer, and the strike followed.

Supt. Robert D. Torrey, trustees' salary negotiator, said he had scheduled a further negotiating session for this afternoon.

"I think the real job this afternoon is to explore what possibilities are for any further movement. We will explore if there is anywhere we can go from here," he said.

But Torrey said trustees "current final offer" of a 4 per cent raise still stands. Gold said that unless there is negotiation on the salary raise he would recommend that teacher negotiators leave the meeting.

"There are many other things in negotiation that are important such as transfer policies for teachers and class size," Gold said. "Salaries are the stumbling block."

Torrey said trustees will hold a closed session at their meeting Monday to discuss salary negotiations. But he said an item on the agenda for adoption of the 4 per cent raise had been deleted and would be consid-

Tam High District Teachers' Pay Best In State Last Year

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Tamlapais High School District, where teachers staged a one-day strike yesterday in a campaign for higher pay, topped all California school districts last year in salaries paid its instructional staff.

Median teacher salary in the Tam district for the 1972-73 school year was $16,250, according to figures compiled by the state Department of Education. This was $2 more than the $16,248 median in Beverly Hills Unified School District, which was used as an example of an extreme high-spending district in the famous Serrano case. Only two other districts below the junior college level — Sequoia High in San Mateo County and Palo Alto Unified — listed median teacher salaries above $16,000.

Statewide figures for the current school year are not yet available; but the Tam district teachers received an across-the-board 4.8 per cent raise for this year, plus a 16 per cent increase in medical and dental benefits, which are among fringe benefits not included in computing the salaries.

Figures on file with the Marin County superintendent of schools office show the average pay in the Tam district this year at $16,358. (The average may differ slightly from the median, since it is obtained by adding up all salaries and dividing by the number of teachers, rather than taking the midpoint between top and bottom salaries.)

The negotiating council representing teachers in pay talks has asked for a 15 per cent raise for next school year. The Tam district board countered with an offer of a 4 per cent increase. Calling this an "insult," the Tamalpais District Teachers Association (CTA) and Tamalpais Federation of

Nixon Woes Widen On Watergate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With the Supreme Court studying prosecutor Leon Jaworski's request it rule quickly on his subpoena for more presidential tapes, President Nixon's Watergate troubles spread rapidly today into other areas.

The high court justices, at their weekly Friday conference, studied Jaworski's subpoena for 64 presidential conversations that he says are needed for prosecution of seven defendants in the Watergate cover-up. Nixon has refused to yield the tapes and asked the Court yesterday to allow the matter to go through the normal appellate court channels.

The high court could decide today whether to consider the case before its term ends in June.

In other areas, there were these rapid developments:

Senate Watergate investigators, in a report obtained by UPI, concluded that Nixon was aware of a $2 million pledge by milk producers to his reelection campaign and ignored opinions of his agricultural experts in ordering milk price support increases.

The Senate report said the Watergate committee staff is investigating allegations former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally got $15,000 in milk cooperative funds for his help in the price support increase and an antitrust case.

Jaworski said he has "circumstantial and direct evidence" that some major contributors to the 1972 Nixon reelection campaign sought or were promised federal jobs in return for their gifts.

New Bales' Aide Without A Job

By ERIK M. INGRAM

A 33-year-old attorney hired last week by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales found himself out of a job yesterday as the Marin County Personnel Commission ruled that his hiring had been improper.

On a 3-to-2 vote, the commission directed Bales to follow established county personnel practices in filling positions in his office.

The vote means that attorney Frank L. Nelson Jr. may not join the district attorney's staff on Monday as was previously announced by Bales. Instead, he will have to go through the normal county recruitment process which may take a month.

When the young attorney was hired, he was selected from among 75 applicants on file in the district attorney's office.

Some 500 applications from attorneys on file in the county personnel office were not considered by Bales, thus the county's open recruitment requirements were not followed.

The matter boiled to a head when personnel officer Maren F. Rinne read of the hiring in the Independent-Journal. She said she was unaware that Bales was keeping a private file in his office.

Yesterday's session, in which Bales and Asst. Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas urged that an exception to the county code be granted, was marked by mild scolding from several commissioners.

"Obviously the one department that should toe the line is your department," commissioner Parnel Finn told Bales. "It's

Judge Halts Warm Springs Dam Work

U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas yesterday issued a court order stopping construction of the Warm Springs Dam in Sonoma County until a lawsuit over the controversial project has been resolved.

Paul D. Kayfetz, Bolinas laywer who represents a coalition of groups opposing the dam, telephoned the Independent-Journal last night from Washington, D.C. to report Justice Douglas's action.

Justice Douglas indicated he may reconsider the stay after he receives reports from the Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Solicitor General's office which are expected this weekend, Kayfetz added.

The order imposes a ban on construction until after decision on an appeal filed in the Ninth Circuit Court in San Francisco. The appeal challenges a lower court's refusal to continue an injunction stopping the project.

Opponents have charged the dam could be subject to damage or destruction by earthquake and that a mercury buildup in impounded waters could destroy fisheries.

Kayfetz said his application for the order was filed Wednesday. He noted the Army Corps of Engineers was scheduled to begin construction yesterday, but voluntarily postponed all work after hearing of the application to Justice Douglas.

Home Delivery Of I-J Up 25c

The home-delivered price of the Independent-Journal will be $2.75 per month, starting tomorrow.

"Our constant goal is to provide our readers with the best possible paper at the lowest possible price," said Wishard A. Brown, I-J publisher.

"Many newspapers in northern California, facing enormous increases in costs of materials and labor, have been forced to raise subscriptions rates 50 cents, 75 cents and even $1 per month. However, the efficiencies of our new electronic production facilities make it possible for the I-J to hold its increase to only 25 cents per month. A substantial portion of the increase will go to I-J carriers," Brown explained.

Jaworski Is After Gift Information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski said today he has "circumstantial and direct evidence" that major contributors to President Nixon's campaigns sought or were promised federal jobs in return for their gifts.

He also said that Nixon—who yesterday claimed executive privilege to keep a grand jury from obtaining material for its bribery and conspiracy investigation—already has complied with earlier subpoenas and allowed key aides to testify about suspect ambassadorial appointments.

Jaworski urged chief U.S. District Judge George L. Hart to reject the executive privilege claims and order that the evidence, now in the possesion of former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans be delivered to the grand jury.

"Circumstantial and direct evidence before the grand jury and known to the special prosecutor indicates prima facie that certain large campaign contributors either promised contributions in consideration of appointment to federal posts or were promised a position in return for a contribution," he said in papers filed with Hart's court.

Jaworski said it was crucial that the grand jury obtain Stans' recommendations to the President about potential appointees so grand jurors may decide who, if anyone, has broken the law.

Stans was Nixon's chief fund raiser for both his 1968 and 1972 presidential campaigns.

Mistrial In Supersalesman's Case

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — The legal chess game between Orlando supersalesman Glenn W. Turner and the federal government ended in a mistrial yesterday, but a rematch will take place Aug. 5.

Turner

The 12 jurors who heard evidence for the past eight months in the mail fraud case against Turner and his seven associates reported they were hopelessly deadlocked. District Judge Gerald B. Tjoflat then declared a mistrial and scheduled a new trial.

During the six days of deliberations which began last Thursday, the jurors passed several hand-written notes to Judge Tjoflat indicating they were far apart on the question of guilt or innocence.

Turner and the others were charged wtih devising a business scheme to defraud numerous investors across the country through his cosmetics firm, Koscot Interplanetary Inc., a self-taught motivational course stressing positive thinking and action.

More Violence

ROME (UPI) — Leftist groups attacked two neoFascist headquarters in Rome with fists and fire bombs today in the third day of retaliation for a bombing that killed six anti-Fascist demonstrators.

Police broke up one street brawl in front of the headquarters of the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement (MSI). Leftwingers ripped the shutters from another MSI building and hurled two fire bombs inside.

The bomb deaths in Brescia Tuesday and a shoot-out yesterday in which police killed a member of the Mussolini Action Squad sparked protests across the nation and demands for a crackdown on extremists.

The government announced plans to set up a special police task force to combat terrorism.

In Messina, Sicily, a note signed by the newly formed rightwing extremist group "Black Order" vowed vengeance for the neo-Fascist killed in the Rascino Lake shoot-out with police.

President Giovanni Leone led a contingent of government and political leaders to Brescia today for the state funeral of the six victims of the bombing.

Franco Threat?

MADRID (UPI) — Spain's first political poll showed widespread leftist support today and indicated Socialists could narrowly defeat Generalissimo Fransisco Franco in a free election.

The poll, published in the magazine Cambio 16, also indicated a great deal of political apathy — or wariness — in the country. The magazine said half the Spaniards sampled had no opinion.

The sampling was the first poll published in Spain in the 35-year history of the Franco regime. The poll came just a month after leftists emerged as a major political force in neighboring Portugal after April's military coup.

The magazine said Socialists would get the most votes in a free election, followed by Franco's National Movement and the Christian Democrats.

Leader Captured

BELFAST (UPI) — British troops seized a top leader of the outlawed Irish Republican Army today during a massive search to prevent a violent IRA backlash over the collapse of the province's moderate coalition government.

Life in Northern Ireland headed back to normal following a shattering, 15-day strike by Protestant militants, but Britain ran into a stumbling block in attempts to form a a new coalition government to run the province.

An army spokesman said the IRA leader was picked up in a bar this morning during a search by hundreds of troops in Belfast's Roman Catholic Lower Falls Road district.

The spokesman refused to identify the underground leader, but said he was a senior member of the IRA's extremist Provisional Belfast brigade and "one of the top six men on our wanted list."

New Ties Seen

BEIRUT (UPI) — The usually well-informed newspaper An Nahar said today the United States and Syria have agreed in principle to reestablish full diplomatic relations.

Quoting diplomatic sources in Damascus, the newspaper said Undersecretary of State Alfred L. Atherton may be appointed Washington's ambassador in Damascus. It said the Syrians might appoint Dr. Zakaria Ismail or Dr. Sabah Kabbani — both high-ranking foreign ministry officials — as Syrian ambassador to Washington.

Evidence Burned

PARIS (UPI) — In a little-known building near the tomb of Napoleon, France's anonymous eavesdroppers today burned thousands of wiretapped conversations of union leaders, journalists, foreigners and political dissidents.

Interior Minister Michel Poniatowski yesterday announced the unprecedented burning. President Valery Giscard d'Estaing said he wanted to make France "liberal" by ending wiretapping and destroying conversations already recorded.

A Terrorist Attack

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Terrorists attacked a Socialist Workers Party meeting with machine guns, kidnaped six persons and killed three of them, police said today.

A party spokesman said 15 men fired at least 100 rounds of automatic weapon and light machine gun fire into the meeting yesterday in the northwest Buenos Aires suburb of General Pacheco.

The guerrillas burned mattresses and stuffed six persons, including three girls, into the trunks of their cars before speeding away.

Witnesses said the men all wore leather jackets with light-colored armbands and some carried portable radios.

The spokesman said the three girls were beaten and dumped on a side road later yesterday.

No Crimes Found In ITT Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Executives of International Telephone and Telegraph committed no crimes during the settlement of a big antitrust case in 1971, Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski has concluded.

But an investigation into the conglomerate will continue, he told Rep. J.J. Pickle, D-Tex., yesterday, under a new prosecution staff that replaced the three lawyers who quit the ITT task force in the past week.

Jaworski has been investigating whether the settlement, favorable to ITT, was linked to its offer of up to $400,000 to help finance the 1972 Republican National Convention then scheduled for San Diego, Calif.

In a letter to Pickle, who made it public, Jaworski said:

"...That part of the investigation relating to allegations of federal criminal offenses by ITT executives in connection with the settlement of the antitrust cases announced on July 30, 1971, has failed to disclose the commission of any such violations and although the investigation is not being closed at this time, it is fair to say that there is no present expectation of a disclosure of such offenses."

Earlier this month, former Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst pleaded guilty to failing to testify accurately at his confirmation hearings about White House pressure not to appeal three antitrust suits. Kleindienst had denied being placed under any pressure.

Eventually, the suits were settled out of court. ITT dropped six companies but was allowed to keep the one it wanted most, Hartford Fire Insurance.

Jaworski said his ITT task force is "vigorously investigating allegations of improper influence in connection with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Internal Revenue Service "as well as other alleged violations by ITT executives."

Agnew Said All Clear With IRS

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has paid all his back federal income taxes and the Internal Revenue Service has no further claims against him, the Baltimore Sun said today.

Agnew pleaded no contest to a single tax evasion charge Oct. 10, the day he resigned as vice president after being implicated in an investigation of a kickback scheme involving architects and engineers while he was Baltimore County Executive, governor of Maryland and vice president.

A criminal information filed at that time alleged that although his 1967 tax return showed a taxable income of $26,099 and $6,416 in taxes owed, he actually earned $55,509 and should have paid $19,947 in taxes.

The newspaper said that charge would have called for back payments of about $25,000, including $13,551 in unpaid taxes for 1967, a 50 per cent penalty and a 6 per cent interest charge.

A Justice Department summary of its case against Agnew claimed he had actually received about $87,500 in unreported income between 1966 and 1973.

The amount the IRS collected from him was not revealed, the newspaper said.

Judah Best, Agnew's attorney, refused to comment on the Sun report, saying the matter is "highly confidential." He said Agnew would also have no comment.

The Sun's sources were quoted as saying Agnew is now "clean as a hound's tooth" and that the IRS considers the case closed.

Long Holiday For Memorial Day Attacked

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ray F. Soden of Bensenville, Ill., commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, wants Memorial Day to be observed on May 30 every year once again, saying the holiday should be "for solemn remembrance, not for a three-day period of revelry.

"Leisure is a marvelous thing, but the American people should realize that leisurely long weekends would never have been possible if the veterans of this nation had not sacrificed to protect it."

Soden said the VFW is trying to get Congress to restore Memorial Day to its original date, and Veterans Day to Nov. 11. Since 1971, both holidays have been observed on Mondays so most workers could enjoy a three-day weekend.

St. Clair Is Silent On Tape Advice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's chief lawyer will not say whether he would advise Nixon to comply with a Supreme Court decision ordering him to give further documents to Watergate prosecutors.

James D. St. Clair told a news conference yesterday that he "would not want to say yes or no" to such a question at this time. "This a hypothetical question. I don't think I can answer it now," he said.

The President's lawyers filed a brief in the Supreme Court yesterday asking the court not to take the case of a disputed Watergate subpoena away from an intermediate appeals court and decide it on a rush basis.

Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski last week by-passed the appeals court and asked the Supreme Court for a quick ruling on whether Nixon must provide information subpoenaed by Jaworski for use in the Watergate coverup trial.

Professor Charles Alan Wright of the University of Texas, who signed the presidential brief, said that "attempts in the past ... to make a hurried disposition of an important case arising in the dying days of a term have not been among the proudest chapters in the history of the court."

He argued that the Supreme Court acted too hastily in cases involving sick poultry in 1935, the National Recovery Act also in 1935, war brides in 1956 and the Pentagon Papers in 1971.

Wright told the high court that the doctrine of executive privilege, on which Nixon relies to withhold information from both the courts and Congress "remains alive and well."

Nixon said several months ago in connection with a suit brought by Archibald Cox, Jaworski's predecessor that he would comply with any "definitive ruling" by the high court.

Newest Satellite Is Now In Orbit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first satellite powerful enough to broadcast directly to simple ground receivers is on station above the Pacific for years of experiments beaming educational television and specialized medical services to rural America and India.

The new communications station, called Applications Technology Satellite 6 (ATS 6), was propelled into a 22,300-mile high stationary orbit from Cape Canaveral yesterday by the Air Force.

After examining tracking data, NASA's project manager, John M. Thole, said ATS 6 should have enough control rocket fuel to operate for at least five years.

From its location above the Galapagos Islands, ATS 6 is able to beam radio and television to any place in the United States. It will begin its pioneering experiments after controllers at the Goddard Space Flight Center complete several weeks of tests.

In the United States, educational television and medical services will be beamed to communities in Applachia and the Rocky Mountains and in Alaska. After a year over the Pacific, the satellite will be moved halfway around the world so it can broadcast to 5,000 villages in India.

Sausalito Boatyard Will Close June 30

Bob's Boatyard, the Sausalito repair facility waterfront conservationists have sought to preserve, will close June 30.

The yard, at 1702 Bridgeway, has been operated in the Marinship area for more than three years by Bob Long, a 46-year-old former steelworker.

The operation, which has continued under a succession of managements since World War II, is located in the heart of a massive development proposal by O'Meara Chandler Corp. for the Schoonmaker waterfront property.

Long, who rents the yard on a month-to-month arrangement, blamed failure by the property owners to make repairs and perform modernization work for causing profits to decline, making it impossible for him to stay in business.

He said the owners, represented by Steve Siskind, planner for the Schoonmaker project, also have refused to grant him a lease that would allow him to make repairs himself.

Although the developers for Schoonmaker have offered to subsidize the boatyard in a new location at the north of the planned project, Long believes those promises are hollow as well.

The yard — patronized by fishing boat owners, houseboat owners and pleasure boaters — has a capacity to handle boats up to 380 tons and barges up to 480 tons. It is the only repair operation on the Sausalito waterfront capable of handling the larger houseboats.

Long said he plans to open a yard for building new, steel-hulled vessels on the waterfront but plans are sketchy at this point.

No representative for the developers, who plan a $40 million commercial, residential and recreational development for the Marinship, was available for comment today.

"That in itself is a victory," Gold said. "We hope that the board's postponement of the June 3 agenda item is an indication of the board's willingness to be flexible."

Trustees Bette Wallace and Robert W. Corlett today said they would reserve reaction on the strike until Monday when the board will receive a full report from Torrey. Board chairman Jerrold M. Ladar and trustee Lotte Schiller could not be reached.

Mrs. Wallace said the strike had spurred many calls to her from community members supporting the board's position in making 4 per cent its final offer.

"I have received a lot of reaction from the community and it is very strongly behind the board's position at this point," she said.

Mayor Files To End Marriage

In a Marin Superior Court petition, Mrs. Sestak said they were married Aug. 12, 1956, in Park Ridge, Ill. She cited irreconcilable differences in seeking the dissolution.

The couple has two daughters, Lynn, 15, and Gwenn, 11.

Mrs. Sestak was elected to the city council in 1972 and was named mayor in March.

Plea Made To Assault Count

Judge Peter Allen Smith ordered the 25-year-old Cammack to appear June 25 in Marin Superior Court for sentencing.

Forecast Made On Quentin Use

VACAVILLE (UPI) — Kenneth D. Britt, 40, reportedly to become warden of San Quentin Prison said Wednesday he believes the century-old facility will be needed to hold criminals for five or six more years.

"I don't think there's a likelihood of it closing in the near future," Britt said of the facility, which the state Department of Corrections plans to phase out.

Trial Set For Three On Cocaine

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Three Southern Sonomans, charged with selling cocaine, will stand trial at 9 a.m. June 7 in Sonoma Superior Court.

Defendants are Leander Munhall Hamilton, 24, of 300 East Cotati Avenue, Cotati; Karen Rountree, 21, of 64 Cypress Avenue, Cotati, and Ginger Martin, 21, of 1120 Magnolia Avenue, Petaluma.

They were arrested in Cotati April 2. Sonoma sheriff's deputies said the arrests followed a month-long investigation which included substantial cocaine purchases by undercover agents.

During a preliminary hearing Wednesday, Municipal Judge Kiernan Hyland ordered the superior court trial for the three.

Miss Martin and Miss Rountree are free after posting $2,000 bonds each, while Hamilton posed a $3,000 bond.

PAY

Teachers (AFL-CIO) called yesterday's one-day strike in protest.

Marin Community College District's average teacher salary this year is $17,200, according to the county superintendent's figures. Below the junior college level, no Marin district except Tamalpais High has average salary exceeding $16,000.

These are this year's average teacher salaries in all Marin public school districts, as listed by the county schools office:

Bolinas-Stinson, $11,000; Dixie, $14,562; Fairfax, $13,306; Kentfield, $14,651; Laguna, $8,500 (one teacher); Lagunitas, $11,915; Larkspur, $14,579; Lincoln, $7,800 (one teacher); Mill Valley, $13,921; Nicasio, $10,127; Novato Unified, $13,892; Reed, $14,032; Ross, $13,516; San Anselmo, $13,665; San Rafael Elementary, $15,491; San Rafael High, $15,630; Sausalito, $14,311; Shoreline Unified, $12,494; Tamalpais High, $16,358; Union, $7,100 (one teacher), and Marin Community College, $17,220.

These figures are for the nine-month school year, and do not include additional amounts paid teachers who teach in summer sessions. Neither do they include fringe benefits, such as medical and dental insurance, the district contribution toward teacher retirement, etc.

Rail Transportation Will Be Discussed

The future of railroad transportation in the United States will be discussed by Henry M. Ortiz, Southern Pacific Railroad official, at the monthly meeting of Marin Forum at noon Tuesday at the Bank of Marin at Fifth Avenue and B Street, San Rafael.

Marin Forum, a community group that meets at the bank at noontime on the first Tuesday of each month, sponsors public addresses by "various speakers on issues of local and national concern," according to spokesman Sally C. Gorman of San Rafael.

BALES

hard to let you off the hook. You know the law."

"Why didn't you follow the policies of this county?, chairman Ben A. Farlatti probed. "Why did you take it upon yourself to abandon county procedures?"

Thomas replied that "we were aware of the regulations but felt they didn't apply to this kind of (professional) applicant.

It was not made clear yesterday why then the office had followed the procedures on occasion in the past.

Thomas siad he thought the department should have the "full right to hire and review for the position."

"We're not coming before you saying our action was justified, it probably wasn't," he said, but urged they grant the exception since Nelson, the son of Corte Madera Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson, had already been promised the job.

Bales added that the review of 75 applications in his file constituted a "reasonable cross-section" and screening of the 500 in the personnel office would have been time consuming.

Commissioners John Ralph Thomas and Robert McCredie, both attorneys, agreed to grant Bales the exception from county requirements.

Both said they based their decision on the lack of any protest by other applicants to the procedure used by Bales.

Farlatti noted, however, that it would be difficult for other attorneys seeking a job with the county to protest the procedure since they were unaware of the opening.

(They also could not have known of yesterday's discussion by the commission since it was taken up under "open time" on the commission's agenda.)

Faralatti said that if the exception were granted, "some of them will find out" and challenge the commission's decision.

"I don't want to go through the more painful procedure of a challenge (to the commission's action)," Mrs. Finn said, moving to deny Bales' request. She drew support from Farlatti and commissioner I.W. Bonbright.

Drug Offender Sentenced To A Year In Jail

A 24-year-old who sold one ounce of heroin to an undercover San Francisco drug agent and tried to sell more was sentenced today to one year in Marin County Jail.

But Judge Charles Read Best of Marin Superior Court told Frederick Collier Reed — originally arrested under the name Frederick Allen Pope — that six months of the jail time needn't be served if he enters a therapy program.

Reed pleaded guilty to two counts, one of selling heroin on Feb. 15, the other of attempting to sell the drug March 8.

Because an overeager San Francisco agent prematurely searched Reed's Mission Avenue home without a search warrant, three kilos of marijuana and some LSD found inside could not be used against him.

Principal's Job Offer Is Rejected

Top candidate to replace retiring Terra Linda High School principal Frank Stocking has rejected an employment offer by the San Rafael Board of Education.

Dr. Tom Osler, 33, principal of a Michigan high school, rejected the Terra Linda post since he has accepted a position as assistant superintendent of the London-American School in England, according to Supt. Donald Leisey.

The board met in closed session last night to interview another finalist for the position, but decided to seek another round of applications, Leisey said.

Applicants may apply for the principalship by June 22, he said.

Case On Stolen Car Sent To Superior Court

A San Francisco man arrested last month when a former policeman spotted him behind the wheel of a stolen car was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on an auto theft charge.

David R. Sims, 20, was ordered to appear June 13 after Municipal Judge Gary W. Thomas ruled there was enough evidence to hold him.

Sims allegedly was driving a car stolen from Empire Chevrolet in Novato on April 30 when a former Novato policeman, now a salesman at Empire, saw him and gave chase.

Prize Booklet For Fair Ready

Deadlines and prizes for the 240 classifications of entries for the 1974 Marin County Fair have been compiled and a booklet listing them is available, according to Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager.

Copies of the book may be obtained by phoning or visiting the fair office on the Marin Civic Center Fairgrounds.

The fair will be held Aug. 29 through Sept. 2.

Heads Coast Guard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Owen Wesley Siler became the 15th commandant of the U.S. Coast Guard today in ceremonies held aboard a Coast Guard training ship.

OBITUARY

MRS. MYERS

Private funeral was held today for Rachael D. Myers, a retired nurse who made her home in San Rafael. Mrs. Myers, 81, died Wednesday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Myers was born in Oregon and grew up there and in the State of Washington.

She was graduated as a registered nurse from the University of California, Berkeley, in 1923. She worked at Stanford Hospital some years.

She and her husband, Dr. Rollin G. Myers, who was working for the government, were in the Philippine Islands when World War II started and were interned at Santo Tomas Prison during the war.

After the war, Mrs. Myers lived in Palo Alto before moving to Marin 10 years ago.

Her husband preceded her in death in 1951.

She is survived by two sisters, Davida Easom of San Rafael and Jennie Shank of Ontario, Ore.

One Governor Is In Ford's Corner

"I would like to see the change," he said yesterday.

Shapp was generally critical of the entire Nixon administration policies, and said, "I didn't want Nixon in there in the first place. If we get him out, fine. It's not just Watergate. It's the attitude, it's the arrogance here."

Sausalito Boatyard Will Close June 30

Bob's Boatyard, the Sausalito repair facility waterfront conservationists have sought to preserve, will close June 30.

The yard, at 1702 Bridgeway, has been operated in the Marinship area for more than three years by Bob Long, a 46-year-old former steelworker.

The operation, which has continued under a succession of managements since World War II, is located in the heart of a massive development proposal by O'Meara Chandler Corp. for the Schoonmaker waterfront property.

Long, who rents the yard on a month-to-month arrangement, blamed failure by the property owners to make repairs and perform modernization work for causing profits to decline, making it impossible for him to stay in business.

He said the owners, represented by Steve Siskind, planner for the Schoonmaker project, also have refused to grant him a lease that would allow him to make repairs himself.

Although the developers for Schoonmaker have offered to subsidize the boatyard in a new location at the north of the planned project, Long believes those promises are hollow as well.

The yard — patronized by fishing boat owners, houseboat owners and pleasure boaters — has a capacity to handle boats up to 380 tons and barges up to 480 tons. It is the only repair operation on the Sausalito waterfront capable of handling the larger houseboats.

Long said he plans to open a yard for building new, steel-hulled vessels on the waterfront but plans are sketchy at this point.

No representative for the developers, who plan a $40 million commercial, residential and recreational development for the Marinship, was available for comment today.

"That in itself is a victory," Gold said. "We hope that the board's postponement of the June 3 agenda item is an indication of the board's willingness to be flexible."

Trustees Bette Wallace and Robert W. Corlett today said they would reserve reaction on the strike until Monday when the board will receive a full report from Torrey. Board chairman Jerrold M. Ladar and trustee Lotte Schiller could not be reached.

Mrs. Wallace said the strike had spurred many calls to her from community members supporting the board's position in making 4 per cent its final offer.

"I have received a lot of reaction from the community and it is very strongly behind the board's position at this point," she said.

Mayor Files To End Marriage

In a Marin Superior Court petition, Mrs. Sestak said they were married Aug. 12, 1956, in Park Ridge, Ill. She cited irreconcilable differences in seeking the dissolution.

The couple has two daughters, Lynn, 15, and Gwenn, 11.

Mrs. Sestak was elected to the city council in 1972 and was named mayor in March.

Plea Made To Assault Count

Kirk Vern Cammack, 25, of Larkspur, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a felony charge of statutory rape, thus averting a preliminary hearing.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ordered the 25-year-old Cammack to appear June 25 in Marin Superior Court for sentencing.

Forecast Made On Quentin Use

VACAVILLE (UPI) — Kenneth D. Britt, 40, reportedly to become warden of San Quentin Prison said Wednesday he believes the century-old facility will be needed to hold criminals for five or six more years.

"I don't think there's a likelihood of it closing in the near future," Britt said of the facility, which the state Department of Corrections plans to phase out.

Trial Set For Three On Cocaine

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Three Southern Sonomans, charged with selling cocaine, will stand trial at 9 a.m. June 7 in Sonoma Superior Court.

Defendants are Leander Munhall Hamilton, 24, of 300 East Cotati Avenue, Cotati; Karen Rountree, 21, of 64 Cypress Avenue, Cotati, and Ginger Martin, 21, of 1120 Magnolia Avenue, Petaluma.

They were arrested in Cotati April 2. Sonoma sheriff's deputies said the arrests followed a month-long investigation which included substantial cocaine purchases by undercover agents.

During a preliminary hearing Wednesday, Municipal Judge Kiernan Hyland ordered the superior court trial for the three.

Miss Martin and Miss Rountree are free after posting $2,000 bonds each, while Hamilton posed a $3,000 bond.

Teachers (AFL-CIO) called yesterday's one-day strike in protest.

Marin Community College District's average teacher salary this year is $17,200, according to the county superintendent's figures. Below the junior college level, no Marin district except Tamalpais High has average salary exceeding $16,000.

These are this year's average teacher salaries in all Marin public school districts, as listed by the county schools office:

Bolinas-Stinson, $11,000; Dixie, $14,562; Fairfax, $13,306; Kentfield, $14,651; Laguna, $8,500 (one teacher); Lagunitas, $11,915; Larkspur, $14,579; Lincoln, $7,800 (one teacher); Mill Valley, $13,921; Nicasio, $10,127; Novato Unified, $13,892; Reed, $14,032; Ross, $13,516; San Anselmo, $13,665; San Rafael Elementary, $15,491; San Rafael High, $15,630; Sausalito, $14,311; Shoreline Unified, $12,494; Tamalpais High, $16,358; Union, $7,100 (one teacher), and Marin Community College, $17,220.

These figures are for the nine-month school year, and do not include additional amounts paid teachers who teach in summer sessions. Neither do they include fringe benefits, such as medical and dental insurance, the district contribution toward teacher retirement, etc.

Rail Transportation Will Be Discussed

The future of railroad transportation in the United States will be discussed by Henry M. Ortiz, Southern Pacific Railroad official, at the monthly meeting of Marin Forum at noon Tuesday at the Bank of Marin at Fifth Avenue and B Street, San Rafael.

Marin Forum, a community group that meets at the bank at noontime on the first Tuesday of each month, sponsors public addresses by "various speakers on issues of local and national concern," according to spokesman Sally C. Gorman of San Rafael.

BALES

hard to let you off the hook. You know the law."

"Why didn't you follow the policies of this county?, chairman Ben A. Farlatti probed. "Why did you take it upon yourself to abandon county procedures?"

Thomas replied that "we were aware of the regulations but felt they didn't apply to this kind of (professional) applicant.

It was not made clear yesterday why then the office had followed the procedures on occasion in the past.

Thomas siad he thought the department should have the "full right to hire and review for the position."

"We're not coming before you saying our action was justified, it probably wasn't," he said, but urged they grant the exception since Nelson, the son of Corte Madera Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson, had already been promised the job.

Bales added that the review of 75 applications in his file constituted a "reasonable cross-section" and screening of the 500 in the personnel office would have been time consuming.

Commissioners John Ralph Thomas and Robert McCredie, both attorneys, agreed to grant Bales the exception from county requirements.

Both said they based their decision on the lack of any protest by other applicants to the procedure used by Bales.

Farlatti noted, however, that it would be difficult for other attorneys seeking a job with the county to protest the procedure since they were unaware of the opening.

(They also could not have known of yesterday's discussion by the commission since it was taken up under "open time" on the commission's agenda.)

Faralatti said that if the exception were granted, "some of them will find out" and challenge the commission's decision.

"I don't want to go through the more painful procedure of a challenge (to the commission's action)," Mrs. Finn said, moving to deny Bales' request. She drew support from Farlatti and commissioner I.W. Bonbright.

Drug Offender Sentenced To A Year In Jail

A 24-year-old who sold one ounce of heroin to an undercover San Francisco drug agent and tried to sell more was sentenced today to one year in Marin County Jail.

But Judge Charles Read Best of Marin Superior Court told Frederick Collier Reed — originally arrested under the name Frederick Allen Pope — that six months of the jail time needn't be served if he enters a therapy program.

Reed pleaded guilty to two counts, one of selling heroin on Feb. 15, the other of attempting to sell the drug March 8.

Because an overeager San Francisco agent prematurely searched Reed's Mission Avenue home without a search warrant, three kilos of marijuana and some LSD found inside could not be used against him.

Principal's Job Offer Is Rejected

Top candidate to replace retiring Terra Linda High School principal Frank Stocking has rejected an employment offer by the San Rafael Board of Education.

Dr. Tom Osler, 33, principal of a Michigan high school, rejected the Terra Linda post since he has accepted a position as assistant superintendent of the London-American School in England, according to Supt. Donald Leisey.

The board met in closed session last night to interview another finalist for the position, but decided to seek another round of applications, Leisey said.

Applicants may apply for the principalship by June 22, he said.

Case On Stolen Car Sent To Superior Court

A San Francisco man arrested last month when a former policeman spotted him behind the wheel of a stolen car was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on an auto theft charge.

David R. Sims, 20, was ordered to appear June 13 after Municipal Judge Gary W. Thomas ruled there was enough evidence to hold him.

Sims allegedly was driving a car stolen from Empire Chevrolet in Novato on April 30 when a former Novato policeman, now a salesman at Empire, saw him and gave chase.

Copies of the book may be obtained by phoning or visiting the fair office on the Marin Civic Center Fairgrounds.

The fair will be held Aug. 29 through Sept. 2.

MRS. MYERS

Private funeral was held today for Rachael D. Myers, a retired nurse who made her home in San Rafael. Mrs. Myers, 81, died Wednesday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Myers was born in Oregon and grew up there and in the State of Washington.

She was graduated as a registered nurse from the University of California, Berkeley, in 1923. She worked at Stanford Hospital some years.

She and her husband, Dr. Rollin G. Myers, who was working for the government, were in the Philippine Islands when World War II started and were interned at Santo Tomas Prison during the war.

After the war, Mrs. Myers lived in Palo Alto before moving to Marin 10 years ago.

Her husband preceded her in death in 1951.

She is survived by two sisters, Davida Easom of San Rafael and Jennie Shank of Ontario, Ore.

One Governor Is In Ford's Corner

"I would like to see the change," he said yesterday.

Shapp was generally critical of the entire Nixon administration policies, and said, "I didn't want Nixon in there in the first place. If we get him out, fine. It's not just Watergate. It's the attitude, it's the arrogance here."

Producer Hails Film On Drugs

DETROIT (UPI) — Actor Godfrey Cambridge was in Detroit yesterday to attend a premiere of his new controversial film on drug abuse, "Dead is Dead."

"I'm fighting for kids —white ones and black ones who are dying," said Cambridge, who wrote, produced, directed and narrated the half-hour documentary filmed in New York, Los Angeles and Detroit. Cambridge said the white suburban teen-ager is just as much into drugs as the black ghetto youth, and hopes to save some youths from drug abuse by depicting the agonies of addiction in his film.

The documentary dedicated to two teen-agers who died of drug overdoses, asks parents "are you living with a junkie?" and describes clues by which parents can determine if their children are using narcotics.

Oil Nations Plan To Tap The Profits of Refiners

VIENNA (UPI) — The world's major oil-exporting countries proposed plans today for sharp increases in crude oil taxes to get a bigger share of "exorbitant earnings" by the big Western petroleum companies.

A spokesman for the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) said one of the proposals —to boost taxes to 87 per cent of the posted price of crude oil —was submitted to the group's Economic Commission.

The commission met today for the second day of potentially far-reaching talks on setting the level of world oil prices for the third quarter of 1974.

"A proposal to increase the taxes from 55 to 87 per cent is under study by the commission," the spokesman said. "A recommendation will be made for next month's OPEC ministerial meeting in Quito, Ecuador, as soon as the commission comes to a decision."

Western oil firms currently pay the exporting nations a 55 per cent tax on the posted price —about $12.50 a barrel —a figure set in talks between company and country negotiators.

The big international firms then either sell the crude oil to refineries or ship the petroleum to their own refining plants for conversion into such finished fuel products as gasoline or petrochemicals.

The OPEC spokesman said the commission was also considering a proposal to tax petroleum companies on the prices the oil later brings in world markets rather than the posted figure.

"Whatever the decision, we want to relieve the oil companies of some of their exorbitant earnings," the spokesman said. "OPEC wants to prevent oil companies from making excess profits at the expense of the consumers."

Army Will Keep Using Beagles In Gas Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said today he will introduce legislation to ban the Army's use of beagles in nerve gas and other chemical warfare experiments.

Aspin said he is taking the action because Army spokesmen earlier this week acknowledged that the service would continue to use beagles to test nerve gas residues, tear gas and other chemical munitions.

The Army had promised last year to quit using beagles to test poison gas, Aspin said, but apparently it decided it could not replace them with other animals whose reactions were as close to humans' as the dogs.

The Army denied it ever made such a promise and said it would continue using the dogs.

Miller Will Head Mental Hospitals

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Don Z. Miller, who has worked 20 years in state mental health programs, has been named acting deputy health director in charge of the state mental hospital system.

State Health Director Dr. William Mayer, who made the appointment, yesterday said Miller, 47, will replace Andrew G. Robertson who is retiring.

Producer Hails Film On Drugs

DETROIT (UPI) — Actor Godfrey Cambridge was in Detroit yesterday to attend a premiere of his new controversial film on drug abuse, "Dead is Dead."

"I'm fighting for kids —white ones and black ones who are dying," said Cambridge, who wrote, produced, directed and narrated the half-hour documentary filmed in New York, Los Angeles and Detroit. Cambridge said the white suburban teen-ager is just as much into drugs as the black ghetto youth, and hopes to save some youths from drug abuse by depicting the agonies of addiction in his film.

The documentary dedicated to two teen-agers who died of drug overdoses, asks parents "are you living with a junkie?" and describes clues by which parents can determine if their children are using narcotics.

Oil Nations Plan To Tap The Profits of Refiners

VIENNA (UPI) — The world's major oil-exporting countries proposed plans today for sharp increases in crude oil taxes to get a bigger share of "exorbitant earnings" by the big Western petroleum companies.

A spokesman for the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) said one of the proposals —to boost taxes to 87 per cent of the posted price of crude oil —was submitted to the group's Economic Commission.

The commission met today for the second day of potentially far-reaching talks on setting the level of world oil prices for the third quarter of 1974.

"A proposal to increase the taxes from 55 to 87 per cent is under study by the commission," the spokesman said. "A recommendation will be made for next month's OPEC ministerial meeting in Quito, Ecuador, as soon as the commission comes to a decision."

Western oil firms currently pay the exporting nations a 55 per cent tax on the posted price —about $12.50 a barrel —a figure set in talks between company and country negotiators.

The big international firms then either sell the crude oil to refineries or ship the petroleum to their own refining plants for conversion into such finished fuel products as gasoline or petrochemicals.

The OPEC spokesman said the commission was also considering a proposal to tax petroleum companies on the prices the oil later brings in world markets rather than the posted figure.

"Whatever the decision, we want to relieve the oil companies of some of their exorbitant earnings," the spokesman said. "OPEC wants to prevent oil companies from making excess profits at the expense of the consumers."

Army Will Keep Using Beagles In Gas Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said today he will introduce legislation to ban the Army's use of beagles in nerve gas and other chemical warfare experiments.

Aspin said he is taking the action because Army spokesmen earlier this week acknowledged that the service would continue to use beagles to test nerve gas residues, tear gas and other chemical munitions.

The Army had promised last year to quit using beagles to test poison gas, Aspin said, but apparently it decided it could not replace them with other animals whose reactions were as close to humans' as the dogs.

The Army denied it ever made such a promise and said it would continue using the dogs.

GIANT LANDSLIDE

Neighborhood Faces Disaster

By NELS JOHNSON

A massive subterranean landslide that has already twisted several homes from their foundations along a hillside subdivision on Oak Manor Drive near Fairfax is looming as a threat to the entire neighborhood.

Local residents, noting that one home in the 500 block of Oak Manor Drive was so badly damaged it was relocated last month, claim the earthflow places at least six other homes in immediate danger, and could eventually topple others "like dominoes".

But no one, including the County of Marin, is willing to take remedial action in the unincorporated area, fearing legal liability for the situation, residents claim.

Curley F. Stobbe of 545 Oak Manor Drive said the situation is so bad he plans to move out within two weeks.

"My home is completely wracked, twisting out of shape, cracked inside, with windows blowing out," he declared. "Every so often you hear the house pop. . . It's like living in a roller coaster," he said.

Stobbe said he bought his ranch style residence 12 years ago for $28,000, and said a private appraiser told him the home is now "worthless".

Richard Porter of 575 Oak Manor Drive, echoed his neighbor's plight. "I bought my home nine years ago for $31,500. The county reappraised it at $16,500 last year," he said.

Porter said a $15,000 retaining wall he built behind his property has failed to stem the flow, since earth is merely moving around the structure.

He said five neighboring homes, including two across the street, are in immediate danger, and said the slide could ultimately twist "20 or 30 residences like dominoes" if it continues downhill.

In addition, residents who live above the slide area are worried that the flow could block the entire roadway, the only access to their homes, and cut utility lines, he said.

Porter noted that a neighboring house at 555 Oak Manor Drive was so badly damaged by the flow that it was condemned and relocated.

Porter said the slide began about four years ago as a fissure on a county fire road built on surrounding hillside property owned by William H. Poschel and has since moved downhill, forcing a foot-high bubble in a portion of Oak Manor Drive.

Both Porter and Stobbe said that the landowner and the county have declined to take responsibility for the matter. As a result Porter, his wife Elizabeth, and former owners of the relocated residence, Beverly J. Olds and Elizabeth J. Barnett, have filed suit.

They ask a total of $240,000 from four defendants, the county, the contractor, the subdivider and Poschel. The suit claims the county contributed to the slide by failing to provide proper drainage in the slide area and dumping fill from a road project onto the land.

Ray W. Foreaker, county director of public works, characterized the situation as a "tragedy and a catastrophe," but said he does not believe the county has any liability in the matter.

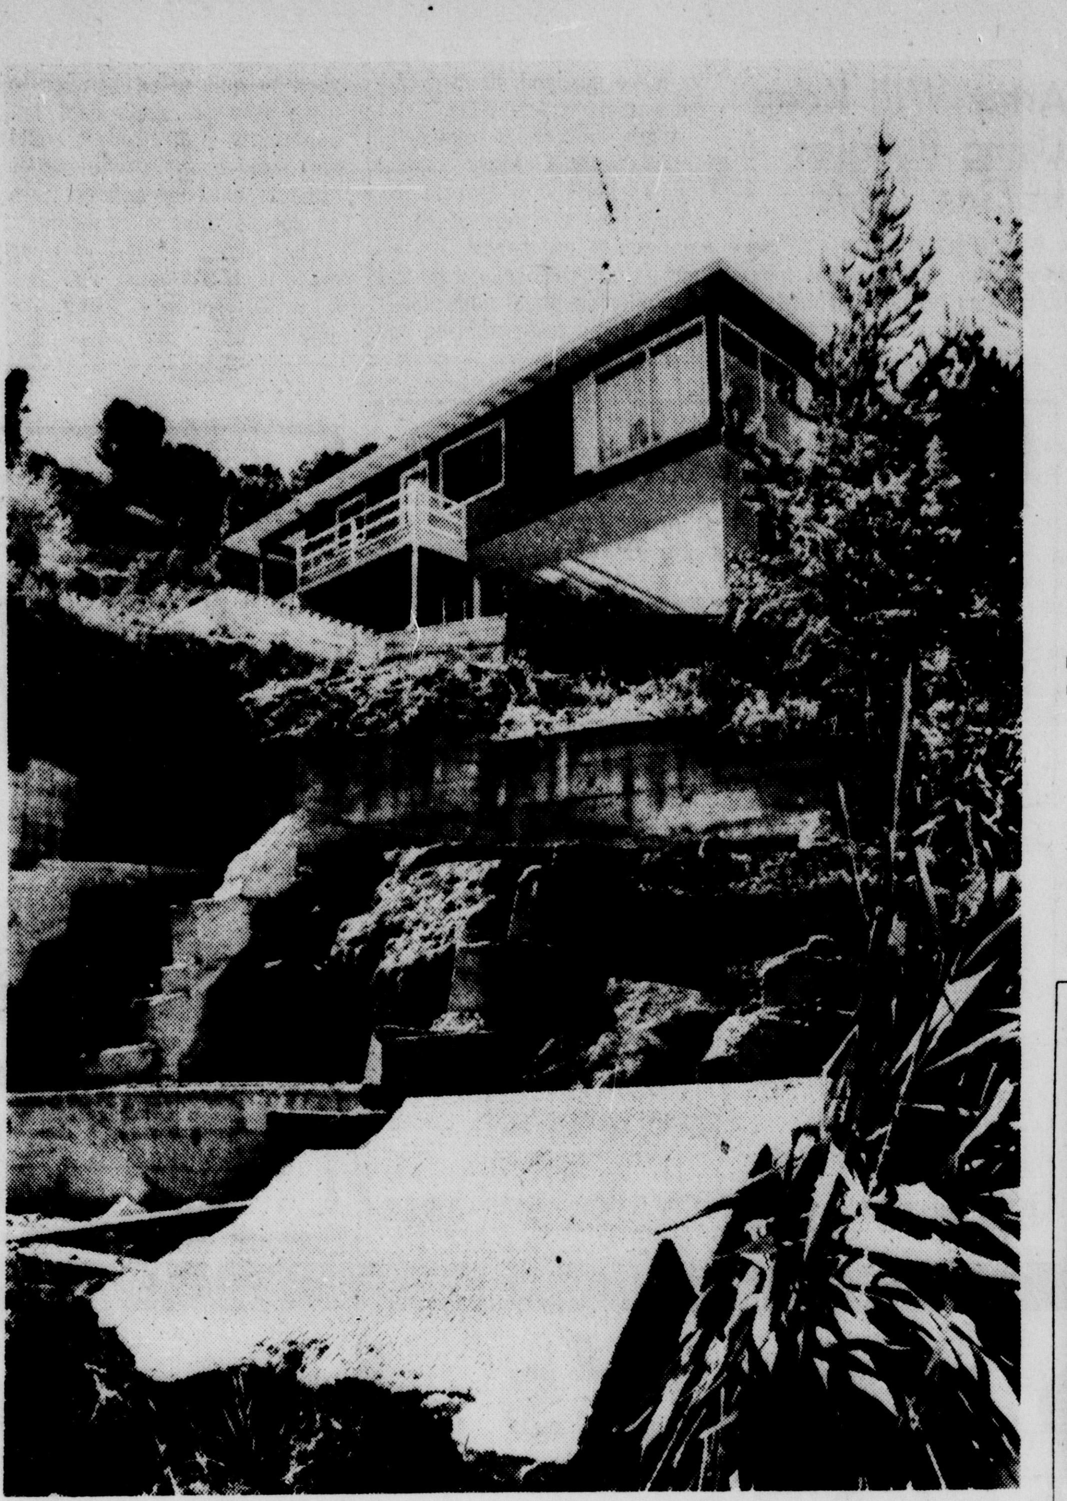
"Anything that anybody does to stabilize the hill will increase a position of liability," he said. "We have to take a hard-nosed position. There are some things you don't spend public money on." He called Porter's domino theory of houses toppling down "speculation."

Foreaker said local residents and Poschel have been invited to meet with public works officials at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Civic Center to discuss the situation.

Foreaker said he will propose that the county and homeowners jointly fund a soils study "so we can find out what the hell this thing looks like underground."

He added the entire matter was "a private property owners' situation" until the slide forced a lump in the roadway.

Poschel, a San Rafael resident, was reported in Europe on business today.



SLIDE — The foundation of a residence relocated due to damage from a subterranean slide stands ominously alongside the home of Richard Porter of 575 Oak Manor Drive. Residents claim the movement of earth beneath the hill's crust threatens the entire neighborhood, but that no one is willing to take remedial action.

Judge Will Rule On Magee's Plea

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Judge William Ingran has set June 5 as the date for a ruling on whether Ruchell Magee can withdraw his guilty plea to a kidnaping charge.

The Santa Clara Clunty Superior Court judge set the date Wednesday in the case of the convict who was charged as a result of the Marin County Hall of Justice shootings of 1970.

Magee contends he was under duress when he pleaded guilty May 10 in Ingram's court where the case is being heard under a change of venue.

Four persons, including Judge Harold J. Haley, were killed in the 1970 escape attempt at the Marin County Courthouse.

Youth Fined For Reckless Driving

A 20-year-old Corte Madera youth, arrested April 4 following a high-speed chase through Larkspur streets, was fined $150 yesterday after pleading guilty to reckless driving.

John Irving Gurney also was placed on one year's probation by Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith.

Building Housing Office Of Younger Is Bombed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Three floors of the old state building in downtown Los Angeles were heavily damaged by a bomb, apparently set off by a timing device early today.

Police and the FBI were investigating the explosion which followed telephone tips to the city's two daily newspapers 20 minutes earlier.

The FBI office said it was investigating to determine if federal laws had been violated regarding use of the telephone to convey a bomb threat or the involvement of underground terorist groups.

The caller, a woman, said she was from the "Weather Underground." An FBI spokesman said it was investigating also to see what is known about the group and if it was associated with the older "Weathermen," a revolutionary group that began in the 1960s.

The blast at 2:12 a.m. (PDT) shattered several windows, blew a two-foot hole in the floor and ceiling of the 6th floor and caused damage to Attorney General Evelle Younger's offices.

There were no injuries and no fire, but damage was described as extensive to the 5th, 6th and 7th floors.

The bomb was placed in the center of a corridor about 15 feet from a bank of elevators, and the explosion blew in the doors of the three elevators, as well as eight panes of glass.

Officers reported hearing the explosion from four blocks away and a passing motorist said the blast shook his car.

An anonymous female caller, claiming to be from the "Weather Underground," telephoned the Los Angeles Times minutes before the explosion went off shortly after 2 a.m.

Ransom Is Paid For Air Tickets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pan American Airways officials revealed today they have bought back about 2,000 stolen airline tickets from underworld figures for between $50,000 and $70,000.

The tickets were blank, and a Pan American spokesman said the thieves could have "simply written out a first class ticket to anywhere on Pan Am's routes and then could have sold the ticket at less than the full price to a prospective traveler."

The blanks were numbered, and numbers of stolen tickets are routinely posted at ticket counters in airports, but in practice agents are often too busy to compare incoming ticket numbers with the list of those believed stolen.

The 2,000 tickets, some with four trip coupons, were valid for worldwide trips on Pan American or could be exchanged with other airlines, with Pan Am getting the bill later. In some cases valid airline tickets can be exchanged for cash.

In order to use the tickets thieves would have to fill them out properly and stamp them with a "validator," which airlines and travel agents have.

Pan American said if the tickets had all been used, it could have cost the airline at least $2 million.

"We made these payoffs with the full knowledge of authorities in the hopes of breaking up organized crime trafficking of stolen tickets," a company spokesman said.

He said the transactions took place last fall through intermediaries between the airlines and persons allegedly linked to the Mafia.

The spokesman said Pan Am paid about $10 for a single-trip ticket and $40 for a blank ticket with coupons for four rides.

The company told federal authorities of their plan to buy the tickets in the hopes it would lead agents to ring leaders.

But agents failed to locate the central figures in the operation, the spokesman said. The Pan Am ransom has never been recovered.

A New York City grand jury indicted 19 persons in March for trafficking in stolen airlines tickets, and some, though not all of those indicted, were reportedly involved in the Pan Am deal.

RURAL AMERICA STAMP

The U.S. Postal Service has announced the design of a postage stamp to mark the 100th anniversary of the introduction into Kansas of hard winter wheat, which was to make the state a major world grain center. The 10-cent commemorative will be issued Aug. 16 at Hillsboro, Kan. The hard winter wheat stamp is the third in the Rural America series and was designed by John Falter of Philadelphia. The stamp shows a field of wheat extending to the horizon and is enlivened by a railroad engine puffing smoke as it pulls a tender and two cars.

Nixon Will Not Release Evidence

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon says it is more important for him to protect the national security than to see two of his indicted former aides stand trial on criminal conspiracy charges.

He will thus withhold evidence subpoenaed for their defense if he sees fit even if it means the men will go free — no matter what the courts tell him to do.

Hinting at compromise but taking a hard-line stand, Nixon yesterday claimed the sole right to decide whether he will surrender any evidence at all subpoenaed by his former lieutenants, Charles W. Colson and John D. Ehrlichman, for defense against conspiracy charges in the Ellsberg breakin case.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell sternly warned the President last week that the indictments may have to be thrown out if the evidence is not forthcoming. Nixon's reply, through his lawyer James D. St. Clair, was just as blunt.

"The President is not desirous of having these, or in fact, any indictments of former governmental officials dismissed without a full and fair trial but he must implement the constitutional responsibilities of his office by not jeopardizing the national security even if it means that the court determines that these cases must ultimately be dismissed," St. Clair wrote Gesell.

Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski was to respond to St. Clair's letter today. Gesell, now on a brief Maine vacation, has scheduled a hearing for Monday on the issue.

St. Clair said that many of the documents subpoenaed by Colson and Ehrlichman "cannot be made public without substantial risk to the security of the United States." Further, he said, "the President is unaware of any basis" on which they are relevant to the trial.

The two men and their three co-defendants have claimed that the Sept. 3, 1971, burglary at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist was proper to protect a potential threat to the national security posed by publication of the Pentagon Papers that summer. All five are accused of conspiring to violate the civil rights of the psychiatrist, Dr. Lewis J. Fielding of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Gesell, however, has all but ruled out national security as a valid defense for the crime. They are to go on trial June 17.

When Ehrlichman and Colson demanded files still locked up at the White House for their defense, Nixon moved to quash the subpoena. St. Clair did not indicate in his letter whether he would pursue that motion.

But he did indicate, as he has previously, that Nixon will not comply with the subpoena in full.

Instead, St. Clair suggested that the defendants and their lawyers examine the files, select which they think are relevant, and "the President will then weigh the competing interest as to whether the documents should be produced.

He also said that Jaworski would "be provided access" to the materials "made available" to Colson and Ehrlichman —but did not spell out whether that would be before or after the President made his decision or whether he would be allowed to have copies.

New Chairman

NEWBERG, Ore. (UPI) — Rev. T. Eugene Coffin, Whittier, and pastor of President Nixon's home church, is the new chairman of the George Fox College Board of Trustees. He replaces Wilbert Eichenberger, Santa Ana, who has completed his five-year term.

Neil Cummins School To Give 99 Diplomas

Diplomas will be awarded to 99 graduating eighth graders from Neil Cummins School during graduation exercises June 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Innocent Plea Made To Drugs

A Mill Valley man pleaded innocent yesterday to two drug charges and was told to return June 13 to Marin Municipal Court for a preliminary hearing.

Robert George Benz, 31, of 314 Cardinal Court, faces charges of possessing amphetamine for sale and offering to sell the drug.

He was arrested Sunday at his home after three undercover agents from the Butte County Sheriff's Department arranged to buy one ounce of speed.

Benz insisted the agents take injections of the drug before he would complete the sale, they said. The officers summoned Marin sheriff's deputies and arrested Benz and a woman living there. Only Benz was charged.

Bail originally was set at $75,000, but later was reduced to $7,500, which Benz posted.

RURAL AMERICA STAMP

The U.S. Postal Service has announced the design of a postage stamp to mark the 100th anniversary of the introduction into Kansas of hard winter wheat, which was to make the state a major world grain center. The 10-cent commemorative will be issued Aug. 16 at Hillsboro, Kan. The hard winter wheat stamp is the third in the Rural America series and was designed by John Falter of Philadelphia. The stamp shows a field of wheat extending to the horizon and is enlivened by a railroad engine puffing smoke as it pulls a tender and two cars.

Nixon Will Not Release Evidence

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon says it is more important for him to protect the national security than to see two of his indicted former aides stand trial on criminal conspiracy charges.

He will thus withhold evidence subpoenaed for their defense if he sees fit even if it means the men will go free — no matter what the courts tell him to do.

Hinting at compromise but taking a hard-line stand, Nixon yesterday claimed the sole right to decide whether he will surrender any evidence at all subpoenaed by his former lieutenants, Charles W. Colson and John D. Ehrlichman, for defense against conspiracy charges in the Ellsberg breakin case.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell sternly warned the President last week that the indictments may have to be thrown out if the evidence is not forthcoming. Nixon's reply, through his lawyer James D. St. Clair, was just as blunt.

"The President is not desirous of having these, or in fact, any indictments of former governmental officials dismissed without a full and fair trial but he must implement the constitutional responsibilities of his office by not jeopardizing the national security even if it means that the court determines that these cases must ultimately be dismissed," St. Clair wrote Gesell.

Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski was to respond to St. Clair's letter today. Gesell, now on a brief Maine vacation, has scheduled a hearing for Monday on the issue.

St. Clair said that many of the documents subpoenaed by Colson and Ehrlichman "cannot be made public without substantial risk to the security of the United States." Further, he said, "the President is unaware of any basis" on which they are relevant to the trial.

The two men and their three co-defendants have claimed that the Sept. 3, 1971, burglary at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist was proper to protect a potential threat to the national security posed by publication of the Pentagon Papers that summer. All five are accused of conspiring to violate the civil rights of the psychiatrist, Dr. Lewis J. Fielding of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Gesell, however, has all but ruled out national security as a valid defense for the crime. They are to go on trial June 17.

When Ehrlichman and Colson demanded files still locked up at the White House for their defense, Nixon moved to quash the subpoena. St. Clair did not indicate in his letter whether he would pursue that motion.

But he did indicate, as he has previously, that Nixon will not comply with the subpoena in full.

Instead, St. Clair suggested that the defendants and their lawyers examine the files, select which they think are relevant, and "the President will then weigh the competing interest as to whether the documents should be produced.

He also said that Jaworski would "be provided access" to the materials "made available" to Colson and Ehrlichman —but did not spell out whether that would be before or after the President made his decision or whether he would be allowed to have copies.

"Our Forefathers should have had stricter immigration laws."

Endless Task — Nabbing Speeders

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California Highway Patrolmen are arresting nearly three times the usual number of speeders but are hardly making a dent in the multitude of motorists ignoring the 55 m.p.h. limit, CHP Chief Walter Pudinski said today.

"We are now averaging 4,116 speeding arrests per day, which gives us a total of 120,000 a month," Pudinski said. "And this is very, very difficult because we're arresting all we can and we're still not solving the problem."

Pudinski said there are so many persons violating the energy crisis-spawned 55 m.p.h. limit "that if I had the necessary manpower and equipment I could arrest 100,000 speeders a day.

"Unless I get the support of the motoring public, how can I enforce the speed limit?" Pudinski asked in an interview.

"When 70 per cent are in violation it is impossible to catch all the speeders. Do we lose credibility with the public? Yes, you bet we do," he added.

The "speed thing," Pudinski said, has "me worried because I just can't seem to get the public to understand that we are diligently enforcing the 55 —we've never stopped enforcing the 55. And we'll continue to enforce the 55 until the law is changed."

But he added that "law enforcement is not enough. Whenever we have a law which the great majority are violating those that are charged with the responsibility of enforcement are in trouble. We must have the cooperation of the public."

Pudinski also said that while there had been reports that he favored a return to the 65 m.p.h. limit "I actually did not say that."

"I did say that when the energy problem has improved sufficiently and when we have sufficient statistical facts about the 55 mile speed limit, the legislature might want to consider re-instating the 65 mile limit," Pudinski said.

"We need more statistical data and more time before we can determine the exact effect of the 55 mile limit on traffic safety," he added.

"I never said I'm against the 55," the CHP commissioner declared. "I said that if we lose respect for traffic law enforcement, the public loses respect, then the Highway Patrol loses credibility."

Ex-Hughes Aide Tells Of Hotel Tower Scare

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Howard Hughes paid $23 million for a hotel because he was afraid its towering sign would fall on his penthouse, a former aide testified in federal court yesterday.

Then he left the sign standing, Robert Maheu said.

Maheu was in his 12th day of testimony about what he calls "the unbelievable world of Howard Hughes" in the trial of his $17.5 million libel suit against the billionaire.

According to previous testimony, Hughes spent millions to buy the Desert Inn so that he would not have to move out of the penthouse, and more millions to buy a television station because he wanted to watch cowboy movies on the late, late show.

Maheu, under questioning by an attorney for Hughes, testified about Hughes' purchase of the Frontier Hotel in 1967. Maheu headed Hughes' Nevada interests from 1965 to 1970.

Maheu said Hughes was afraid that the Frontier's tall neon sign would come crashing down on his penthouse on the ninth floor of the Desert Inn across the street.

Endless Task—Nabbing Speeders

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California Highway Patrolmen are arresting nearly three times the usual number of speeders but are hardly making a dent in the multitude of motorists ignoring the 55 m.p.h. limit, CHP Chief Walter Pudinski said today.

"We are now averaging 4,116 speeding arrests per day, which gives us a total of 120,000 a month," Pudinski said. "And this is very, very difficult because we're arresting all we can and we're still not solving the problem."

Pudinski said there are so many persons violating the energy crisis-spawned 55 m.p.h. limit "that if I had the necessary manpower and equipment I could arrest 100,000 speeders a day.

"Unless I get the support of the motoring public, how can I enforce the speed limit?" Pudinski asked in an interview.

"When 70 per cent are in violation it is impossible to catch all the speeders. Do we lose credibility with the public? Yes, you bet we do," he added.

The "speed thing," Pudinski said, has "me worried because I just can't seem to get the public to understand that we are diligently enforcing the 55 —we've never stopped enforcing the 55. And we'll continue to enforce the 55 until the law is changed."

But he added that "law enforcement is not enough. Whenever we have a law which the great majority are violating those that are charged with the responsibility of enforcement are in trouble. We must have the cooperation of the public."

Pudinski also said that while there had been reports that he favored a return to the 65 m.p.h. limit "I actually did not say that."

"I did say that when the energy problem has improved sufficiently and when we have sufficient statistical facts about the 55 mile speed limit, the legislature might want to consider re-instating the 65 mile limit," Pudinski said.

"We need more statistical data and more time before we can determine the exact effects of the 55 mile limit on traffic safety," he added.

"I never said I'm against the 55," the CHP commissioner declared. "I said that if we lose respect for traffic law enforcement, the public loses respect, then the Highway Patrol loses credibility."

Oklahoma Publisher Dies At 101

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Edward King Gaylord, 101, the nation's oldest active newspaper publisher, died last night of an apparent heart attack.

Gaylord, who bought an interest in the Daily Oklahoman in 1902, directed the empire built from that pre-statehood venture until his death.

He spent yesterday at his desk at the Oklahoma Publishing Co. after attending a breakfast meeting of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce. He went out to dinner yesterday evening and died just before midnight.

The Oklahoma Publishing Co. operates the morning Daily Oklahoman and afternoon Oklahoma City Times, television and radio stations in Oklahoma City and television stations in Tampa, Fla., Houston, Fort Worth and Milwaukee and a radio station in Albuquerque, N.M.

It also controls Mistletoe Express, which hauls freight in five states, a commercial printing firm, an oil company and other businesses.

Gaylord was hospitalized in Dallas earlier this year for a back ailment. His wife of 60 years, Inez Gaylord, died Jan. 16.

On his birthday in 1973 Gaylord addressed a joint session of the Oklahoma Legislature after three days of events to honor him. "You have no business to be less of a man than you can be," he admonished the lawmakers.

To the Oklahoma Press Association he said, "Within the next 10 years or less I look for more scientific improvements. There will be no printers as we know them now, but there will be more photographers and reporters."

Until his death Gaylord actively directed the editorial policy of his newspapers and sometimes wrote front page editorials.

On his 90th birthday in 1963 the Oklahoman became the first newspaper in the world to produce an entire edition with computerized typesetting.

Funeral services will be held Monday.

Youth Rams Car Into Girl's House

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — Police said yesterday that Ronnie Camp, 21, placed a concrete block on the accelerator of a car and sent it smashing through the house of a girl he had dated.

Camp was wounded in the leg as he fled from the home of Robert Beneekoo, stepfather of Pam Jones.

The youth was arrested at an Atlanta hospital Wednesday night when he sought treatment for his wound. Officers said the incident occurred Tuesday night.

Police said the car, belonging to Camp's stepfather, crashed into the living room of the Beneekoo home and exited through the rear of the house. Damage was estimated at between $18,000 and $20,000.

Camp was charged with aggravated assault and criminal damage to property in addition to assault and battery against his stepfather, Harry Boswell, in an incident before he allegedly took Boswell's car.

Men's Club Sets Barbecue Sunday

The St. Raphael's Men's Club has announced that on Sunday it will repeat last year's highly successful barbecue, featuring many kinds of games in addition to prize wheels and bingo.

The event — open to the public — is to run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will take place in St Raphael's School yard at 1..0 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Formula On Trade Is Worked Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon today announced the United States and the European Common Market have agreed on a formula for reducing import duties on approximately $750 million to $1 billion in American goods exported to Europe.

The formula, hammered out in months of negotiations by Ambassador William D. Eberle and representatives of the Common Market, involves duty reductions on tobacco, oranges and grapefruit, craft paper, photographic film, plywood and certain types of machinery.

"The resolution of this important issue, following long and arduous negotiations over a period of several months, represents a major step toward improved Atlantic relationships," Nixon said.

"It is the hope of the United States that the spirit which prevailed during these negotiations will continue in the months and years ahead as we seek to resolve other important and sensitive issues."

According to officials here, details of the formula were to be announced in Brussels where the negotiations took place.

A Fourth Arrest In Cleveland Shoot-Out

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A fourth suspect wanted in connection with an hour-long shootout that left seven persons wounded in suburban East Cleveland yesterday surrendered to police early today.

Police identified the suspect as James Drake, 21, East Cleveland. He had been wanted in connection with the shootout between about 100 policemen and members of a religious sect who tried to kidnap a man they believed to be a drug pusher.

At least one more suspect was being sought, police said.

Five policemen were wounded, one critically, and two hostages were hit by fire as they fled from the home where a family of 10 was held during the midnight battle in which an estimated 500 shots were fired.

Charged with kidnaping and felonious assault were Graig Fowler, 27, East Cleveland; Charles Jordan, 22, Cleveland, and Larry Johnson, 24, Cleveland, who proclaimed themselves members of the Sunni Orthodox religious sect.

The sect provided pallbearers at the funeral last week of Symbionese Liberation Army leader Donald DeFreeze, but authorities said there was no known connection between the two organizations and that it was not known whether any of those held was in the funeral.

During the firing Fowler was interviewed by telephone by a local radio station.

"We went after a dope killer tonight," he said. "We're not afraid of death. We went to get him. Nobody innocent is going to be killed."

"They said their primary purpose is to eliminate all drug pushers," said police Lt. Milton Jennrich.

He refused to disclose where the men were being held because "we feel attempts would be made to free them. That, we don't need at this point."

Andrew Jackson, the man kidnaped, also was under police protection at an undisclosed location. It was reported he was convicted on a drug charge a couple years ago and was on probation.

Patrolman Gerald Schetterer, 31, was in poor condition at Huron Road Hospital after surgery for a bullet wound in the temple.

John O'Brien, 19, was in fair condition and his brother, Dennis, 31, was in poor condition, both wounded in the chest and legs as they fled the house where the gunmen held 10 members of their family hostage until police gunfire and teargas flushed them out.

The affair began late Wednesday, when five men kidnaped Jackson, 39, East Cleveland, from his home. They tied up members of his family, and took him to another apartment near the O'Brien home. He escaped.

Those tied up at his home managed to free themselves and notified police — who about the same time were tipped that the men were at the second apartment.

Impeachment Evidence To Remain Secret

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Peter W. Rodino refused today to make public impeachment evidence the House Judiciary Committee has examined in secret for three weeks.

Rodino said the rights of former Nixon administration officials facing trial might be jeopardized by releasing evidence with respect to President Nixon's handling of the Watergate scandals.

Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair, had called for release of the full record.

Rodino's decision to keep material secret at least until trial of such persons in the Ellsberg break-in in late June followed a vote by the committee yesterday to continue hearings in secret. St. Clair has pressed for open sessions, saying Nixon was being hurt by "selective leakings" of information. At today's meeting, Rep. Jerome D. Waldie, D-Calif., pressed for publication of the committee's own transcripts made from 19 presidential tapes in its possession.

The committee's transcript, Waldie said, are more accurate and "different in some respects from what the President has submitted to the American people."

Rodino refused even to entertain Waldie's motion. He said the material might be published later.

The committee's Republicans, sending a message to the White House, joined the Democrats yssterday in subpoenaing more of Nixon's tapes and warning him against another presidential "No."

The bipartisanship which has become the committee's strongest weapon emerged intact during a day of debate and votes in which the impeachment inquiry panel:

Demanded by a 37-1 vote that Nixon yield another 45 tapes despite his complaint to the committee of its "massive invasion" of presidential privacy. The new subpoena brings to 98 the number of tapes the committee has demanded. It has received 19.

Rejected, by a 23-15 vote, the White House's demand that the impeachment inquiry go into public sessions, with television present. Only two Republicans supported the White House position.

Fo Nixon, the message was that he cannot command the loyalty of many members of his own party on the committee as long as he continues to defy its subpoenas.

Rodino managed to soothe the Republicans while holding a majority of his Democrats against the committee firebrands who are ready to impeach Nixon at the spot.

Rodino's Democratic elders joined the Republicans in voting down, 27-11, a motion by Rep. Jerome D. Waldie, D-Calif., putting a contempt of Congress citation against Nixon on the agenda for when the inquiry ends this summer.

The Republicans in turn joined in squelching a proposal that the committee seek to enforce its subpoenas through the courts. Rodino's position is that the Constitution assigns all impeachment responsibilities solely to Congress. The motion, by Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill., was defeated 32-6.

The 45 tapes subpoenaed by the committee all concerned Nixon's post-Watergate conversations with aides, ranging from Nov. 15, 1972, just after the election, to last June 4.

The committee's letter replied to one from Nixon of May 22, rejecting a subpoena for 42 tapes and some documents. The President wrote:

"It is clear that the continued succession of demands for additional presidential conversations has become a never-ending process, and that to continue providing these conversations in response to to the constantly escalating requests would constitute such a massive invasion into the confidentiality of presidential conversations that the institution of the presidency itself would be fatally compromised."

In reply, the committee wrote:

"The Committee on the Judiciary regards your refusal to comply with its lawful subpoenas as a grave matter. Under the Constitution it is not within the power of the President to conduct any inquiry into his own impeachment, to determine which evidence, and what version or portion of that evidence, is relevant and necessary to such an inquiry."

Reinecke Perjury Case Delay Given By Judge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special Watergate prosecutors today were given an additional week to file a response to a motion by California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke that perjury charges against him be dismissed.

The delay was granted by U. S. District Judge Barrington Parker after the government lawyers said they needed more time to answer.

Lawyers for Reinecke, who is accused of having lied in testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee, contend the charges should be dismissed because no quorum was present at the time of his testimony.

Apparently one reason for the delay was that the Senate has not yet approved a resolution allowing a committee lawyer to help draft the government's response. The committee itself has already approved the resolution but action by the Senate itself is also required.

Reinecke's reply to the government response was to be filed by June 14.

Reinecke, whose trial has been tentatively set for July 15, is accused of having lied about conversations he had with former Attorney General John Mitchell about an offer by ITT to help finance the 1972 Republican National Convention.

Parker already has rejected motions by Reinecke's lawyers to get the perjury charges dismissed on the ground that he cooperated with the special prosecutors on the understanding that he would not be charged. Parker also denied a request that the trial be moved to California.

Assistant Watergate prosecutor Joseph Connolly, who testified that Reinecke had not been promised immunity, has since resigned. Even though he has declined comment, it has been reported that he and two other prosecutors quit because Reinecke was charged with perjury while former Attorney General Richard Kleindienst was allowed to plead guilty to a misdemeanor charge for a similar offense.

Impeachment Evidence To Remain Secret

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Peter W. Rodino refused today to make public impeachment evidence the House Judiciary Committee has examined in secret for three weeks.

La Marmite French Restaurant Off To Fast Start With Honors

Unfortunately the expression "it takes one to know one" is too often applied to the recognition of an individual of questionable scruples by another of the same character.

But it can also be applied appropriately to those who are honest, conscientious, fair-minded, talented or capable in some particular field. And it is on the basis of this more liberal interpretation that the phrase often comes to mind when I observe a restaurant man on his night off eating at another man's restaurant. The odds are that he is there for one reason — he respects it for good food and good service. He may be tolerant, but he can't be fooled.

I had already had favorable reports from two restaurateurs about the new La Marmite French restaurant in San Rafael before I made my initial visit there last week for dinner, so I was not inclined to be picky about any lingering rough spots that might be remaining in so short a time from its opening early this month.

But I not only found the rough spots absent, but was pleased to encounter two other restaurant men and their wives enjoying themselves in full measure. One in fact commented that it was already his second visit.

La Marmite is at 909 Lincoln Avenue which has been the location of a number of restaurants in bygone years. Among the most popular were Eugene's, the Grotto and more recently the Old Vienna. I first started writing about it more than 16 years ago when it was Eugene's.

It has been remodeled several times and La Marmite owners Franz Prosegger and Yves Larguinat have repeated the process — perhaps to even

State To Use Moths On Troublesome Tumbleweed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Department of Transportation yesterday announced the latest ploy in its $500,000 yearly battle with the bumbling tumbleweed.

It's the voracious Coleophora Parthenica, a species of moth native to Pakistan and Russia which prefers to live — and feed — on the tumbleweed.

The tumbleweed for decades had plagued the state transportation department. The scraggly plants, which die and roll free when up to nine feet across, constitute safety hazards when blowing across highways.

They also pile up against highway fences and fill culverts, resulting in fire danger and flooding. In the past the department has tried to control the weed by hand removal and poison — with not much success despite an annual $500,000 bill.

The moths are placed on six-inch tall tumbleweed plants at selected locations across the state by scientists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The larvae produced by the moths are expected to reduce the size and number of plants, a department spokesman said.

The distribution of the moths is being conducted under a special $98,000, three-year program in an effort by the department to save maintenance costs.

The spokesman said tumbleweeds, also called Russian Thistle, were accidentally introduced into the United States from Russia in 1872 in grain. The plants, the spokesman added, are widespread in Russia, Pakistan and Egypt where they cause no problems because of the presence of the moth.

Increases Approved

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Alameda County Board of Supervisors approved a $7.4 million pay increase yesterday for 8,500 county employees, effective July 1.

WINE RACKS AND FRENCH cooking pots of copper are part of the new decor at 909 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, now occupied by La Marmite, a cozy French restaurant serving dinners nightly throughout the week, except Tuesdays. Hutchins Retiring

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, former president of the University of Chicago, will retire tomorrow as chairman of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

$22 Million Sought For 'Blowing Cover'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Gerald M. Zelmanowitz, a Mafia informer who moved here from New Jersey with a new identity in 1969, has reinstated a suit asking $22 million damages from the U.S. Government for "blowing his cover."

Zelmanowitz, formerly known as Paul Maris, and his wife are "residents of Sonoma County," said San Rafael attorney, Godfrey J. Tencer in the federal court action filed Wednesday.

The suit said the government disclosed the informer's identity last year during a legal battle over ownership of a San Francisco dressmaking firm. The government also wrongfully assessed taxes against him and seized his property, the suit said.

Zelmanowitz said he was promised that his taxes would be excused in return for his help in convicting certain Mafia members in New Jersey in 1969.

Asst. U.S. Attorney Marin Schainbaum said Zelmanowitz had "been given a new cover" since his identity was made public last year.

A similar suit was dismissed last January on grounds that Zelmanowitz failed to state a cause of action.

greater extent than their predecessors as far as the cooking area is concerned. They have made it a very attractive dinery with spotless napiery and glassware. In all fairness I should point out that these two are by no means novices in the restaurant business. Both were European-trained, have worked in San Francisco dineries and their reputations were known to some of the other restaurateurs mentioned.

If I were asked for one word to describe La Marmite I should probably call it an "honest" restaurant — honest in quality food and in price, and comfortable. "Le diner" offers a choice of 13 entrees in the popular French style, served with "le potage du jour" and "la salade maison." The soup may vary from day-to-day, but the salad remains constant crisp butter lettuce, Belgian endives and hearts of palm. The dressing uses both imported French wine vinegar and French olive oil.

Price range is from $5.50 to $7.50. Filet de red snapper Grenobloise and filets de sole meuniere au amandine are at the lower end. Tournedo bearnaise and New York sirloin are at the top. In between are coq au vin, roast duck a l'orange, medallions of veal, beef filet and mushrooms, pepper steak, entrecote saute bordelaise, lamb chops in pastry shell and roast rack of lamb.

If you like you can order these for 75 cents less a la carte and turn to the other side of the menu for a generous selection of a la carte appetizers, soups, salads and desserts. There is a good wine list.

I believe La Marmite will succeed. It apparently has the necessary elements for success.

ABE BLOCK, food and beverage manager of the Gatehouse Restaurant (that's the new name for the dining room of the Holiday Inn at Terra Linda), has just received the Image award of Holiday Inn University (the company's own food and beverage management school) for imagination, motivation, attitude, growth and excellence. He was chosen for the honor not by Holiday Inn, but by his 41 other classmates.

Gatehouse dinners run to New York and rib-eye steaks, lobster, steak and lobster combination, prime rib, prawns and scallops en brochette, sole, chicken, turkey and ham steaks.

Keyboard artist Steve Corley is in the lounge Wednesdays through Saturdays.

LUNCH, ANYONE? The Cafe Boulevard de Paris in Ross is a place you should try.

Owner Nikita Van Beek has engaged a new chef — one Loic Agril, formerly of La Bourgogne in San Francisco. He offers a variety of crepes and several of his own specialities. One of these is quenelles with sauce Mantua — also available for dinner.

BREAKFAST, ANYONE? Eugene Lackenbach's special "hamwich breakfast" at Eugene's Country Club Restaurant in San Rafael is something new.

It's a hickory smoked ham patty and a fried egg on a toasted English muffin smothered with Welsh rarebit, and a fresh fruit cup. It will cost you $1.65 and you can also order it for lunch. If that doesn't fill the void, try one of Eugene's famous crepes. The apricot crepe is a good one.

CHRISTOPHER'S IN SAUSALITO is the only Marin restaurant I know of whose house wine, served in a carafe, is imported from France.

RADIO AND TELEVISION PERFORMER Barbara Meislin is the newest entertainment attraction at the Windjammer in Tiburon, Fridays and Saturdays from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. She lives in Tiburon.

She plays her own accompaniment on the guitar and linguistically is very versatile — French, Italian, Spanish, Hebrew and maybe some other languages I don't know about. Recent Bay Area appearances have been on KQED-FM Radio, television Channel 20 and several supper clubs.

CHEF MARK LESLEY at the Executive Lounge in San Rafael turns out several moderately priced dinners in this day of high prices. His "Special for Two" at $9.95 offers a choice of filet steak, trout or veal parmigiana, served with soup, salad, potato and fresh vegetables and a half-liter of wine.

On Tuesday nights the prime rib dinner at $3.75 is the thing. It includes the same accessories, except the wine.

AN ORCHESTRA in the hotel lobby — that's something that hasn't been heard much in recent years — or else I haven't been to the right places lately.

Dick Saltzman of Novato tells me his latest engagement is in the lobby of the Hyatt Regency Hotel, San Francisco. He and his group are there Mondays through Fridays from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Dick, who lives in Novato, and his vibraphone haven't been heard around Marin night spots lately, except for the Officer's Club at Hamilton Air Force Base. He's been giving his time to appearances in San Francisco and Berkeley.

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, former president of the University of Chicago, will retire tomorrow as chairman of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

$22 Million Sought For 'Blowing Cover'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Gerald M. Zelmanowitz, a Mafia informer who moved here from New Jersey with a new identity in 1969, has reinstated a suit asking $22 million damages from the U.S. Government for "blowing his cover."

Zelmanowitz, formerly known as Paul Maris, and his wife are "residents of Sonoma County," said San Rafael attorney, Godfrey J. Tencer in the federal court action filed Wednesday.

The suit said the government disclosed the informer's identity last year during a legal battle over ownership of a San Francisco dressmaking firm. The government also wrongfully assessed taxes against him and seized his property, the suit said.

Zelmanowitz said he was promised that his taxes would be excused in return for his help in convicting certain Mafia members in New Jersey in 1969.

Asst. U.S. Attorney Marin Schainbaum said Zelmanowitz had "been given a new cover" since his identity was made public last year.

A similar suit was dismissed last January on grounds that Zelmanowitz failed to state a cause of action.

DINING

greater extent than their predecessors as far as the cooking area is concerned. They have made it a very attractive dinery with spotless napiery and glassware. In all fairness I should point out that these two are by no means novices in the restaurant business. Both were European-trained, have worked in San Francisco dineries and their reputations were known to some of the other restaurateurs mentioned.

If I were asked for one word to describe La Marmite I should probably call it an "honest" restaurant — honest in quality food and in price, and comfortable. "Le diner" offers a choice of 13 entrees in the popular French style, served with "le potage du jour" and "la salade maison." The soup may vary from day-to-day, but the salad remains constant crisp butter lettuce, Belgian endives and hearts of palm. The dressing uses both imported French wine vinegar and French olive oil.

Price range is from $5.50 to $7.50. Filet de red snapper Grenobloise and filets de sole meuniere au amandine are at the lower end. Tournedo bearnaise and New York sirloin are at the top. In between are coq au vin, roast duck a l'orange, medallions of veal, beef filet and mushrooms, pepper steak, entrecote saute bordelaise, lamb chops in pastry shell and roast rack of lamb.

If you like you can order these for 75 cents less a la carte and turn to the other side of the menu for a generous selection of a la carte appetizers, soups, salads and desserts. There is a good wine list.

I believe La Marmite will succeed. It apparently has the necessary elements for success.

ABE BLOCK, food and beverage manager of the Gatehouse Restaurant (that's the new name for the dining room of the Holiday Inn at Terra Linda), has just received the Image award of Holiday Inn University (the company's own food and beverage management school) for imagination, motivation, attitude, growth and excellence. He was chosen for the honor not by Holiday Inn, but by his 41 other classmates.

Gatehouse dinners run to New York and rib-eye steaks, lobster, steak and lobster combination, prime rib, prawns and scallops en brochette, sole, chicken, turkey and ham steaks.

Keyboard artist Steve Corley is in the lounge Wednesdays through Saturdays.

LUNCH, ANYONE? The Cafe Boulevard de Paris in Ross is a place you should try.

Owner Nikita Van Beek has engaged a new chef — one Loic Agril, formerly of La Bourgogne in San Francisco. He offers a variety of crepes and several of his own specialities. One of these is quenelles with sauce Mantua — also available for dinner.

BREAKFAST, ANYONE? Eugene Lackenbach's special "hamwich breakfast" at Eugene's Country Club Restaurant in San Rafael is something new.

It's a hickory smoked ham patty and a fried egg on a toasted English muffin smothered with Welsh rarebit, and a fresh fruit cup. It will cost you $1.65 and you can also order it for lunch. If that doesn't fill the void, try one of Eugene's famous crepes. The apricot crepe is a good one.

CHRISTOPHER'S IN SAUSALITO is the only Marin restaurant I know of whose house wine, served in a carafe, is imported from France.

RADIO AND TELEVISION PERFORMER Barbara Meislin is the newest entertainment attraction at the Windjammer in Tiburon, Fridays and Saturdays from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. She lives in Tiburon.

She plays her own accompaniment on the guitar and linguistically is very versatile — French, Italian, Spanish, Hebrew and maybe some other languages I don't know about. Recent Bay Area appearances have been on KQED-FM Radio, television Channel 20 and several supper clubs.

CHEF MARK LESLEY at the Executive Lounge in San Rafael turns out several moderately priced dinners in this day of high prices. His "Special for Two" at $9.95 offers a choice of filet steak, trout or veal parmigiana, served with soup, salad, potato and fresh vegetables and a half-liter of wine.

On Tuesday nights the prime rib dinner at $3.75 is the thing. It includes the same accessories, except the wine.

AN ORCHESTRA in the hotel lobby — that's something that hasn't been heard much in recent years — or else I haven't been to the right places lately.

Dick Saltzman of Novato tells me his latest engagement is in the lobby of the Hyatt Regency Hotel, San Francisco. He and his group are there Mondays through Fridays from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Dick, who lives in Novato, and his vibraphone haven't been heard around Marin night spots lately, except for the Officer's Club at Hamilton Air Force Base. He's been giving his time to appearances in San Francisco and Berkeley.

Local Measures: Vote 'No' On 'D'

One county-wide referendum measure will be on Tuesday's ballots: Measure A, to increase the maximum tax rate of the Marin County Transit District from five cents to 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Our approach to mass transit has not been a howling success so far. The Golden Gate Bridge District has been spending its money lavishly on everything from pay raises for employees to fancy ferry boats that appear unlikely to attract enough patronage to justify their cost. And the county transit district is dependent on the bridge district for buses and operators.

More careful management of the bridge district might make it unnecessary to quintuple the transit district's tax rate to subsidize intra-county buses. However, having gone this far with attempting to develop a local mass transit system, we mustn't stop now.

So, like it or not, we need to vote "yes" on Measure A.

Three amendments to the San Rafael City Charter will be on ballots of voters in the city.

MEASURE B would raise to $3,500 the limit on purchases of supplies and equipment which the city could buy without a public bidding process. This was passed by San Rafael voters in last year's municipal election, but it turned out the city attorney had amended the wrong charter section on preparing the amendment, so it must be done over again. Vote "yes."

MEASURE C would change the date of the municipal election to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March, to conform to the elections in school districts.

San Rafael voters recently approved a charter change to make the city election coincide with school board votes, thus eliminating the cost of an extra election. But the legislature last year changed the date of school board elections, so now we need to do it over again. Vote "yes."

MEASURE D would make the city attorney appointive.

The incumbent city attorney's foul-up on the charter amendment which must now be corrected by Measure B probably led to putting this proposal — rejected three times previously — on the ballot again.

The reasons for its previous rejection remain valid, however. The city attorney should be responsible to the people. He should not be the private lawyer for the city council —and that's what he's likely to become if appointive. (The county counsel provides an example.)

If we don't like the city attorney we have, elect another one next year. But keep the city attorney responsible to the citizenry. Doing so helps keep the council honest. It helps provide clean government. VOTE "NO" ON MEASURE D.

There are six local measures on ballots in various other parts of Marin County.

MEASURE F would peg the pay of Fairfax police at no less than the average of other police departments and the sheriff's department in Marin County.

MEASURE G would authorize San Anselmo School District to increase its spending per pupil above the maximum allowed it under state law by whatever amount would be raised by a 20-cent increase in the district's tax rate.

MEASURE H is a Fairfax School District $750,000 bond issue, which would initially add 23 cents per $100 assessed valuation to the district's tax rate. Although the ballot measure does not specify it, the school board's announced intention is to use the $750,000 to build and equip a multi-use room at White Hill School.

MEASURE J would permit Shoreline Unified School District to levy a tax of 33.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation to finance new classrooms at Tomales Elementary School under a lease-purchase arrangement. The district has been unsuccessful in passing a bond issue for the proposed construction.

MEASURE K would authorize Novato Fire District to increase its tax rate from 71 cents to $1.28. The district board proposes to use part of the increase to establish a paramedic ambulance service.

MEASURE L is an open space bond measure in Strawberry Recreation District, calling for a $500,000 issue, which would initially add 28 cents to the district's tax rate.

The Independent-Journal takes no position on Measures F through L.

ABA President On Television Recalls Introduction To Bales

Experiencing the unexpected and the time and place such things occur has always fascinated me. There is a certain mystique about the whole event. One wonders, why? Rarely is that answered.

I try each Sunday to listen to the three programs on T.V. — "Face the Nation," "Issues and Answers," and "Meet the Press." When I tuned in the last, I found their guest was Chesterfield Smith, the president of the American Bar Association. He was good.

HE CERTAINLY HAD his feet on the ground — didn't duck any of the questions, took each one and thoroughly answered it, with a fine human sense of reasonableness that was great.

He discussed each subject with such completeness and clarity, without bombast or flurish, that it was a joy to listen to him. But I was puzzled about the feeling that I had known him and had listened to him before.

Of course I never had, but suddenly the answer came through.

That man's face, eyes and manner were those of Bruce Bales, when he reaches an age around the 60s.

I WOULD LIKE to tell you about the time I first saw Bruce. The board of supervisors were meeting in the old board room of the courthouse. You know during those years the district attorney was also the county counsel, who advised the board on civil matters. The office was departmented in such a manner that those assigned to one section could pinch-hit in the other.

We had a knotty problem before us that had us all stopped. We just didn't have the answer nor could we seem to work one out, so we sent for the D.A.'s office. The chief and all the civil deputies were engaged in court or otherwise. So this young man that I had never seen came in. He told us he was in the criminal division, but would be glad to help us if he could.

The matter had to do with something in my district, so I stated the problem. He put his hands in his pockets, looked down at the floor, and in a few minutes started to spell out the answer to us with clarity and to the point. I have watched him over the years. He has never lost that ability. I am going to vote for him to return to the office he holds — district attorney. He is honest. He is intelligent — a fine human person. I think you know I tell it like it is. This man is good.

World Of Future: Computerized Illiteracy

WASHINGTON — Young readers may not realize that the nation's capital has been a whipping boy for years — and for reasons unconnected with wiretapping, burglary, obstruction of justice, or other high crimes and misdemeanors. Since 1954, much of the criticism has come from down-home politicians who pointed with happy alarm to the public school system here, warning that that was what would happen everywhere when blacks became a majority in desegregated systems.

They were demagogic, but unfortunately their demagoguery had some foundation. As measured by standard reading tests, for example, Washington's pupils consistently fall well below the national average. District of Columbia officials have no more serious problem.

THUS IT SEEMED good news a little over a year ago when the new man in town was Milton S. Byam, incoming director of the D.C. public library. Byam told how for a quarter-century he had dreamed of "seeing the population of our cities embracing all the free information available to them, making their lives better, doing their jobs better, improving themselves."

Byam knew his big job was getting people who had no reading habit to venture into a library to start with. He tried to entice them with all sorts of sideshows. The more library "users" he could report, the more funds he could get to buy more books. Theoretically.

Despite having to cut back library operating hours, as many cities have had to do in the face of tight budgets, Byam saw book circulation in the district move upward last year for the first time in more than 10 years. If the theory of funds following users was valid, the library should have gotten a big new transfusion of book money this year.

BUT THE THEORY is just a theory. Instead of new money, what the D.C. library will be getting is another new director. Byam is leaving this week end to take a job in the New York library system. In announcing his departure, he took a strong swat at a local administration that seems resigned to the fact that books are an unknown tool to so many Washingtonians.

The new book budget, Byam said, is the same as in 1967, although book prices have gone up wildly since then. The city budget has gone up nearly $300 million in the past five years, but the library's percentage of it has gone down.

What is more, school officials show no interest in bringing classes to tour the library and become familiar with where books come from. Byam quoted the school superintendent as saying "she's not convinced everybody has to read."

THE SUPERINTENDENT, Barbara Sizemore, complains that she was misinterpreted. However, her version of what she really said is just as bad news for the nonreading pupils under her direction.

"I agree with Marshall McCluhan that we have left the age that began with the Gutenberg Bible and that the future belongs to multimedia," she said. "To ignore multimedia is unfortunate and unwise. But this is not to say that children don't need to read. It is to say that the language of the future will be Fortran and Cobol, which is the language of the computer."

It took some research before I found anyone who knew who Fortran and Cobol were. They are not successors to Gutenberg, or whos at all. They are whats. Computer languages. Fine, perhaps, on the assumption that every child in the public schools of America pretty soon will have his own personal computer to study his history and write his English compositions.

However, until these computers are installed and all young students speak Fortran and Cobol, there are assorted facts and figures that can help people get by in the world we live in already, today. The way to acquire them is by reading. And the downward level of reading here, today, only exaggerates the same trend in the country overall.

Children are desperately in need of old-fashioned literacy now, not later. And too many teachers and especially administrators are speaking in strange tongues about a computerized tomorrow instead.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Don't Toss Ciagrettes Out Of Car Window

This is an urgent appeal to smokers — in behalf of our beautiful environment and the inhabitants of it, particularly those with four feet and those with wings.

Please, as you drive where the fire hazard alongside the road is essentially non-existent, like in paved and developed areas, won't you remember to discard cigarette butts in a container in your car instead of flicking them out the window.

If you discipline yourselves in this manner, you won't likely forget and toss one where a slight breeze could carry it to weedy sections and start a major blaze.

Many of us who live where there's fire danger have had to stamp out any number of little conflagrations begun by a careless smoker. But there's no guarantee that someone will always be following you. So please begin now to douse those butts where they can't possibly cause tragedy.

Congratulations To All For Centennial Program

Re: San Rafael Centennial.

Congratulations to one and all for an outstanding week of activity, a week in which many San Rafael people and others took part, a week of action that took much longer in preparation, headed by individuals and groups with one thought in mind: "success." Success attained by a united effort and faith in one another to present an unforgettable Centennial celebration.

All events were handled in a professional manner, even down to one of the last, an unlisted one, and that of the Public Works Department assisted by the Police Department and other city employees in restoring Fourth and side streets to their usual cleanliness.

Not to be overlooked and most commendable were the available services of the fire and police departments along with an ambulance. Really on the ball! A fine job - well done.

Lowered Speed Limit Mark Of Civilization

Of all the things that might mark an advancement for humanity this year, was the change in the speed limit and the following reduction in highway accidents. As long as it lasts, a high mark for the process of civilizing. Could we but apply this spirit to the world based upon experience, all would have a chance to survive a little bit longer. . .

Republican Women Unfairly Criticized

I wish to refute the criticism that has been directed by an I-J columnist, and one letter-to-the-editor, toward the Marin Federated Republican Women. I am not writing for the group, but rather as an individual who is a 15-year member of the group.

This criticism has been made because District Attorney Candidate Krug wanted to come to the club's party in May and was told that he was not invited.

This MFRW gathering was a private party, a "fun" raiser, planned so members could mingle socially with the candidates for whom they had been working. It was in a private home where space and parking are necessarily limited. This club has around 160 members, all of whom were invited, along with husbands, and some prospective members. For this reason there was no invitation issued to the general public.

According to national by-laws, the MFRW supports all announced Republican candidates in a primary election, not endorsing anyone. . . Also, according to the same national by-laws, the club cannot provide an audience or give help to a Democrat. . .

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Both Parties Feebly Fumble On Vice Presidential Selection

WASHINGTON — In the two most recent presidential elections, three of the four vice presidential nominations have been intolerably flawed. Thus far neither the Democrats nor the Republicans are doing anything adequate to prevent a repetition.

Those three nominations — Spiro Agnew twice by the GOP and Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., by the Democratic Party in 1972 — were brought about by concealment of information from the presidential nominees and from the convention delegates.

THUS FAR the party leaders seem to be contemplating nothing more than patchwork reforms unequal to the need.

This isn't good enough and it better come out in the open before it is repeated.

For the Democrats, a vice-presidential selection commission, chaired by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., has labored earnestly, lengthily and futilely for nearly two years — and has come up with an anemic mouse.

Remember that twice Mr. Agnew succeeded in withholding criminal information about his record, and that Mr. Eagleton succeeded in withholding cruicial medical information, the subsequent disclosure of which forced the Democratic Party to strike his nomination.

And what bold and decisive step does the Humphrey commission propose to avert this kind of thing?

It proposes — get ready for a blockbuster — that the next Democratic National Convention convene for one extra day — five days instead of four — and then, whoosh, with 24 more hours of everything that went wrong at Miami in 1972, the vice-presidential choice thereby is kept from going wrong again in 1976.

The commission makes one other proposal. The convention could give up trying to pick a vice-presidential candidate. The presidential nominee would be allowed (as if he ever would) to turn over the choice of his running mate to the national committee some weeks later.

THE REPUBLICANS have done a little better — but not much.

They have had a committee at work, too — or at least a subcommittee — and it has been inviting interested party leaders to offer suggestions and it has heard some witnesses. According to the Republican Congressional Committee Newsletter, there is nearly total agreement that "they don't like the way" vice presidents are now chosen and nearly total disagreement on how to do it better.

But the thrust of several of the proposals reach toward the heart of the problem — how to insure adequate investigation of the fitness of candidates under consideration.

Thus Rep. Joseph M. McDade of Pennsylvania would give the presidential candidate 30 days after his nomination to examine prospects; he would provide for authorization of the FBI to investigate them, and then the choice would be voted on by mail balloting of the convention delegates. Another plan would require presidential candidates to name potential running mates two weeks ahead of the convention.

These seem to me timid, tenuous and halting beginnings toward a much-needed reform. Something stronger is required to avoid repeating the blunders of 1968 and 1972. Vice Presidents are too important to be chosen absent-mindedly and casually.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Columnist Gives Views On State Propositions

By RUS WALTON

Babylon is about to proposition you again. Nine times, to be exact; on next Tuesday's ballot. Eight of those propositions come straight from the legislators. One, Proposition 9, comes through citizens' initiative.

For what it's worth, here's the way Sweetwife and I see them and how we predict they will fare on election day:

PROP. ONE — $250 million in bonds to buy and develop beaches, parks, recreational areas and the like. About $90 million would go to cities and counties and another $90 million to enlarge the state park system. The balance ($25 million) would go to acquire historical sites and wildlife-management properties.

It's a no-no. More than 50 per cent of California's land area is already owned by government. That means those properties are off the local tax rolls and you know what that does to your property taxes. In addition, the bond issue would end up costing taxpayers another $131 million in interest charges. It will pass.

PROP. TWO — More bonds, $250 million for "clean water" projects. Polluters should pay for pollution — cities, counties, industries, consumers, but not the general taxpayer. This bond will also cost about $131 million in interest charges. And, the ploy that it will get $1.5 billion in "free" federal dough is a trap. Where do you think all that federal money comes from?

It will pass. But, remember this. Both Propositions 1 and 2 are deficit spending. California's bonded indebtedness is already $5.243 billion. The annual interest charges are now $136 million; those interest costs have risen 326 per cent in the past 10 years. Go ahead, keep beating yourself on the purse.

PROP. THREE — $350 million in bonds for Cal-Vet farm and home loans. This one is a goodie. There is no cost to the taxpayer; all interest and service charges are paid by participating veterans. This will not increase the state's bonded debt since the $85 million in annual pay-backs by present loan-holders would offset new bonds. Will pass.

PROP. FOUR — Authorize tax relief for owners of property destroyed in single calamities (as contrasted with floods, quakes, etc.). You bet! As it is now owner must pay his full year's taxes even if his property burns down the day after his annual assessment is levied. That's a bum rap. Will pass.

PROP. FIVE — Okay the use of gas taxes for mass transit. No way! Gas tax is a use tax, paid by motorists over and above other taxes and should be used to enlarge and maintain state and county highway systems. May pass.

PROP. SIX — Open meetings of legislature (and its committees) to public. Darned right! Public business is public's business. Now, legislature can sneak behind closed doors on whim of politicians. Prop. Six would at least make 7such secrecy in government more difficult. Will pass.

PROP. SEVEN — Remove from civil service the chief officer ($42,000 a year) and five deputies of the new Postsecondary Education Commission. No, sir. That would make one more state commission a high-paid roost for politically-appointed birds. Will not pass.

PROP. EIGHT — Permit consolidation of certain cities and the county of Sacramento into a city-county form of metro-government. If those voters want to get into that bag of worms, that's their problem. They have a right to their form of local government. It will pass.

PROP. NINE — "Common Cause" political reform. It would clamp a lid on campaign spending and reporting, prohibit conflicts of interests and activities by public officeholders, limit campaign spending for state elections, and put financial restrictions on the high-priced lobbyists here in Babylon. Despite some excesses (and awkward composition of Fair Political Practices Commission) Proposition 9 is a necessary addition to state's election code. Now is the time for folks to give the politicians the message, loud and clear: "clean up or get out." Proposition 9 will probably pass, despite vast sums being spent against it by special interests — big labor, big lobbyists, and big mouths.

Local Measures: Vote 'No' On 'D'

One county-wide referendum measure will be on Tuesday's ballots: Measure A, to increase the maximum tax rate of the Marin County Transit District from five cents to 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Our approach to mass transit has not been a howling success so far. The Golden Gate Bridge District has been spending its money lavishly on everything from pay raises for employees to fancy ferry boats that appear unlikely to attract enough patronage to justify their cost. And the county transit district is dependent on the bridge district for buses and operators.

More careful management of the bridge district might make it unnecessary to quintuple the transit district's tax rate to subsidize intra-county buses. However, having gone this far with attempting to develop a local mass transit system, we mustn't stop now.

So, like it or not, we need to vote "yes" on Measure A.

Three amendments to the San Rafael City Charter will be on ballots of voters in the city.

MEASURE B would raise to $3,500 the limit on purchases of supplies and equipment which the city could buy without a public bidding process. This was passed by San Rafael voters in last year's municipal election, but it turned out the city attorney had amended the wrong charter section on preparing the amendment, so it must be done over again. Vote "yes."

MEASURE C would change the date of the municipal election to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March, to conform to the elections in school districts.

San Rafael voters recently approved a charter change to make the city election coincide with school board votes, thus eliminating the cost of an extra election. But the legislature last year changed the date of school board elections, so now we need to do it over again. Vote "yes."

MEASURE D would make the city attorney appointive.

The incumbent city attorney's foul-up on the charter amendment which must now be corrected by Measure B probably led to putting this proposal — rejected three times previously — on the ballot again.

The reasons for its previous rejection remain valid, however. The city attorney should be responsible to the people. He should not be the private lawyer for the city council —and that's what he's likely to become if appointive. (The county counsel provides an example.)

If we don't like the city attorney we have, elect another one next year. But keep the city attorney responsible to the citizenry. Doing so helps keep the council honest. It helps provide clean government. VOTE "NO" ON MEASURE D.

There are six local measures on ballots in various other parts of Marin County.

MEASURE F would peg the pay of Fairfax police at no less than the average of other police departments and the sheriff's department in Marin County.

MEASURE G would authorize San Anselmo School District to increase its spending per pupil above the maximum allowed it under state law by whatever amount would be raised by a 20-cent increase in the district's tax rate.

MEASURE H is a Fairfax School District $750,000 bond issue, which would initially add 23 cents per $100 assessed valuation to the district's tax rate. Although the ballot measure does not specify it, the school board's announced intention is to use the $750,000 to build and equip a multi-use room at White Hill School.

MEASURE J would permit Shoreline Unified School District to levy a tax of 33.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation to finance new classrooms at Tomales Elementary School under a lease-purchase arrangement. The district has been unsuccessful in passing a bond issue for the proposed construction.

MEASURE K would authorize Novato Fire District to increase its tax rate from 71 cents to $1.28. The district board proposes to use part of the increase to establish a paramedic ambulance service.

MEASURE L is an open space bond measure in Strawberry Recreation District, calling for a $500,000 issue, which would initially add 28 cents to the district's tax rate.

The Independent-Journal takes no position on Measures F through L.

ABA President On Television Recalls Introduction To Bales

Experiencing the unexpected and the time and place such things occur has always fascinated me. There is a certain mystique about the whole event. One wonders, why? Rarely is that answered.

I try each Sunday to listen to the three programs on T.V. — "Face the Nation," "Issues and Answers," and "Meet the Press." When I tuned in the last, I found their guest was Chesterfield Smith, the president of the American Bar Association. He was good.

HE CERTAINLY HAD his feet on the ground — didn't duck any of the questions, took each one and thoroughly answered it, with a fine human sense of reasonableness that was great.

He discussed each subject with such completeness and clarity, without bombast or flurish, that it was a joy to listen to him. But I was puzzled about the feeling that I had known him and had listened to him before.

Of course I never had, but suddenly the answer came through.

That man's face, eyes and manner were those of Bruce Bales, when he reaches an age around the 60s.

I WOULD LIKE to tell you about the time I first saw Bruce. The board of supervisors were meeting in the old board room of the courthouse. You know during those years the district attorney was also the county counsel, who advised the board on civil matters. The office was departmented in such a manner that those assigned to one section could pinch-hit in the other.

We had a knotty problem before us that had us all stopped. We just didn't have the answer nor could we seem to work one out, so we sent for the D.A.'s office. The chief and all the civil deputies were engaged in court or otherwise. So this young man that I had never seen came in. He told us he was in the criminal division, but would be glad to help us if he could.

The matter had to do with something in my district, so I stated the problem. He put his hands in his pockets, looked down at the floor, and in a few minutes started to spell out the answer to us with clarity and to the point. I have watched him over the years. He has never lost that ability. I am going to vote for him to return to the office he holds — district attorney. He is honest. He is intelligent — a fine human person. I think you know I tell it like it is. This man is good.

World Of Future: Computerized Illiteracy

WASHINGTON — Young readers may not realize that the nation's capital has been a whipping boy for years — and for reasons unconnected with wiretapping, burglary, obstruction of justice, or other high crimes and misdemeanors. Since 1954, much of the criticism has come from down-home politicians who pointed with happy alarm to the public school system here, warning that that was what would happen everywhere when blacks became a majority in desegregated systems.

They were demagogic, but unfortunately their demagoguery had some foundation. As measured by standard reading tests, for example, Washington's pupils consistently fall well below the national average. District of Columbia officials have no more serious problem.

THUS IT SEEMED good news a little over a year ago when the new man in town was Milton S. Byam, incoming director of the D.C. public library. Byam told how for a quarter-century he had dreamed of "seeing the population of our cities embracing all the free information available to them, making their lives better, doing their jobs better, improving themselves."

Byam knew his big job was getting people who had no reading habit to venture into a library to start with. He tried to entice them with all sorts of sideshows. The more library "users" he could report, the more funds he could get to buy more books. Theoretically.

Despite having to cut back library operating hours, as many cities have had to do in the face of tight budgets, Byam saw book circulation in the district move upward last year for the first time in more than 10 years. If the theory of funds following users was valid, the library should have gotten a big new transfusion of book money this year.

BUT THE THEORY is just a theory. Instead of new money, what the D.C. library will be getting is another new director. Byam is leaving this week end to take a job in the New York library system. In announcing his departure, he took a strong swat at a local administration that seems resigned to the fact that books are an unknown tool to so many Washingtonians.

The new book budget, Byam said, is the same as in 1967, although book prices have gone up wildly since then. The city budget has gone up nearly $300 million in the past five years, but the library's percentage of it has gone down.

What is more, school officials show no interest in bringing classes to tour the library and become familiar with where books come from. Byam quoted the school superintendent as saying "she's not convinced everybody has to read."

THE SUPERINTENDENT, Barbara Sizemore, complains that she was misinterpreted. However, her version of what she really said is just as bad news for the nonreading pupils under her direction.

"I agree with Marshall McCluhan that we have left the age that began with the Gutenberg Bible and that the future belongs to multimedia," she said. "To ignore multimedia is unfortunate and unwise. But this is not to say that children don't need to read. It is to say that the language of the future will be Fortran and Cobol, which is the language of the computer."

It took some research before I found anyone who knew who Fortran and Cobol were. They are not successors to Gutenberg, or whos at all. They are whats. Computer languages. Fine, perhaps, on the assumption that every child in the public schools of America pretty soon will have his own personal computer to study his history and write his English compositions.

However, until these computers are installed and all young students speak Fortran and Cobol, there are assorted facts and figures that can help people get by in the world we live in already, today. The way to acquire them is by reading. And the downward level of reading here, today, only exaggerates the same trend in the country overall.

Children are desperately in need of old-fashioned literacy now, not later. And too many teachers and especially administrators are speaking in strange tongues about a computerized tomorrow instead.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Don't Toss Ciagrettes Out Of Car Window

This is an urgent appeal to smokers — in behalf of our beautiful environment and the inhabitants of it, particularly those with four feet and those with wings.

Please, as you drive where the fire hazard alongside the road is essentially non-existent, like in paved and developed areas, won't you remember to discard cigarette butts in a container in your car instead of flicking them out the window.

If you discipline yourselves in this manner, you won't likely forget and toss one where a slight breeze could carry it to weedy sections and start a major blaze.

Many of us who live where there's fire danger have had to stamp out any number of little conflagrations begun by a careless smoker. But there's no guarantee that someone will always be following you. So please begin now to douse those butts where they can't possibly cause tragedy.

Congratulations To All For Centennial Program

Re: San Rafael Centennial.

Congratulations to one and all for an outstanding week of activity, a week in which many San Rafael people and others took part, a week of action that took much longer in preparation, headed by individuals and groups with one thought in mind: "success." Success attained by a united effort and faith in one another to present an unforgettable Centennial celebration.

All events were handled in a professional manner, even down to one of the last, an unlisted one, and that of the Public Works Department assisted by the Police Department and other city employees in restoring Fourth and side streets to their usual cleanliness.

Not to be overlooked and most commendable were the available services of the fire and police departments along with an ambulance. Really on the ball! A fine job - well done.

Lowered Speed Limit Mark Of Civilization

Of all the things that might mark an advancement for humanity this year, was the change in the speed limit and the following reduction in highway accidents. As long as it lasts, a high mark for the process of civilizing. Could we but apply this spirit to the world based upon experience, all would have a chance to survive a little bit longer. . .

Republican Women Unfairly Criticized

I wish to refute the criticism that has been directed by an I-J columnist, and one letter-to-the-editor, toward the Marin Federated Republican Women. I am not writing for the group, but rather as an individual who is a 15-year member of the group.

This criticism has been made because District Attorney Candidate Krug wanted to come to the club's party in May and was told that he was not invited.

This MFRW gathering was a private party, a "fun" raiser, planned so members could mingle socially with the candidates for whom they had been working. It was in a private home where space and parking are necessarily limited. This club has around 160 members, all of whom were invited, along with husbands, and some prospective members. For this reason there was no invitation issued to the general public.

According to national by-laws, the MFRW supports all announced Republican candidates in a primary election, not endorsing anyone. . . Also, according to the same national by-laws, the club cannot provide an audience or give help to a Democrat. . .

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

May 31, 1964

The San Francisco Giants and New York Mets set a record by playing a double-header baseball game that lasted nine hours, 50 minutes. The second game went 23 innings before the Giants won, 8-6. The Giants also won the first game, 5-3. Gaylord Perry, a Giants relief pitcher, went the last 10 innings of the second contest and got the victory.

20 YEARS AGO

May 31, 1954

Roy W. Cohn denied to a Senate committee that he ever threatened to "wreck the Army" by bringing about dismissal of Army Secy. Robert T. Stevens if Pvt. G. David Schine was sent overseas.

French troops braced against a new Viet Minh assault in the Choben Valley in Indochina.

Both Parties Feebly Fumble On Vice Presidential Selection

WASHINGTON — In the two most recent presidential elections, three of the four vice presidential nominations have been intolerably flawed. Thus far neither the Democrats nor the Republicans are doing anything adequate to prevent a repetition.

Those three nominations — Spiro Agnew twice by the GOP and Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., by the Democratic Party in 1972 — were brought about by concealment of information from the presidential nominees and from the convention delegates.

THUS FAR the party leaders seem to be contemplating nothing more than patchwork reforms unequal to the need.

This isn't good enough and it better come out in the open before it is repeated.

For the Democrats, a vice-presidential selection commission, chaired by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., has labored earnestly, lengthily and futilely for nearly two years — and has come up with an anemic mouse.

Remember that twice Mr. Agnew succeeded in withholding criminal information about his record, and that Mr. Eagleton succeeded in withholding cruicial medical information, the subsequent disclosure of which forced the Democratic Party to strike his nomination.

And what bold and decisive step does the Humphrey commission propose to avert this kind of thing?

It proposes — get ready for a blockbuster — that the next Democratic National Convention convene for one extra day — five days instead of four — and then, whoosh, with 24 more hours of everything that went wrong at Miami in 1972, the vice-presidential choice thereby is kept from going wrong again in 1976.

The commission makes one other proposal. The convention could give up trying to pick a vice-presidential candidate. The presidential nominee would be allowed (as if he ever would) to turn over the choice of his running mate to the national committee some weeks later.

THE REPUBLICANS have done a little better — but not much.

They have had a committee at work, too — or at least a subcommittee — and it has been inviting interested party leaders to offer suggestions and it has heard some witnesses. According to the Republican Congressional Committee Newsletter, there is nearly total agreement that "they don't like the way" vice presidents are now chosen and nearly total disagreement on how to do it better.

But the thrust of several of the proposals reach toward the heart of the problem — how to insure adequate investigation of the fitness of candidates under consideration.

Thus Rep. Joseph M. McDade of Pennsylvania would give the presidential candidate 30 days after his nomination to examine prospects; he would provide for authorization of the FBI to investigate them, and then the choice would be voted on by mail balloting of the convention delegates. Another plan would require presidential candidates to name potential running mates two weeks ahead of the convention.

These seem to me timid, tenuous and halting beginnings toward a much-needed reform. Something stronger is required to avoid repeating the blunders of 1968 and 1972. Vice Presidents are too important to be chosen absent-mindedly and casually.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Columnist Gives Views On State Propositions

By RUS WALTON

Babylon is about to proposition you again. Nine times, to be exact; on next Tuesday's ballot. Eight of those propositions come straight from the legislators. One, Proposition 9, comes through citizens' initiative.

For what it's worth, here's the way Sweetwife and I see them and how we predict they will fare on election day:

PROP. ONE — $250 million in bonds to buy and develop beaches, parks, recreational areas and the like. About $90 million would go to cities and counties and another $90 million to enlarge the state park system. The balance ($25 million) would go to acquire historical sites and wildlife-management properties.

It's a no-no. More than 50 per cent of California's land area is already owned by government. That means those properties are off the local tax rolls and you know what that does to your property taxes. In addition, the bond issue would end up costing taxpayers another $131 million in interest charges. It will pass.

PROP. TWO — More bonds, $250 million for "clean water" projects. Polluters should pay for pollution — cities, counties, industries, consumers, but not the general taxpayer. This bond will also cost about $131 million in interest charges. And, the ploy that it will get $1.5 billion in "free" federal dough is a trap. Where do you think all that federal money comes from?

It will pass. But, remember this. Both Propositions 1 and 2 are deficit spending. California's bonded indebtedness is already $5.243 billion. The annual interest charges are now $136 million; those interest costs have risen 326 per cent in the past 10 years. Go ahead, keep beating yourself on the purse.

PROP. THREE — $350 million in bonds for Cal-Vet farm and home loans. This one is a goodie. There is no cost to the taxpayer; all interest and service charges are paid by participating veterans. This will not increase the state's bonded debt since the $85 million in annual pay-backs by present loan-holders would offset new bonds. Will pass.

PROP. FOUR — Authorize tax relief for owners of property destroyed in single calamities (as contrasted with floods, quakes, etc.). You bet! As it is now owner must pay his full year's taxes even if his property burns down the day after his annual assessment is levied. That's a bum rap. Will pass.

PROP. FIVE — Okay the use of gas taxes for mass transit. No way! Gas tax is a use tax, paid by motorists over and above other taxes and should be used to enlarge and maintain state and county highway systems. May pass.

PROP. SIX — Open meetings of legislature (and its committees) to public. Darned right! Public business is public's business. Now, legislature can sneak behind closed doors on whim of politicians. Prop. Six would at least make 7such secrecy in government more difficult. Will pass.

PROP. SEVEN — Remove from civil service the chief officer ($42,000 a year) and five deputies of the new Postsecondary Education Commission. No, sir. That would make one more state commission a high-paid roost for politically-appointed birds. Will not pass.

PROP. EIGHT — Permit consolidation of certain cities and the county of Sacramento into a city-county form of metro-government. If those voters want to get into that bag of worms, that's their problem. They have a right to their form of local government. It will pass.

PROP. NINE — "Common Cause" political reform. It would clamp a lid on campaign spending and reporting, prohibit conflicts of interests and activities by public officeholders, limit campaign spending for state elections, and put financial restrictions on the high-priced lobbyists here in Babylon. Despite some excesses (and awkward composition of Fair Political Practices Commission) Proposition 9 is a necessary addition to state's election code. Now is the time for folks to give the politicians the message, loud and clear: "clean up or get out." Proposition 9 will probably pass, despite vast sums being spent against it by special interests — big labor, big lobbyists, and big mouths.

And, don't forget:

By PAUL LIBERATORE

College Course 'Wired For Sound'; Does It Lead To 'Phono. D.'?

So you wanna be a pop record producer, huh? Well, here's your chance to learn your way around the tiny red and green lights and the banks of dials and knobs and gyrating needles in the control room.

You can unravel the mysteries of hands-on technique, mixing and arranging through New College in Sausalito, just a stone's throw down the Marinship from the record plant.

Oh, you say, what can some bookish college prof teach you about the recording business? Judge for yourself. Instructor in the eight-week summer course is Norman Dayron, a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. But before Dayron entered academia, he was a producer for Chess Records and worked with Eric Clapton, Muddy Waters, Howlin' Wolf and Paul Butterfield, among others.

The class will include lab work in Bay Area recording studios and study with professionals in the field. Call New College for more information.

THERE IS NO ESCAPE. Housing Authority Executive Director Wallace Shepherd was in the rarified air of Tucson, Ariz., recently for a meeting of housing authority and redevelopment officials and was in the middle of a seminar on tenant relations when who should show up but Nesbit Crutchfield of the Marin City Council and Susie Edwards of the Marin City Tenants Representation Association.

Crutchfield and the tenants group have been thorns in Shepherd's side and instrumental in bringing complaints about the modernization of public housing apartments to federal court.

According to Crutchfield, he and Miss Edwards discussed charges that Marin City residents have been overlooked for jobs in the modernization work and ignored in efforts to help plan the project. Crutchfield later brought up the same subject before the entire conference and Shepherd offered a rebuttal, but probably wished the meeting had been held a little farther from home. Say, somewhere in the South Pacific.

WHO SAYS SAUSALITO Councilperson Violeta Autumn doesn't have a sense of humor? Violeta, you might recall, was on the receiving end of some pretty rough criticism from local patriots when she politely and respectfully declined to salute the flag.

During a break in the city council meeting the other night, she gave me a copy of a cartoon that appeared in New Yorker magazine. It shows a classroom of dutiful elementary kids with their hands over their hearts, repeating the pledge, except for one boy who is imploring his stern teacher: "But I pledged allegiance yesterday."

Ferry Will Add Additional Trip

The extra round trip will leave Sausalito at 8:50 p.m. and return from San Francisco at 9:25 p.m. The trip was discontinued last December to save fuel.

Ferry Transit Mgr. Stanley M. Kowleski said the fuel problem was less acute now and warm weather will increase demand for the late service.

Police Station's TV Set Stolen

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Baltimore police are a little embarrassed about the theft of a second television set in as many years from the same location — the city's western district police station.

$1.10 Is Paid For 100 Pennies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — The Second New Haven Bank paid $1.10 for every 100 pennies brought in yesterday.

Citizens responded with $6,273 worth, and one persons cashed in 12,700 coppers. It cost the bank $627.30.

Mamie Helps Dedicate A Cadet Center

The 77-year-old former first lady cut a ribbon to officially open the facility. She did not give a speech, but her son, John Eisenhower, said, "Ike would have appreciated having this particular building named in his honor.

"He used to have a saying that every person should have a little bit of fun every day," the former ambassador to Belgium said.

Sparkman Plans To Follow Course Set By Fulbright

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI) — Sen. John J. Sparkman D-Ala., said yesterday he will follow much the same course as Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., if he succeeds Fulbright as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sparkman said he would seek the chairmanship next January, when Fulbright, chairman of the committee since 1959, leaves the Senate. The Arkansan was defeated in a primary election Tuesday by Arkansas Gov. Dale Bumpers. Sparkman is next in line for the post.

"I think the Foreign Relations Committee has functioned quite well (under Fulbright)," Sparkman told UPI at his home here. "I don't plan to change the course of it."

Sparkman could point the committee in a more conservative direction, but the committee is filled with Democratic and Republican liberals who might be able to outvote Sparkman on key issues.

Sparkman said he favored negotiations with Communist nations on issues such as the strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) between NATO and Warsaw Pact countries and presidential efforts at detente with Russia.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By PAUL LIBERATORE

College Course 'Wired For Sound'; Does It Lead To 'Phono. D.'?

So you wanna be a pop record producer, huh? Well, here's your chance to learn your way around the tiny red and green lights and the banks of dials and knobs and gyrating needles in the control room.

You can unravel the mysteries of hands-on technique, mixing and arranging through New College in Sausalito, just a stone's throw down the Marinship from the record plant.

Oh, you say, what can some bookish college prof teach you about the recording business? Judge for yourself. Instructor in the eight-week summer course is Norman Dayron, a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. But before Dayron entered academia, he was a producer for Chess Records and worked with Eric Clapton, Muddy Waters, Howlin' Wolf and Paul Butterfield, among others.

The class will include lab work in Bay Area recording studios and study with professionals in the field. Call New College for more information.

THERE IS NO ESCAPE. Housing Authority Executive Director Wallace Shepherd was in the rarified air of Tucson, Ariz., recently for a meeting of housing authority and redevelopment officials and was in the middle of a seminar on tenant relations when who should show up but Nesbit Crutchfield of the Marin City Council and Susie Edwards of the Marin City Tenants Representation Association.

Crutchfield and the tenants group have been thorns in Shepherd's side and instrumental in bringing complaints about the modernization of public housing apartments to federal court.

According to Crutchfield, he and Miss Edwards discussed charges that Marin City residents have been overlooked for jobs in the modernization work and ignored in efforts to help plan the project. Crutchfield later brought up the same subject before the entire conference and Shepherd offered a rebuttal, but probably wished the meeting had been held a little farther from home. Say, somewhere in the South Pacific.

WHO SAYS SAUSALITO Councilperson Violeta Autumn doesn't have a sense of humor? Violeta, you might recall, was on the receiving end of some pretty rough criticism from local patriots when she politely and respectfully declined to salute the flag.

During a break in the city council meeting the other night, she gave me a copy of a cartoon that appeared in New Yorker magazine. It shows a classroom of dutiful elementary kids with their hands over their hearts, repeating the pledge, except for one boy who is imploring his stern teacher: "But I pledged allegiance yesterday."

Ferry Will Add Additional Trip

The extra round trip will leave Sausalito at 8:50 p.m. and return from San Francisco at 9:25 p.m. The trip was discontinued last December to save fuel.

Ferry Transit Mgr. Stanley M. Kowleski said the fuel problem was less acute now and warm weather will increase demand for the late service.

Police Station's TV Set Stolen

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Baltimore police are a little embarrassed about the theft of a second television set in as many years from the same location — the city's western district police station.

$1.10 Is Paid For 100 Pennies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — The Second New Haven Bank paid $1.10 for every 100 pennies brought in yesterday.

Citizens responded with $6,273 worth, and one persons cashed in 12,700 coppers. It cost the bank $627.30.

Mamie Helps Dedicate A Cadet Center

The 77-year-old former first lady cut a ribbon to officially open the facility. She did not give a speech, but her son, John Eisenhower, said, "Ike would have appreciated having this particular building named in his honor.

"He used to have a saying that every person should have a little bit of fun every day," the former ambassador to Belgium said.

Sparkman Plans To Follow Course Set By Fulbright

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI) — Sen. John J. Sparkman D-Ala., said yesterday he will follow much the same course as Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., if he succeeds Fulbright as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sparkman said he would seek the chairmanship next January, when Fulbright, chairman of the committee since 1959, leaves the Senate. The Arkansan was defeated in a primary election Tuesday by Arkansas Gov. Dale Bumpers. Sparkman is next in line for the post.

"I think the Foreign Relations Committee has functioned quite well (under Fulbright)," Sparkman told UPI at his home here. "I don't plan to change the course of it."

Sparkman could point the committee in a more conservative direction, but the committee is filled with Democratic and Republican liberals who might be able to outvote Sparkman on key issues.

Sparkman said he favored negotiations with Communist nations on issues such as the strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) between NATO and Warsaw Pact countries and presidential efforts at detente with Russia.

HOUSTON I. FLOURNOY
Greets Marin supporters

A Confident Flournoy Visits Marin

By MARY LEYDECKER

Houston I. Flournoy, front-runner for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, appeared confident and relaxed yesterday as he greeted Marin party faithfuls and civic leaders at a "champagne brunchette."

Some of those who sipped and munched on the sun-splashed terrace of the San Rafael Elks Club had made $20 contributions to Flournoy's campaign and others, like several city councilmen, had been invited to come free to meet the candidate.

With a poll printed yesterday in a Los Angeles newspaper showing Flournoy as leading the Republican ballot in Tuesday's election by 52 per cent, the former professor and present state controller was understandably confident about the primary.

He also said he thinks he has a "good opportunity" to win the governor's seat in November when the "voters take a look at what the Democrats are likely to offer" as a candidate.

Furthermore, Flournoy, who formerly taught political science, said that he doesn't "honestly believe that Watergate will have a partisan impact."

He said he is confident that California voters will continue their long history of voting for individual candidates rather than making a "knee-jerk" partisan response in the polling booth.

Having grown up in the East, Flournoy, who moved to California in 1957, said he has a "real appreciation for the California political system," where voters often vote for candidates not of their own party.

Asked to comment on the perjury charges facing his chief opponent in the primary, Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, Flournoy said he was "not going to take advantage of Reinecke's misfortune."

Furthermore, Flournoy said he does not credit his apparent rise in voter popularity over Reinecke to the indictment but rather to a campaign which had been geared toward peaking in the last month before the election.

A campaign consultant to Flournoy, said that the candidate has been receiving "good support" in Northern California but that the final thrust of the campaign, especially on television, will be in the Los Angeles and San Diego areas.

"We have dollar problems and there are more votes down there," he said.

He added that Flournoy, who raised about $1.1 million for his primary campaign, probably won't be able to match the $2 million spent by Gov. Ronald Reagan when he was elected.

"I don't think any Republican can raise that amount," in the wake of Watergate, he said.

Supporters of Flournoy who greeted him yesterday in San Rafael mainly were men dressed in conservative business suits like their candidate and women in similarly trim outfits.

It was the candidate's only Marin campaign appearance, and a committee member blamed the relatively small turnout on a division in the committee on whether the affair should be a fund-raiser or an attempt to gather a crowd.

"I don't think any Republican can raise that amount," in the wake of Watergate, he said.

Supporters of Flournoy who greeted him yesterday in San Rafael mainly were men dressed in conservative business suits like their candidate and women in similarly trim outfits.

It was the candidate's only Marin campaign appearance, and a committee member blamed the relatively small turnout on a division in the committee on whether the affair should be a fund-raiser or an attempt to gather a crowd.

Policewoman Gives Advice On How To Stop Burglaries

By BETTY FROST

"Most home burglaries occur between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. A burglar can get in and out within 10 or 15 minutes, and usually enters the house through a door," Susanne Scharton, Community Service Officer assigned to the Mill Valley Police Department, explained.

Mrs. Scharton is available to citizens for home security checks and marking valuables for easy identification. Because she is concerned that the public become aware of the precautions that can be taken to prevent burglaries, she has scheduled a series of seminars.

The first seminar, to which Mill Valley service organization representatives have been invited, will begin at 7:30 p.m. June 11 in the city council chambers of Mill Valley. Hollis Devines, a security consultant who is employed by Schlage Lock Co. in San Francisco, will be the speaker.

Since most burglars take advantage of the carelessness of their victims, the community service officer stresses locking doors, windows and garage doors routinely.

"Burglars learn to 'defeat the lock' by pushing or 'jimmying, so the proper kinds of locks are most important," she advised.

The bolt should go in at least an inch or it can be readily pushed aside. The sliding glass door, so popular in Marin, should have a secure slide bolt, and a window brace on the track, to prevent jimmying, according to the expert.

"If upper story windows or doors leading to balconies are left open, be sure that ladders are not left conveniently outside to aid the would-be burglar," Mrs. Scharton suggested.

Louvered windows, which have narrow glass panels that slide out for easy cleaning, can also make a handy entry for a potential burglar, who can slide out enough of the panes to crawl through.

"Dogs and alarm systems provide some protection," she continued, "but neighbors who alert the police to a prowler, a strange car or something out of place, are the biggest help."

Articles which are most likely to be taken are those which can easily be disposed of, Mrs. Scharton said. "Items commonly stolen from homes are antiques, silver pieces, television sets, stereos, tape decks, cameras, guns and jewelry.

"Most of these items can be marked by etching an identifying number, usually the owner's driver's license, which is easy to trace through statewide investigative procedures. This is a free service which community service officers perform for householders," she explained.

Jewelry or small pieces of valuable silver should be photographed for future identification.

Once the official has marked the items for identification a sticker noting completion of "operation identification" is placed on the premises. The sticker itself often acts as deterrent, according to Mrs. Scharton.

"The average burglar is not a professional, and will be discouraged to find a locked gate, a locked door and a sign saying the valuable items in the home have been marked.

Police statistics for Mill Valley show that there were 171 residential burglaries in 1973. The average number of home burglaries for the past five years in the city is 181. "This means that one out of every 20 homes is hit," Mrs. Scharton said.

If burglaries of commercial establishments and articles lifted from automobiles are included the figure jumps to a total of 260 burglaries for 1973 in Mill Valley.

"There is no one area where the incidence of this kind of crime is greater. Mill Valley gets hit all over," the community service officer said. "The Enchanted Knolls area, however, has had the lowest number of burglaries, probably because there is less shrubbery and the neighbors are closer together."

The Marin County Criminal Justice Planning Agency received federal funds for the program which trained Mrs. Scharton and other community service officers in the county. She is employed by the agency and assigned to Mill Valley at the request of the police department.

Her training has included studies of locks, alarm systems, environmental design in planning for crime prevention, auto and bicycle theft.

A native of Nevada, Mrs. Scharton grew up in Las Vegas. She is the wife of David Scharton and a resident of Novato. The Schartons have lived in Marin County for five years.

Some Step Savers For Cleaning Around The House

NEW YORK (UPI) — Save steps in cleaning by using a basket or carton lined with soft towels to carry breakable small objects to the sink for washing.

Other containers to lighten your load include a double-sided pail or two separate pails — one for wash water and the other for rinsing, says the Soap and Detergent Association.

Get all your brooms, mops, scrub brushes, steel wool pads and kneeling pads together before you start.

Old toothbrushes, cotton swabs and pipe cleaners are handy for working lather into crevices and other hard to reach areas.

Field Service Leader Reelected

Mrs. John D. Harding of Mill Valley has been reelected president of the Tamalpais High School chapter of the American Field Service.

Soroptimist Club Picks New Slate

BILLIE GARL
Soroptimist president

The Soroptimist Club of Novato members have elected Billie Garl president. She served as vice president last year.

The club was organized last May as a service club for community projects. Members are women in professions, management or owners of businesses.

Mrs. Garl is secretary-manager of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, director of the Marin Concert Association and a member of the Novato Business and Professional Women's Club.

A native of Wausau, Wis., she has lived in Marin County 17 years. She is the mother of Mrs. Ned Dearborn of Hartsdale, N. Y., Grant F. Garl of Novato and Ariel Garl, 20, also of Novato. Her interests are sewing, golf and music.

Other officers to serve with Mrs. Garl are Mmes. Dorothy Krieger, vice president, Louise Bradley, recording secretary; Richard Duste, corresponding secretary; Cy La Lancet, treasurer, and Mmes. Jean Westlund, Juren Wolff, Hugh Turner and Eugene Trombley, directors.

Title Problem On Income Tax Returns

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Louisiana State University's Cooperative Extension Service says wives who work are faced with a title problem on their income tax returns.

The service recommends women use the term "home manager" rather than "housewife" to describe their jobs, since wives usually fill the roles of: family secretary-treasurer, purchasing agent, food processor, chef, hostess, interior decorator, maintenance supervisor and gardener.

Tinting Purpose

Fabrics dyes can be used to tint vinyl plastic sunglass frames if the lenses are made from glass. Plastic will absorb color but glass will not.

Watery Appearance

Moire fabric is made by running the fabric through engraved rollers to produce a watery appearance.

Be Careful On Tanning At First

NEW YORK (UPI) — You've heard the warning: Don't try to get the toastiest tan of all the first day you go for your place in the sun.

Do you heed the caution? You should — to avoid sun poisoning, painful sunburn or even more severe burning from a combination of sun and wind.

Medical authorities suggest you begin the first day with about 15 to 20 minutes of exposure — especially if it is between the hours of 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., when the sun is hottest.

Too much exposure to the sun also may cause sunstroke or heat prostration. Anyone can be affected but older persons, persons with high blood pressure, and chronic drinkers are most likely to be affected, according to an American Medical Association book on recreation and relaxation.

The advice includes:

"Usually sunstroke or heat prostration can be prevented by wearing head coverings in hot sun, avoiding strenuous exercise on hot days, wearing light, loose clothing, and avoiding too much to eat or drink. Take sufficient liquids and salt foods freely."

Mrs. Garl is secretary-manager of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, director of the Marin Concert Association and a member of the Novato Business and Professional Women's Club.

A native of Wausau, Wis., she has lived in Marin County 17 years. She is the mother of Mrs. Ned Dearborn of Hartsdale, N. Y., Grant F. Garl of Novato and Ariel Garl, 20, also of Novato. Her interests are sewing, golf and music.

Other officers to serve with Mrs. Garl are Mmes. Dorothy Krieger, vice president, Louise Bradley, recording secretary; Richard Duste, corresponding secretary; Cy La Lancet, treasurer, and Mmes. Jean Westlund, Juren Wolff, Hugh Turner and Eugene Trombley, directors.

Title Problem On Income Tax Returns

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Louisiana State University's Cooperative Extension Service says wives who work are faced with a title problem on their income tax returns.

The service recommends women use the term "home manager" rather than "housewife" to describe their jobs, since wives usually fill the roles of: family secretary-treasurer, purchasing agent, food processor, chef, hostess, interior decorator, maintenance supervisor and gardener.

Tinting Purpose

Fabrics dyes can be used to tint vinyl plastic sunglass frames if the lenses are made from glass. Plastic will absorb color but glass will not.

Watery Appearance

Moire fabric is made by running the fabric through engraved rollers to produce a watery appearance.

Be Careful On Tanning At First

NEW YORK (UPI) — You've heard the warning: Don't try to get the toastiest tan of all the first day you go for your place in the sun.

Do you heed the caution? You should — to avoid sun poisoning, painful sunburn or even more severe burning from a combination of sun and wind.

Medical authorities suggest you begin the first day with about 15 to 20 minutes of exposure — especially if it is between the hours of 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., when the sun is hottest.

Too much exposure to the sun also may cause sunstroke or heat prostration. Anyone can be affected but older persons, persons with high blood pressure, and chronic drinkers are most likely to be affected, according to an American Medical Association book on recreation and relaxation.

The advice includes:

"Usually sunstroke or heat prostration can be prevented by wearing head coverings in hot sun, avoiding strenuous exercise on hot days, wearing light, loose clothing, and avoiding too much to eat or drink. Take sufficient liquids and salt foods freely."

Guilty About Affairs Wonders If She Ought To Tell Husband

DEAR HELEN: When I was younger, I had three extramarital affairs, one when my husband was in the Army overseas; one after he returned and I went back to work so he could finish college. (He had no time for me then, and my boss did.) The last was when I was in my 40s, the bored wife of a busy executive.

Throughout, my husband never suspected. We've had a good and loving marriage, but there were times when I might have become a nag or a drudge had I not found someone who paid special attention to me.

We are now in our 50s and my conscience hurts. My husband has never been unfaithful. Since his retirement, we've been very close — but thoughts of those three lovers haunt me. I rationalized each time by saying my husband was either away or too busy for a wife, but really, I was just selfishly indulging my ego.

Should I confess? — GUILTY

DEAR GUILTY:

No! Except to the world, via an advice column. Isn't that enough?

Confession might salve your conscience, but it would hurt your husband and perhaps ruin a good marriage. Don't chance it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Tell "Man with a Dream," yes, it's a fact: smoking definitely has a bad effect on your sex life. Tobacco contains saltpeter to keep it burning. Everybody knows what saltpeter does to the libido.

No wonder girls are revealing more and more of their beautiful tempting bodies in a desperate effort to "turn on" the males. It won't work though, until the cause of their waning sex life is removed —cigarettes! — CHOKED ON SMOKE

DEAR C ON S:

Sorry to send your theory up in smoke, but even if saltpeter were heavily used in tobacco, it would not depress sexual urges. Its "powers" as a libido suppressor are unfounded, say anthropologists George W. Rich and David F. Jacobs of the California State University at Sacramento who have done considerable research on the subject.

"Nowhere in scientific literature," they add, "is there any support for saltpeter's supposed anti-sexual effects."

So much for Army chow! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

In reply to "Quincy" who is grateful that college kids have "returned to idiocy (streaking) instead of all that soul-searching rebellion," I say — thank the good Lord that college kids of the '60s had the courage to speak out against government-sponsored corruption and injustices!

While we of the older generation were too busy with our backyard barbecues, they were bringing to light government attitudes that lead to Watergate.

Our reaction was, "America, love it or leave it." We were the blind ones.

Now that we older folks are doing our job again, taking responsibility for our country and government, college kids can go back to their fun. But I'm sure glad they were there when we needed them! — A GRANNY OF 80

Attagirl, Granny! — H.

'Shoe Up' In Comfort This Season

With spring — and the energy-saving campaign — walking is back in fashion again. To stay in step, smart women will want to get their feet in shape and "shoe up" in comfort this season.

Footwear designers have made the going easy with naturally-shaped, soft-leather casuals to match the sporty new walking costumes. Classic styles in spectators and oxford ties with a new, low heel lead the foot parade.

More than ever, fit and comfort are important factors in fashion for active feet. Before trying on and fitting new shoes, Scholl experts advise a quick inspection of feet (to determine if there are any tender spots that might need pampering or shoes of a special style).

Other "fitting rules" to observe:

Ask the salesperson to measure your feet each time before buying new shoes.

Shop in the afternoon, when feet are slightly larger than normal size.

Church School Schedules Picnic

A picnic for all the children who attend church school at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley and their parents, will be held in Boyle Park in Mill Valley on June 9.

The children will meet their teachers at the park at 10 a.m., for games. Parents will come after the morning service for lunch.

Church school workers will start the day with a breakfast at 9:15 a.m. at Hammond Hall, the church parish hall.

Center Is Scheduling Girls' Sports Camps

"What do you mean you are running a sports camp for boys and not one for girls?"

Murray Narell, director of the Marin Jewish Community Center, was asked the question repeatedly last summer, so this summer he has instituted a girls' sports camp.

Two sessions will be held, the first from June 28 to July 19, the second Aug. 5 to 23.

Applications for counselors are pouring in, Narell said, but sign ups for campers is almost nil.

"I can't understand it," he said. "Everybody tells me what a good idea it is, but the girls are not signing up. We are offering them an opportunity to play and receive instruction in a variety of sports, basketball, touch football, volleyball, softball, soccer, swimming and track and field."

Instructors will be skilled athletes, and professional athletes will serve as guest instructors. Director of the camp is Steve Skolnik.

The girls, fifth through eighth grade, will be integrated with the boys' camp on the basis of ability and age.

Camp hours are 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Bus transportation will be available throughout Marin.

Timothy Harrington III Weds Bernadette O'Leary

MRS. TIMOTHY F. HARRINGTON III
Wed in Saratoga

Church of the Ascension in Saratoga was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Bernadette O'Leary of San Jose and Timothy F. Harrington III of San Anselmo. The ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, Rev. Jack O'Leary of New York City.

Maid of honor for her sister was Marie O'Leary of San Jose, and Bob Johnson of San Anselmo was best man.

Bernadette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. O'Leary of San Jose. She was graduated from Holy Cross High School in Mountain View and California State University, San Jose. The bride is also the sister of Joseph, Daniel and Timothy O'Leary of San Jose. She is employed by Transamerica Insurance Group in San Francisco.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Harrington Jr. of San Anselmo. He was graduated from Beloit (Wis.) Catholic High School and the University of San Francisco and is employed by the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange in San Francisco. Mrs. E. T. Madden of St. Petersburg, Fla., is his grandmother, and he is the brother of Jane, Ann, Edward and Steve Harrington of San Anselmo and Mrs. Jon Corey of Honolulu.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe the couple will live in San Anselmo.

Freedom is Big Theme With Tops And Bottoms

The fashion experts suggest expanding your classics collection with tops and bottoms that say '74. Freedom is the theme — loose, stretchy, super-comfortable shapes, underlined with lots of stripes, ticking, and natural fabrics.

What could be freer or more comfortable than the sweatshirt, getting big and locker-roomy with jogger pockets, oversized T-shirt shapes and baggy velour fabrics. It plays a sexy game in striped or floral voiles for evening.

Sailing away with other big news: the middy shirt and the sailing parka jacket. Another hit is the sack-jacket, big and room yover the hip, often shirt-shaped, sometimes belted.

THE SHIRT-over-shirt look is still very much in the running. Close seconds are the body-hugging T-shirt or the camisole undershirt (great under a big see-through voile top). The "T" is less faddy, more serious in prints or stripes.

Pants are form-fitting and functional or soften up. The hard workers are jeans, overalls, painter's pants and mechanic's looks. Soft-leg styles are pleat,ess, cuffless and get their shape from your body.

STILL AROUND: variations on the wrappy "rag" outfits of patchwork antique fabrics. Decorated jeans and jean-shirts are now refined to an art form and getting less casual by the minute. Sweaters travel best in pairs, the newest are patterned in mix and match stripes. Art Deco designs or geometrics a la Missoni. The sweater-jacket comes in a long slouch cardigan or a short-sleeved version with a gathered or belted waist.

Sonoman Concludes Term As State Group President

Mrs. Paul J. Tunkis of Sonoma concluded her two-year term as president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs at the state meeting just ended in Los Angeles.

Mrs. John James Barbour was installed president of the state federation for the next two years. Other new officers are Mmes. Royal Wilke, first vice president; Howard McLaughlin, vice president Area A; William Boone, vice president, Area B; DeForrest Cutler, vice president Area C; Mellvine Fuchs, vice president Area D; Albert Crichton, director of finance; Helen B. McLaren, financial secretary; Lyle Schermitzler, recording secretary, and Wallace Bagley, treasurer.

The CFWC awarded its first scholarship in consumer affairs for $600 to a student at the University of California.

During Mrs. Tunkis' term, the federation raised funds for the Pennies for Poppies project of the president to preserve the California Golden Poppy through purchase of seeds, receiving the appreciation of the California Department of Parks and Recreation, Mrs. Tunkis said.

The Fall Look

Remain Longer

Sailing away with other big news: the middy shirt and the sailing parka jacket. Another hit is the sack-jacket, big and room yover the hip, often shirt-shaped, sometimes belted.

THE SHIRT-over-shirt look is still very much in the running. Close seconds are the body-hugging T-shirt or the camisole undershirt (great under a big see-through voile top). The "T" is less faddy, more serious in prints or stripes.

Pants are form-fitting and functional or soften up. The hard workers are jeans, overalls, painter's pants and mechanic's looks. Soft-leg styles are pleatless, cuffless and get their shape from your body.

STILL AROUND: variations on the wrappy "rag" outfits of patchwork antique fabrics. Decorated jeans and jean-shirts are now refined to an art form and getting less casual by the minute. Sweaters travel best in pairs, the newest are patterned in mix and match stripes. Art Deco designs or geometrics a la Missoni. The sweater-jacket comes in a long slouch cardigan or a short-sleeved version with a gathered or belted waist.

Sonoman Concludes Term As State Group President

Mrs. Paul J. Tunkis of Sonoma concluded her two-year term as president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs at the state meeting just ended in Los Angeles.

Mrs. John James Barbour was installed president of the state federation for the next two years. Other new officers are Mmes. Royal Wilke, first vice president; Howard McLaughlin, vice president Area A; William Boone, vice president, Area B; DeForrest Cutler, vice president Area C; Mellvine Fuchs, vice president Area D; Albert Crichton, director of finance; Helen B. McLaren, financial secretary; Lyle Schermitzler, recording secretary, and Wallace Bagley, treasurer.

The CFWC awarded its first scholarship in consumer affairs for $600 to a student at the University of California.

During Mrs. Tunkis' term, the federation raised funds for the Pennies for Poppies project of the president to preserve the California Golden Poppy through purchase of seeds, receiving the appreciation of the California Department of Parks and Recreation, Mrs. Tunkis said.

The Fall Look

Remain Longer

ON BEING BLACK

Name 'Sapphire' Not So Funny To Many Women

By SANDRA HAGGERTY
Distributed by the Los Angeles Times Syndicate

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — "Why do the sisters get mad if I call them Sapphire? It's only a joke." The black male was responding to a lecture on the "Myths of Black Womanhood."

"Sapphire" as a slang name for a black woman may be a joke to some black males, but to many black women it is anything but humorous.

The dictionary defines sapphire as "any of several relatively pure forms of corundum (an extremely hard mineral, aluminum oxide, sometimes containing iron), especially a blue form used as a gemstone." When and where the term was first used to designate the black woman is not documented, but the Number One Myth, that black women are hard and superhuman (they do not break or bleed), is possibly derived from this definition.

POPULARLY, SAPPHIRE refers to an aggregation of attitudes, mannerisms, problems and pain experienced and exhibited by many black women who have survived in a society that has made it perfectly clear that soft white hands and blonde hair do a woman make.

Historically, Sapphire has been misused and abused ('cause she's so strong and can take it) by white men and women. Currently, she is getting mental abuse at the hands of some black males (for those same reasons — although the latest statistics regarding suicide, hypertension and mental breakdown among black women say something else).

SAPPHIRE IS the black woman who revenges mistreatment with a razor, liquid lye and boiling water. She either cleans up the public toilets or "cleans up" on the streets as a prostitute. She has lost the ability to trust 'cause much of her life has been spent sustaining and/or recovering from games run down on her.

She relates well to children 'cause wrinkled hands, skinny legs, big bottoms, kinky hair and head rags do not diminish her abilities as a loving mother.

Tragically, much of her ability to be open and loving toward a man lies dormant because she has never had a protective environment in which she was free to trust and love. Her daddy wasn't able to take care of her the way Mr. Charley did his youngsters. Consequently, Charley's daughter is more open to loving relationships.

Sapphire drinks too much gin (the hard-core booze of blacks, women over 30 and divorcees), or she gives her hard-earned money to the Reverend Good, in hopes of making reservations for an eternity in heaven.

SAPPHIRE HAS been forced to develop a greater repertoire of survival tactics; for this she should be considered a gem. But superhuman she is not; inside, she bleeds and cries. The fact remains, she has not yet been afforded a position of full personhood.

Judge Halts Streak Probe

NEW YORK (UPI) — A military investigation to decide whether Navy Cmdr. William D. Martin, 40, streaked across the ballroom of a Manhattan hotel has been temporarily stopped by a federal court order.

U.S. District Court Judge Thomas C. Platt agreed with Martin's argument that the Navy had no right to probe into his off-duty hours activities. Platt also agreed to a hearing June 14 on whether to make his order permanent.

Martin, a former Vietnam fighter pilot, was under investigation for allegedly dashing naked across the ballroom of New York's Belmont Plaza Hotel during the annual convention of the Reserve Officers Association May 3. He has declined to confirm or deny the alleged streak.

Lee Citizenship Measure Passed

The Senate shrugged off a half-serious amendment proposing amnesty for Vietnam draft evaders yesterday and passed the memorial to Congress asking that Lee be restored "full rights of citizenship" nearly 104 years after his death.

The resolution recognizes Lee's "courage, patriotism and selfless devotion to duty" in the Civil War.

A Film Of 'Jubilee' To City Schools

A film of "Jubilee," San Rafael's Centennial musical, will be given to the San Rafael city schools for educational use and a record of the Centennial celebration.

Ken Reichard, owner of the San Rafael Photo Shop, his wife Gerrie, Allan and Maxwell Wills of Petaluma donated their time to film the musical in a special performance Monday night. Costs of the filming were shared by the San Rafael Parent-Teacher Association Music Council and the Centennial Committee, according to Paul McMullen, who created the show with his wife, Valerie.

McMullen said the film will provide San Rafael students a "quick overview" of the city's history. It was performed by a cast of 130, with stage crew of 70, during seven days of the city's 10-day 100th birthday celebration.

Two Musical Groups Set Two Shows

College of Marin's Community Band and the combined Community Chorus and Collegiate Chorale have scheduled performances for tomorrow and Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the college's Fine Arts Theater.

The community band, under the direction of John H. Myers, will appear tomorrow and perform works by Wagner, McBeath, Jadin, Sousa, Goldman and Frescobaldi. The band will also perform "Symphony for Band," composed by College of Marin music instructor Dr. Stanley Kraczek.

The chorus groups, under the direction of Scott Merrick, will perform works by Gounod, Bach and Vivaldi on Sunday.

Only Heart Beats

DALLAS (AP) — The thief who stole a tape recorder and several tapes from the car of Francis Andrews of Tomball is in for a surprise — the only sounds recorded on the tapes are heart sounds.

Bagley Proposes Sweeping Breaks For State Renters

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, a Republican candidate for state controller, yesterday proposed giving California renters the same property tax deductions on their federal income tax that homeowners now enjoy.

He said his plan would enable California renters to deduct from $100 million to $300 million a year in property taxes from their federal income tax as homeowners now do.

At a news conference, the San Rafael lawmaker conceded it was now late in the legislative session to introduce a new bill to implement his plan. But he said he may attempt to include it in pending legislation or to press the issue next year if he is elected state controller.

He said approximately two million California renters pay income taxes and noted that 20 per cent of their monthly rent payments go for property taxes.

The proposal would classify the renter as the "primary obligor" for property taxes under state law. He said such persons automatically under federal law could deduct 20 per cent "of the rent paid as taxes."

"So if a person is paying $200 a month rent, $40 of that is taxes and $40 times 12 months is $480 deduction per year on the income tax which the renter can take," Bagley said.

Landlords, he said, wouldn't be hurt by the plan because they no longer would be required to declare as rental income that portion of rents attributable to property taxes.

Bagley said his plan "would not cost the state a dime" if it applied only to federal income taxes. Aides conceded if it were applied to state income taxes a revenue loss would occur.

Aide Says Saxbe Broke A Promise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jerry N. Clark, director of a Justice Department inquiry into administration of the Freedom of Information Act, resigned yesterday, charging Attorney General William B. Saxbe broke a promise to give him a free hand.

Clark wrote Saxbe that he had been given "every reason to believe that you understood and supported the arrangements that had been worked out" giving him "substantial independence" and that Saxbe had broken the pledge.

Judge Halts Streak Probe

NEW YORK (UPI) — A military investigation to decide whether Navy Cmdr. William D. Martin, 40, streaked across the ballroom of a Manhattan hotel has been temporarily stopped by a federal court order.

U.S. District Court Judge Thomas C. Platt agreed with Martin's argument that the Navy had no right to probe into his off-duty hours activities. Platt also agreed to a hearing June 14 on whether to make his order permanent.

Martin, a former Vietnam fighter pilot, was under investigation for allegedly dashing naked across the ballroom of New York's Belmont Plaza Hotel during the annual convention of the Reserve Officers Association May 3. He has declined to confirm or deny the alleged streak.

Lee Citizenship Measure Passed

The Senate shrugged off a half-serious amendment proposing amnesty for Vietnam draft evaders yesterday and passed the memorial to Congress asking that Lee be restored "full rights of citizenship" nearly 104 years after his death.

The resolution recognizes Lee's "courage, patriotism and selfless devotion to duty" in the Civil War.

A Film Of 'Jubilee' To City Schools

A film of "Jubilee," San Rafael's Centennial musical, will be given to the San Rafael city schools for educational use and a record of the Centennial celebration.

Ken Reichard, owner of the San Rafael Photo Shop, his wife Gerrie, Allan and Maxwell Wills of Petaluma donated their time to film the musical in a special performance Monday night. Costs of the filming were shared by the San Rafael Parent-Teacher Association Music Council and the Centennial Committee, according to Paul McMullen, who created the show with his wife, Valerie.

McMullen said the film will provide San Rafael students a "quick overview" of the city's history. It was performed by a cast of 130, with stage crew of 70, during seven days of the city's 10-day 100th birthday celebration.

Two Musical Groups Set Two Shows

College of Marin's Community Band and the combined Community Chorus and Collegiate Chorale have scheduled performances for tomorrow and Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the college's Fine Arts Theater.

The community band, under the direction of John H. Myers, will appear tomorrow and perform works by Wagner, McBeath, Jadin, Sousa, Goldman and Frescobaldi. The band will also perform "Symphony for Band," composed by College of Marin music instructor Dr. Stanley Kraczek.

The chorus groups, under the direction of Scott Merrick, will perform works by Gounod, Bach and Vivaldi on Sunday.

Bagley Proposes Sweeping Breaks For State Renters

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, a Republican candidate for state controller, yesterday proposed giving California renters the same property tax deductions on their federal income tax that homeowners now enjoy.

He said his plan would enable California renters to deduct from $100 million to $300 million a year in property taxes from their federal income tax as homeowners now do.

At a news conference, the San Rafael lawmaker conceded it was now late in the legislative session to introduce a new bill to implement his plan. But he said he may attempt to include it in pending legislation or to press the issue next year if he is elected state controller.

He said approximately two million California renters pay income taxes and noted that 20 per cent of their monthly rent payments go for property taxes.

The proposal would classify the renter as the "primary obligor" for property taxes under state law. He said such persons automatically under federal law could deduct 20 per cent "of the rent paid as taxes."

"So if a person is paying $200 a month rent, $40 of that is taxes and $40 times 12 months is $480 deduction per year on the income tax which the renter can take," Bagley said.

Landlords, he said, wouldn't be hurt by the plan because they no longer would be required to declare as rental income that portion of rents attributable to property taxes.

Bagley said his plan "would not cost the state a dime" if it applied only to federal income taxes. Aides conceded if it were applied to state income taxes a revenue loss would occur.

Aide Says Saxbe Broke A Promise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jerry N. Clark, director of a Justice Department inquiry into administration of the Freedom of Information Act, resigned yesterday, charging Attorney General William B. Saxbe broke a promise to give him a free hand.

Clark wrote Saxbe that he had been given "every reason to believe that you understood and supported the arrangements that had been worked out" giving him "substantial independence" and that Saxbe had broken the pledge.

ART REVIEW

By ADA GARFINKEL

Part nautical museum and part folk-art gallery, the Scrimshaw in Sausalito is celebrating its fifth anniversary with a group show by five contemporary artists who deal in nautical themes.

The major feature of the exhibit is the display of paintings and etchings by marine artist John Stoll, a resident of Mill Valley since 1960, until his recent death.

Others in the show are scrimshanders (brother and sister) Martha and Peter Bowen, and Marianne Fletcher, and macrame artisan Spike Africa, whose work is presently also on view at the Spokane World's Fair.

Stoll was a muralist, etcher, and painter whose works are in the collections of Buckingham Palace and museums throughout the world.

A native of Germany and a working seaman, Stoll recorded life at sea and all its vagaries as a visual journal of daily events. Momentary impacts with weather — sudden or impending storms — are a determining force of mood, tempo and interaction of men living "under sail."

There is technical virtuosity in the density and transparency that Stoll achieves with a single hue. And there is drama in the deep, cool monochromatic blues and greens with which he records a tornado at sea in the painting "Waterspout" and the cropped, partial view of a frothy wave viewed from the foremast in "Scud." Slim geometrical planes in the rigging are important foils for sharp rays of intense light and rhythmic motion.

More humanistically oriented are Stoll's clear, clean black-and-white etchings in which closely drawn parallel lines create vertical and diagonal planes which focus on men performing tasks as if he — Stoll — were seeing them from an overhead, bird's-eye view.

A related sequence of events is recorded in the brooding "West of Magellan," which depicts a rising gale, and in "Made All Sail," "Took in Jibs," "Took in Upper Top'sls," and "One a.m. — Clearing Eye of the Storm."

"Bullfight in Caracus, and etching in terra cotta tones shows yet another kind of vigorous activity which engaged Stoll's lively interest.

Scrimshaw engravings on ivory become popular in the 19th century with whalers who carved and etched motifs on whales' teeth. Later, elephant and walrus tusks were also used.

The Bowens hail from Gloucester, Mass., one of the first whaling areas in the country. Peter Bowen's nautical and whaling scenes are historical pieces since whales have become one of the endangered species. Martha Bowen's unusual necklaces, desk pieces, and miniature jewelry boxes are of elephant and walrus ivory. A tiny, one-inch high vase is amusingly inscribed with whales, birds, mushrooms, and shields.

Marianne Fletcher's jewelry and miniature treasure boxes in exotic woods, ivory, and handwrought sterling silver are scrimshawed by her son Eric, in free-hand designs — landscapes, insects, sailing vessels and floral scenes.

Sometimes called the "president of the Pacific Ocean," Spike Africa set sail on a five-masted schooner more than 50 years ago, and has been tying knots — macrame — ever since. Among his display are "yacht-nips" — ostensibly bell-pulls attached to clappers of ships' bells; but since the macrame covers miniature bottles, the origin of the name might well describe some foregoing activity.

Artifacts of interest in the permanet collection at Scrimshaw include a ship's figurehead, a scale model English vessel of the 1700s, an authentic brass and copper ship's lantern, a functional pot-belly wood stove, an authentic cannon which will be used on a restored ship in San Francisco's Maritime Museum, and Eskimo carvings in ivory and soapstone from the King Islands' culture in the Aleutian chain.

The Scrimshaw is located on the second floor at 759 Bridgeway, and is open every day from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. The show will continue through June 30.

UAW President's Views On Solving Nagging Issue

CARMEL (UPI) — Improving "work" as an occupation for mankind will take cooperation between labor and management, Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers Union said yesterday.

In remarks prepared for a conference on "The Changing World of Work," Woodcock criticized employers for seeking only profits.

"Workers have also constantly had to resist management's attempts to increase the work pace, an attempt that if successful would, among other things, guarantee shoddy workmanship," said Woodcock.

"The lack of recognition of labor's long-standing efforts and contributions to hard-won progress in changing the world of work is keenly felt, but we persevere nonetheless," he said.

"Any realistic approach must give due attention to an age-old employee point of view that sees work as an unpleasant necessity," the UAW chief told the assembly.

A WARNING IS GIVEN ON CLAMS

Noting that others might not be as familiar with the horseneck clam as the Burroughs family, which lives in the area, health specialist Clifford A. Sharpe said persons taking the clams during the summer months should be sure to throw away the dark meat, where poison from the "red tide" is concentrated.

On the other hand mussels are forbidden during the summer quarantine because the poison is distributed throughout their flesh.

Booze Said Often Tied To Violence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 1973 federal study has shown that alcohol drinkers are more likely to commit violent crimes than marijuana smokers, it was reported yesterday.

The study, conducted in Jamaica for the federal government by a private research firm, was hardly publicized after reporting its findings.

The report on the study was carried in the San Francisco Examiner.

"The alochol intakers are more likely to have abusive behavior," said Dr. Vera Rubin of the Research Institute for the Study of Man in New York City, commenting on the findings. "The marijuana smokers drink less and are more peaceful."

The study involved tests of 30 marijuana smokers and 30 nonsmokers.

It found no physical or psychological damage from chronic marijuana use, the newspaper said.

The report said that in Jamaica marijuana is a part of the culture and is smoked to improve work habits, clear heads and provide quick energy.

Only 50 copies of the $158,105 study were ever printed, the Examiner said.

"The decision to hold a press conference is not a scientific one," Karst Besteman of the National Institute of Mental Health in Rockville, Md., told the Examiner.

"It would have served the usefulness of politicians' positions if the study had shown striking negative outcome."

ACT Plays Drew Record Numbers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Playgoers in San Francisco turned out in record numbers for the nine productions put on by the American Conservatory Theater during its 1973-74 season.

The 31 weeks of 254 performances drew 263,237 persons, an increase of 26,526 over the prior season, an ACT spokesman said yesterday.

Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" drew the largest audience, 52,962 persons. Next in attendance was Moliere's "The Miser," which attracted a crowd of 30,544 persons.

Drug Trial Of Airmen Is Delayed

ERDEMLI, Turkey (UPI) — A Turkish judge yesterday postponed for one month the trial on drug charges of 10 U.S. airmen because narcotics agents who arrested them failed to appear in court.

It was the second time that the trial was postponed because key prosecution witnesses did not show. District Judge Saadttin Kundal set a new hearing for June 27 and issued written instructions that the narcotics agents appear then.

He refused to release on bond Sgt. Joseph A. Pereira, 24, of Fairhaven, Mass., who has spent three months in jail awaiting trial. Conviction carries a minimum penalty of three years.

The airmen, stationed at Incirlik U.S. Air Base 70 miles east of here, are charged with smoking ezra, a hashish-like narcotic derived from hemp, on a camping trip.

Pereira said they were forced to confess by Turkish narcotics agents who arrested them Feb. 16 as they sat around a campfire at Kizkazlesi on the Mediterranean.

"They beat us," Pereira said in an interview yesterday. "We did not know what we were signing. The confessions were in Turkish and nobody translated them."

In a statement to the court yesterday, Airman 1C Daniel J. Lark, 20, of Piedmont, S.C., said, "I was the only person there smoking hashish. I cannot see Joseph Pereira spending time in prison for my mistake."

Both men were ordered held in Erdemli's primitive mud-brick jail until the next hearing.

Bond was set for the other eight: Airman 1C Barron M. Broomfield, 21, Youngstown, Ohio; James Arron, 21, Pensacola, Fla., and David M. Rothermall, 19, North Bellmore, N.Y., and Sgts. Kevin Toal, 21, Warren, Mich.; John Rowe, 21, West Covina, Calif.; Thomas McKindley, 21, Grove City, Calif.; Barry Black, Edmund, R.I., and Charles Spencer, 21, Westminister, Calif.

The 10 men appeared in Erdemli's stone-floor courtroom in civilian clothes accompanied by American officers in uniform and Turkish lawyers in black robes.

Airman 1C Louis A. Bianco, 24, of Dayton, Ohio, who was also arrested in the campsite raid, is scheduled to go on trial separately June 17 on charges of selling the narcotic.

Legality Of State's Disclosure Law Eyed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court yesterday undertook the job of deciding the constitutionality of the state's 1973 law requiring disclosure of assets by public officials.

The high court took under submission the case brought by Nevada County, where the county counsel argued that the law was unconstitutionally vague and overbroad and placed an economic restraint on persons seeking or holding public office.

The case first came to the state Supreme Court after a Nevada County superior judge disqualified himself from hearing it on grounds that he too was a public official and affected by the disclosure law.

The high court sent the case back for trial and assigned it to retired Superior Judge Harold Thompson of Fresno, who ruled the law unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court took over the case after it was appealed to the Third District Court of Appeal in Sacramento.

Assistant District Attorney John Darlington was joined by Kenneth J. Guido of Common Cause in oral arguments defending the law's constitutionality before the Supreme Court.

House Aides Asked To Put Bite On Lobbyists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of staff workers for Republican House members have been urged to contact lobbyists for free gifts to be given away at the annual Bull Elephants Stag Dinner.

A "fellow bulls" flyer urging the solicitation of free prizes has been sent to the offices of all GOP House members, and a copy was given to UPI. A spokesman for the largely social group, consisting of about 300 male staff assistants to GOP congressmen, said such solicitations have been made over the past 21 years.

The flyer sent out noted the annual stag staff picnic was coming up June 15 and that "everyone who comes expects to go home with a little box of goodies and with your cooperation they will."

"This is the time to contact that lobbyist friend and particularly manufacturers or distributors back in your district who may be able to help us out," the flyer said.

A spokesman for the group said the gifts are minor and, as an example, his prizes last year consisted of "a couple of bags of M&Ms candy, a toothbrush and two cans of syrup."

Council Approves Shoot-out Claims

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The City Council yesterday approved payment of nine claims from residents of the neighborhood where the Symbionese Liberation Army fought a blazing gunbattle with police and FBI agents.

The claims were for bullet holes in fences, doors, furniture, windows and walls and food spoilage caused by clouds of tear gas and the loss of electricity to the block during the siege.

NAUTICAL ARTS — Functional and sculptural macrame by Spike Africa is included in a group show at the Scrimshaw in Sausalito together with paintings and etchings by John Stoll, and scrimshaw carvings by Martha Bowen and Peter Bowen, and jewelry by Marianne Fletcher.

ART REVIEW

By ADA GARFINKEL

Part nautical museum and part folk-art gallery, the Scrimshaw in Sausalito is celebrating its fifth anniversary with a group show by five contemporary artists who deal in nautical themes.

The major feature of the exhibit is the display of paintings and etchings by marine artist John Stoll, a resident of Mill Valley since 1960, until his recent death.

Others in the show are scrimshanders (brother and sister) Martha and Peter Bowen, and Marianne Fletcher, and macrame artisan Spike Africa, whose work is presently also on view at the Spokane World's Fair.

Stoll was a muralist, etcher, and painter whose works are in the collections of Buckingham Palace and museums throughout the world.

A native of Germany and a working seaman, Stoll recorded life at sea and all its vagaries as a visual journal of daily events. Momentary impacts with weather — sudden or impending storms — are a determining force of mood, tempo and interaction of men living "under sail."

There is technical virtuosity in the density and transparency that Stoll achieves with a single hue. And there is drama in the deep, cool monochromatic blues and greens with which he records a tornado at sea in the painting "Waterspout" and the cropped, partial view of a frothy wave viewed from the foremast in "Scud." Slim geometrical planes in the rigging are important foils for sharp rays of intense light and rhythmic motion.

More humanistically oriented are Stoll's clear, clean black-and-white etchings in which closely drawn parallel lines create vertical and diagonal planes which focus on men performing tasks as if he — Stoll — were seeing them from an overhead, bird's-eye view.

A related sequence of events is recorded in the brooding "West of Magellan," which depicts a rising gale, and in "Made All Sail," "Took in Jibs," "Took in Upper Top'sls," and "One a.m. — Clearing Eye of the Storm."

"Bullfight in Caracus, and etching in terra cotta tones shows yet another kind of vigorous activity which engaged Stoll's lively interest.

Scrimshaw engravings on ivory become popular in the 19th century with whalers who carved and etched motifs on whales' teeth. Later, elephant and walrus tusks were also used.

The Bowens hail from Gloucester, Mass., one of the first whaling areas in the country. Peter Bowen's nautical and whaling scenes are historical pieces since whales have become one of the endangered species. Martha Bowen's unusual necklaces, desk pieces, and miniature jewelry boxes are of elephant and walrus ivory. A tiny, one-inch high vase is amusingly inscribed with whales, birds, mushrooms, and shields.

Marianne Fletcher's jewelry and miniature treasure boxes in exotic woods, ivory, and hand-wrought sterling silver are scrimshawed by her son Eric, in free-hand designs — landscapes, insects, sailing vessels and floral scenes.

Sometimes called the "president of the Pacific Ocean," Spike Africa set sail on a five-masted schooner more than 50 years ago, and has been tying knots — macrame — ever since. Among his display are "yacht-nips" — ostensibly bell-pulls attached to clappers of ships' bells; but since the macrame covers miniature bottles, the origin of the name might well describe some foregoing activity.

Artifacts of interest in the permanet collection at Scrimshaw include a ship's figurehead, a scale model English vessel of the 1700s, an authentic brass and copper ship's lantern, a functional pot-belly wood stove, an authentic cannon which will be used on a restored ship in San Francisco's Maritime Museum, and Eskimo carvings in ivory and soapstone from the King Islands' culture in the Aleutian chain.

The Scrimshaw is located on the second floor at 759 Bridgeway, and is open every day from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. The show will continue through June 30.

UAW President's Views On Solving Nagging Issue

CARMEL (UPI) — Improving "work" as an occupation for mankind will take cooperation between labor and management, Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers Union said yesterday.

In remarks prepared for a conference on "The Changing World of Work," Woodcock criticized employers for seeking only profits.

"Workers have also constantly had to resist management's attempts to increase the work pace, an attempt that if successful would, among other things, guarantee shoddy workmanship," said Woodcock.

"The lack of recognition of labor's long-standing efforts and contributions to hard-won progress in changing the world of work is keenly felt, but we persevere nonetheless," he said.

"Any realistic approach must give due attention to an age-old employee point of view that sees work as an unpleasant necessity," the UAW chief told the assembly.

A WARNING IS GIVEN ON CLAMS

Noting that others might not be as familiar with the horseneck clam as the Burroughs family, which lives in the area, health specialist Clifford A. Sharpe said persons taking the clams during the summer months should be sure to throw away the dark meat, where poison from the "red tide" is concentrated.

On the other hand mussels are forbidden during the summer quarantine because the poison is distributed throughout their flesh.

Booze Said Often Tied To Violence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 1973 federal study has shown that alcohol drinkers are more likely to commit violent crimes than marijuana smokers, it was reported yesterday.

The study, conducted in Jamaica for the federal government by a private research firm, was hardly publicized after reporting its findings.

The report on the study was carried in the San Francisco Examiner.

"The alochol intakers are more likely to have abusive behavior," said Dr. Vera Rubin of the Research Institute for the Study of Man in New York City, commenting on the findings. "The marijuana smokers drink less and are more peaceful."

The study involved tests of 30 marijuana smokers and 30 nonsmokers.

It found no physical or psychological damage from chronic marijuana use, the newspaper said.

The report said that in Jamaica marijuana is a part of the culture and is smoked to improve work habits, clear heads and provide quick energy.

Only 50 copies of the $158,105 study were ever printed, the Examiner said.

"The decision to hold a press conference is not a scientific one," Karst Besteman of the National Institute of Mental Health in Rockville, Md., told the Examiner.

"It would have served the usefulness of politicians' positions if the study had shown striking negative outcome."

ACT Plays Drew Record Numbers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Playgoers in San Francisco turned out in record numbers for the nine productions put on by the American Conservatory Theater during its 1973-74 season.

The 31 weeks of 254 performances drew 263,237 persons, an increase of 26,526 over the prior season, an ACT spokesman said yesterday.

Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" drew the largest audience, 52,962 persons. Next in attendance was Moliere's "The Miser," which attracted a crowd of 30,544 persons.

SIGNS, SIGNS, SIGNS

The stuff of politics has produced these bumper crops of signs on Novato soil. Those flowering above are at Diablo Avenue and South Novato Boulevard, those below at Novato Boulevard and Seventh Street. Most tend to fade away after election, but some have been known to last and last and last.

Raw Resources Fear Expressed

CARMEL (UPI) — Louis B. Lundborg, retired board chairman of the Bank of America, said today that the world's largest exponential rate of industrial growth can no longer be sustained.

Essential, nonrenewable raw materials are disappearing worldwide, and eventually will be exhausted, he told top leaders at the invitational Western Assembly on the Changing World of Work.

Demand for scarce resources will be intensified by expanding population, he said, and even if a replacement rate of 2.25 births per family could be achieved tomorrow, total U.S. population would not stop increasing until reaching 40 per cent of the present level.

He said the experts figure that the earliest reasonable hope for stabilized world population would be in the middle of the next century. Then, he said, it should be about 16 million.

With limited growth, Lundborg said people will fear loss of jobs, narrowing of career opportunities, cutbacks in luxuries and a shock to the investment community which now equates "performance" with growth.

But Lundborg foresaw silver linings in the clouds. The new environment, he said, may bring increased job satisfaction for workers as people take pride in repair and maintenance. He predicted a great employment shift to service industries.

Two obvious roads are open on the path to limited growth, Lundborg said, and neither are without hazards. He said:

"We can decide that the worst of the consequences of our present course—including its ultimate collapse or paralysis—are so far off that it won't affect us, so—to hell with it. We'll enjoy what we have while we have it, and let some later generation worry about what comes next.

"Or we can start now to plan and to take the steps that would be needed to implement any plan."

Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, told the Assembly last night that too many employers seek only profit.

Delays Tape Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica has delayed until next week release of a final report by technical experts of their findings on what caused erasure of 18-½ minutes from one of President Nixon's Watergate tapes.

Sacramento Eyes New Fuel Idea

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Sacramento city and county officials are mulling over the idea of converting human wastes into an efficient source of power to run government vehicles.

Such a plan is receiving serious consideration by officials and designers of a proposed regional sanitation plan which could convert raw sewage into methane gas, a chemical substance which can be converted to a combustible liquid fuel called methanol.

Brian Richter, county public works director, was encouraged at the possibility of the city and county becoming its own producer and distributor of fuel.

He said a methanol-powered fleet could put an end to local government's reliance on oil companies for its fuel.

D.L. Eisenhauer of Sacramento Area Consultants said that two-thirds of the regional plants methane gas could be converted to 15,000 gallons of methanol daily or about 7,500 gallons of fuel, enough to supply both the city and county needs.

Push For Air Bags By 1977 Continues

DETROIT (UPI) — Nine insurance companies and two insurance industry trade associations representing more than 200 companies have urged the government not to back off on its proposal to require air bags on all 1977-model cars.

It is the strongest support the Department of Transportation has received since setting a new date in April for the installation of the passive restraint system to protect front-seat occupants. The original safety standard called for air bags to remain as an option are expected Monday. General Motors Corp. currently is the only company offering the passive restraint system that doesn't require any action on the part of the driver or passengers as a $225 option.

"The passive system offers the best potential for preventing crashes, deaths and injuries, mainly because larger numbers of drivers fail to wear the lap and shoulder belts, even in cars equipped with the new interlock systems," said the American Mutual Insurance Alliance.

The insurance industry comments reported by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety cautioned against any further delay in providing the crash protection. The auto industry, which won its original delay through court action, still wants passive restraints to remain an option.

GM's position is expected to remain virtually unchanged from March when Ernest S. Starkman, vice president for environmental activities, told a Senate committee more studies must be conducted.

"GM believes that air cushions should be optional for those who do not want to fasten belts, and that lap and shoulder belts should be available for those who desire the maximum protection at the least cost," said Starkman.

Orange Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumers can expect a sharp increase in orange prices beginning late this year, an Agriculture Department report said today.

Residents Of Davis Warned On Recycling

DAVIS (UPI) — The City of Davis will charge citizens additional fees effective July 1 if they don't separate newspapers from other household garbage for recycling purposes, officials said today.

"The ordinance makes it a matter of public policy that the City of Davis supports the recycling of newspapers," said City Mgr. Howard Reese.

"If a householder mingles newspapers with other refuse three or more times in any three-month period, then the city will assume that this person has chosen a different level of garbage service," Reese said.

"And the city will charge this person one and a half times the standard rate," he added.

The charge now for once a week curbside garbage pickup for a single family residence is $4 a month.

Reese said that the ordinance applies not only to single family homes but to all residences, businesses and industries which use the city garbage service.

It requires that discarded newspapers be placed at the curb separated from other household garbage, either tied or weighted.

"I wouldn't want to bet that we're the first city to try this," said Reese. "But I haven't seen any literature about using the approach of charging higher fees to those who don't separate newspapers from other refuse."

Reese said the private firm which contracts with the city for garbage pickup will sell the separated newspapers to a recycling firm in nearby Sacramento.

SIGNS, SIGNS, SIGNS

The stuff of politics has produced these bumper crops of signs on Novato soil. Those flowering above are at Diablo Avenue and South Novato Boulevard, those below at Novato Boulevard and Seventh Street. Most tend to fade away after election, but some have been known to last and last and last.

Raw Resources Fear Expressed

CARMEL (UPI) — Louis B. Lundborg, retired board chairman of the Bank of America, said today that the world's largest exponential rate of industrial growth can no longer be sustained.

Essential, nonrenewable raw materials are disappearing worldwide, and eventually will be exhausted, he told top leaders at the invitational Western Assembly on the Changing World of Work.

Demand for scarce resources will be intensified by expanding population, he said, and even if a replacement rate of 2.25 births per family could be achieved tomorrow, total U.S. population would not stop increasing until reaching 40 per cent of the present level.

He said the experts figure that the earliest reasonable hope for stabilized world population would be in the middle of the next century. Then, he said, it should be about 16 million.

With limited growth, Lundborg said people will fear loss of jobs, narrowing of career opportunities, cutbacks in luxuries and a shock to the investment community which now equates "performance" with growth.

But Lundborg foresaw silver linings in the clouds. The new environment, he said, may bring increased job satisfaction for workers as people take pride in repair and maintenance. He predicted a great employment shift to service industries.

Two obvious roads are open on the path to limited growth, Lundborg said, and neither are without hazards. He said:

"We can decide that the worst of the consequences of our present course—including its ultimate collapse or paralysis—are so far off that it won't affect us, so—to hell with it. We'll enjoy what we have while we have it, and let some later generation worry about what comes next.

"Or we can start now to plan and to take the steps that would be needed to implement any plan."

Delays Tape Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica has delayed until next week release of a final report by technical experts of their findings on what caused erasure of 18-½ minutes from one of President Nixon's Watergate tapes.

Sacramento Eyes New Fuel Idea

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Sacramento city and county officials are mulling over the idea of converting human wastes into an efficient source of power to run government vehicles.

Such a plan is receiving serious consideration by officials and designers of a proposed regional sanitation plan which could convert raw sewage into methane gas, a chemical substance which can be converted to a combustible liquid fuel called methanol.

Brian Richter, county public works director, was encouraged at the possibility of the city and county becoming its own producer and distributor of fuel.

He said a methanol-powered fleet could put an end to local government's reliance on oil companies for its fuel.

D.L. Eisenhauer of Sacramento Area Consultants said that two-thirds of the regional plants methane gas could be converted to 15,000 gallons of methanol daily or about 7,500 gallons of fuel, enough to supply both the city and county needs.

Push For Air Bags By 1977 Continues

DETROIT (UPI) — Nine insurance companies and two insurance industry trade associations representing more than 200 companies have urged the government not to back off on its proposal to require air bags on all 1977-model cars.

It is the strongest support the Department of Transportation has received since setting a new date in April for the installation of the passive restraint system to protect front-seat occupants. The original safety standard called for air bags to remain as an option are expected Monday. General Motors Corp. currently is the only company offering the passive restraint system that doesn't require any action on the part of the driver or passengers as a $225 option.

"The passive system offers the best potential for preventing crashes, deaths and injuries, mainly because larger numbers of drivers fail to wear the lap and shoulder belts, even in cars equipped with the new interlock systems," said the American Mutual Insurance Alliance.

The insurance industry comments reported by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety cautioned against any further delay in providing the crash protection. The auto industry, which won its original delay through court action, still wants passive restraints to remain an option.

GM's position is expected to remain virtually unchanged from March when Ernest S. Starkman, vice president for environmental activities, told a Senate committee more studies must be conducted.

"GM believes that air cushions should be optional for those who do not want to fasten belts, and that lap and shoulder belts should be available for those who desire the maximum protection at the least cost," said Starkman.

Orange Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumers can expect a sharp increase in orange prices beginning late this year, an Agriculture Department report said today.

Residents Of Davis Warned On Recycling

DAVIS (UPI) — The City of Davis will charge citizens additional fees effective July 1 if they don't separate newspapers from other household garbage for recycling purposes, officials said today.

"The ordinance makes it a matter of public policy that the City of Davis supports the recycling of newspapers," said City Mgr. Howard Reese.

"If a householder mingles newspapers with other refuse three or more times in any three-month period, then the city will assume that this person has chosen a different level of garbage service," Reese said.

"And the city will charge this person one and a half times the standard rate," he added.

The charge now for once a week curbside garbage pickup for a single family residence is $4 a month.

Reese said that the ordinance applies not only to single family homes but to all residences, businesses and industries which use the city garbage service.

It requires that discarded newspapers be placed at the curb separated from other household garbage, either tied or weighted.

"I wouldn't want to bet that we're the first city to try this," said Reese. "But I haven't seen any literature about using the approach of charging higher fees to those who don't separate newspapers from other refuse."

Reese said the private firm which contracts with the city for garbage pickup will sell the separated newspapers to a recycling firm in nearby Sacramento.

HARRY MOORE ASSEMBLY

Always a LEADER, never one to sit back and let someone else do the job, MOORE WON the Democratic Primary in 1972.

Harry is the only candidate to win in a County-wide election, Marin College Board, 1967.

Harry campaigned for political reform two years ago and supports Prop. 9 now.

Harry was Marin co-chairman for Citizens Against Prop. 1 and continues to seek property tax reform.

He was co-chairman for the 1973 North Marin Water Bond, which won by 78%. He asked the Novato City Council, not the water board, for a growth limit policy.

AT GLENWOOD SCHOOL

Students Turn On To Education

By FRANK FARRARA

The buzzer ending the next-to-last period sounded yesterday at Glenwood School in San Rafael and some pupils didn't even notice it.

They were engrossed in pounding clay, shaping pots, fashioning macrame holders for hanging pots and getting tips from Principal James E. McCurdy.

The group was one of a score dispersed throughout the school and grounds following their special interests, ranging from chess to marsh study.

Beneath the school flagpole, groundsman Russ McCarroll and a group of about six pupils were planting flowers. "They get a terrific kick out of flowers," McCarroll said.

A boy walking by asked: "Hey, Russ can I pick a flower?" and one of the pupils replied "Not out of here."

As the pupils gathered around him, McCarroll explained, "We learned that the last group planted wrong, so we learned how to prepare the ground."

A girl noted that now "we put them down as far as they're supposed to go down," and a boy tamped the earth around a newly planted marigold.

Inside a classroom, Gary Fishel of the Fishel School of Music, was at an upright piano playing tunes written by first and second graders.

Six-year-old Aaron Winokur of 304 Knight Drive, who listened attentively as his tune was played, described songwriting as "neat."

"You should hear mine," said 7-year-old Shari Bergeret of 16 Maplewood Drive, who was finishing her four measures on music paper, the last part of the final test.

After it was played a reporter asked: "Did you know what it would sound like when you wrote it?"

"No," she said.

"They know what the notes are," Fishel said. "Let's sing bingo" he said to the class and it did, withou missing a word and clapping in the right places. "They can tell me the names of the notes they were singing," he said.

A few classrooms away the rhythm was from the pounding of nails in the string design class where Monica Kohn, 11, of 34 Brentwood Drive was making faces because her nail bent under hammering.

Pupils drove nails in geometric shapes and then strung them in varied ways, with colored string, amid some giggling and some concentrated tongue biting while at work.

"That's a peacock's eyes," Terri Spooner, 9, of 98 Rollingwood Drive, explained to a reporter gazing at an unusual string design.

In an adjoining building, a group of pupils in the "Magic in the Kitchen" course (cooking) were in the midst of making doughnuts.

"We made pizza last week," said Gary O'Brien of 42 Rollingwood Drive. "The best part is the eating," a girl commented.

Elsewhere pupils were engaged in puppetry, crocheting, painting, yoga, nature study, and learning Italian and other of the 21 courses offered.

The project which carries the title of "curriculum enrichment program" amounts to giving elementary pupils a chance to take an elective course.

Since last fall pupils have been attending courses of their choice for one period on Thursdays, with a chance to switch classes every six weeks.

"The idea behind the program is to expand areas of learning for children and to share the talents within the adult community," according to Margie Becker, coordinator.

The "faculty" for the program includes school staff, parents and persons from the community, and "we have 45 volunteers putting this on," Mrs. Becker said.

One benefit is that if there is a teacher "who is really good at one thing," the whole school benefits from exposure to those talents, she said.

"Funding for supplies comes from the Parent-Teacher Association," she said.

Pupils yesterday described it as "pretty good," "neat" and "all right," and Patsy Bleeker, parent coordinator, said her son gained an interest in music and "started a rock collection" since the courses started.

CREATING — Learning the fine art of crocheting takes a whole lot of concentration. Here Dawn deBishop, 6, (left) and Darcy Dickey, 5, work to create yarn designs on burlap.

Look-Alike Home Gets Council Nod

Can a man get the city council to tell another man not to build a house that looks too much like his own home?

The Tiburon City Council firmly said "no" to the question last night with Councilman Allan N. Littman adding, "I have never heard of such an objection."

Donald Rosenberg, who lives on Tiburon Boulevard, objected to a house planned for 967 Tiburon Boulevard. Rosenberg said he had lived in Terra Linda for a number of years before moving to Tiburon and that he feared his new neighborhood also would take on the sameness of a tract development if the new house were allowed.

"We're getting on tenuous ground" if the city council were to heed Rosenberg's plea and consider whether the houses were too similar. (Plans posted during the meeting indicated some similarities but not identical houses.)

After some discussion, the council turned Rosenberg down.

The Tiburon City Council also:

GARBAGE — Granted compromise rate increases effective July 1 to the Mill Valley Refuse Co. ranging from 5 to 15 per cent. The company is to provide some free citywide pickups.

PARKING — Designated the west side of Jefferson Drive between Tiburon Boulevard and Washington Court as a no parking zone.

MINIPARK — Approved having the mayor enter into a contract with Jay Beckwith for design of the Belveron Minipark, to be completed partially with volunteer labor. The design is to cost $500.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 10 a.m. Saturday for a workshop on the 1974-75 city budget.

Sparks Fly In Discussion Of Novato Plan Revisions

By FRANK FARRARA

A series of skirmishes over proposed revisions to the Novato general plan erupted last night into a charge that some councilmen were attempting to "shoot down" the plan.

In the end, however, the plan stood largely unchanged despite some close votes. Policy favoring low-cost and moderate-cost housing survived long debate and council intent to encourage housing for the elderly, "where appropriate," was stated.

Late in the long session Michael W. Sweeley of 52 Santa Maria Drive, said "I want to see members of the council say what is really intended."

Zeroing in on Councilman Fred F. Ruegg, Sweeley said "We know who financed Ruegg's campaign. I think this is an attempt to allow any type of development in Novato."

An angry Ruegg replied, "You're dead wrong." He said that since elected he has "never once been asked by anyone to do any one single thing. I vote my conscience."

Ruegg said it wasn't his intent to permit any type of development. "I resent your saying I am, in effect, dishonest."

At issue at the time was a proposal, favored by Ruegg, to eliminate single-family detached homes from the policy against exceeding the middle point of allowable density unless "it will promote the goals and policies of the city."

(For example if three to five units were permitted on a parcel the middle point would be 3.5 units).

Ruegg said the change would be in line with encouraging the city's policy to encourage single-family detached homes, while opponents said it would create greater housing density.

The proposed revision was defeated by a 3-2 vote, with Ruegg and Dorothy P. Young favoring it.

There were sparks earlier when the council considered applying its policy of limiting growth to 500 dwelling units a year to the city alone, not to the entire planning area including unincorporated lands.

Robert Burke, president of the North Marin Federation of Homeowners, said, "I believe the majority of the council is trying to destroy this policy without coming out and saying so."

The council eventually agreed to retain the policy that the growth limit apply to the entire planning area with the stipulation it "will be implemented only if mutual agreement is completed between the city and the county."

At the outset, Councilman David E. Milano's role was questioned on voting in a matter related to property held by William and Billie Garl.

Joseph Seminario of 8 Anton Way, Black Point, asked whether there was a "moral and ethical question involved," since Milano's daughter is married to the Garls' son.

Milano said he didn't know what connection his son-in-law had with the property and "I feel I have no conflict of interest now." City Atty. Clark M. Palmer concurred.

Councilmen passed a resolution of intention to permit senior citizen residences by use permit in appropriate districts, a use planned by the Garls on four acres on the west side of Tamalpais Avenue, south of Warner Creek. Gail Wilhelm dissented.

Billie Garl said her son had no interest in the property.

The council voted 3-3 to increase the density designation in the plan on the Garl parcel from 1 to 5 units an acre to 12 to 20 units an acre. Jones and Wilhelm dissented.

Developer Edward T. Ghirardo said the plan is for 100 to 120 small housing units for the elderly on the site.

The long debate over low and moderate income housing was resumed as the council delved into the plan's housing element. Betty Moody of the Ecumenical Housing Association of Marin and Ellen Wagner of the League of Women Voters were in the forefront of those supporting the element as written.

Patterson urged further study to determine the need for such housing, who would occupy it and "what it would do to our town."

The council voted 4-1, with Ruegg dissenting, to retain the policy to "encourage some studio, one-bedroom, family size and larger units in new apartment developments."

Ruegg also proposed deleting "appropriate family housing development" and expansion of leased housing from the policy encouraging the Marin Housing Authority to construct housing in Novato. Ruegg wanted only senior citizen housing encouraged.

The council unanimously changed a policy that it assure sufficient student housing to meet the needs of Indian Valley Colleges to one that it would work with Indian Valley to anticipate housing problems that might develop.

The council adjourned to a special meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the Novato Community House to continue revisions of the general plan and possibly budget review.

The council started review of the preliminary $4,169,685 budget yesterday afternoon with an explanation of the format by Rodney Brown, assistant to the city manager. Ruegg gave notice he will sharply question the 16 new jobs proposed in the budget.

The council's next regular session will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday and another budget session is scheduled at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Bridge District Budget Rises To $15.5 Million

A $15.5 million budget next fiscal year was proposed yesterday for the ferry division of the Golden Gate Bridge District.

The first of three new $4 million ferries originally was supposed to start service tomorrow, but construction of both the vessels and terminals in Sausalito, Larkspur and San Francisco has been delayed.

As a result, the proposed budget includes $185,500 to lay up two of the new ferries and the present Sausalito ferry during the fiscal year beginning July 1. One new ferry will be in service.

The proposed budget is up $1.2 million over this year's, but most comparisons are meaningless since much of the work budgeted in the current year was delayed to next year.

The operating budget was figured at $1.6 million, up almost $300,000 over the current year. The capital budget of $13.6 million, roughly the same as this year, will be offset by almost $9.1 million in federal grants.

The capital budget includes $4.5 million for ferries, $916,000 to buy land and $7 million to build terminals.

The biggest items in the operating budget are $258,100 for fuel, up almost six times from this year's budget of $44,800, and $104,000 for marine insurance, up from $35,000. Ferry Transit Mgr. Stanley M. Kowleski said the fuel cost increased because of higher prices and greater fuel consumption by the new ferries.

The operating budget also includes $629,800 for 34 division employees, plus $149,500 for districtwide overhead.

Kowleski estimated revenue from 1.2 million passengers at $795,600 up from an estimated $669,400 this fiscal year from 1.1 million riders. Revenue will go up by $138,900 if the board approves a pending proposal to eliminate the 25-cent discount on books of tickets.

The budget was reviewed without action by the finance-auditing committee, pending staff completion of the bus division budget.

The council voted 3-3 to increase the density designation in the plan on the Garl parcel from 1 to 5 units an acre to 12 to 20 units an acre. Jones and Wilhelm dissented.

Developer Edward T. Ghirardo said the plan is for 100 to 120 small housing units for the elderly on the site.

The long debate over low and moderate income housing was resumed as the council delved into the plan's housing element. Betty Moody of the Ecumenical Housing Association of Marin and Ellen Wagner of the League of Women Voters were in the forefront of those supporting the element as written.

Patterson urged further study to determine the need for such housing, who would occupy it and "what it would do to our town."

The council voted 4-1, with Ruegg dissenting, to retain the policy to "encourage some studio, one-bedroom, family size and larger units in new apartment developments."

Ruegg also proposed deleting "appropriate family housing development" and expansion of leased housing from the policy encouraging the Marin Housing Authority to construct housing in Novato. Ruegg wanted only senior citizen housing encouraged.

The council unanimously changed a policy that it assure sufficient student housing to meet the needs of Indian Valley Colleges to one that it would work with Indian Valley to anticipate housing problems that might develop.

The council adjourned to a special meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the Novato Community House to continue revisions of the general plan and possibly budget review.

The council started review of the preliminary $4,169,685 budget yesterday afternoon with an explanation of the format by Rodney Brown, assistant to the city manager. Ruegg gave notice he will sharply question the 16 new jobs proposed in the budget.

The council's next regular session will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday and another budget session is scheduled at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Bridge District Budget Rises To $15.5 Million

A $15.5 million budget next fiscal year was proposed yesterday for the ferry division of the Golden Gate Bridge District.

The first of three new $4 million ferries originally was supposed to start service tomorrow, but construction of both the vessels and terminals in Sausalito, Larkspur and San Francisco has been delayed.

As a result, the proposed budget includes $185,500 to lay up two of the new ferries and the present Sausalito ferry during the fiscal year beginning July 1. One new ferry will be in service.

The proposed budget is up $1.2 million over this year's, but most comparisons are meaningless since much of the work budgeted in the current year was delayed to next year.

The operating budget was figured at $1.6 million, up almost $300,000 over the current year. The capital budget of $13.6 million, roughly the same as this year, will be offset by almost $9.1 million in federal grants.

The capital budget includes $4.5 million for ferries, $916,000 to buy land and $7 million to build terminals.

The biggest items in the operating budget are $258,100 for fuel, up almost six times from this year's budget of $44,800, and $104,000 for marine insurance, up from $35,000. Ferry Transit Mgr. Stanley M. Kowleski said the fuel cost increased because of higher prices and greater fuel consumption by the new ferries.

The operating budget also includes $629,800 for 34 division employees, plus $149,500 for districtwide overhead.

Kowleski estimated revenue from 1.2 million passengers at $795,600 up from an estimated $669,400 this fiscal year from 1.1 million riders. Revenue will go up by $138,900 if the board approves a pending proposal to eliminate the 25-cent discount on books of tickets.

The budget was reviewed without action by the finance-auditing committee, pending staff completion of the bus division budget.

BOYD HOUSE RESTORATION

An architectural rendering of the Boyd House on B Street by Milton W. Chambers details the structure as it appeared in 1880. The City of San Rafael, which has budgeted $50,000 to restore the mansion to original condition, will call for bids on the work at 10 a.m. June 12. The structure, with its pointed, arched windows, open lace work and bracketed cornices, has been hailed as one of the best examples of Gothic Revival architecture in the western U.S.

Report Shows Poor May Not Gain Big Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gains by poor people under the latest Nixon administration budget may not be as big as first thought, according to three Brookings Institution economists.

Increasingly burdensome taxes are wiping out recent advances in federal spending for social security, Medicare, food stamps, and other programs aimed at helping aged and low-income Americans, the economists said.

The analysis was part of an annual review of government fiscal policy published today by Brookings, a respected private research organization headquartered in Washington.

The study notes that in fiscal year 1975, which begins July 1, the administration has earmarked $98.2 billion for "cash income maintenance." This is a full 32 per cent of the $304 billion that the government plans to spend during the next 12 months and is a much higher percentage for such programs than in recent years.

Government money for "essentials" such as medical care, food, housing and education programs has swollen to $33 billion, or 11 per cent of the total '75 budget, also a bigger slice of the pie than in earlier spending programs.

But these gains are, in part, offset by a tax system that the Brookings study says is increasingly regressive —meaning that low-income people are carrying a heavier share of the tax burden relative to their incomes.

For example, after examining all sources of government revenue, the Brookings group concluded that "social insurance (security) taxes that weigh relatively heavily on low-income people are growing the most."

Moretti Denies Casting Fee Votes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti has charged that Democratic gubernatorial rival Edmund Brown Jr. has deliberately misrepresented the lawmaker's record on student tuition.

The Van Nuys Democrat yesterday cited Brown's charge in a debate May 23 that Moretti in 1971 on three occasions voted in favor of University of California student fee increases as a member of the UC regents. Moretti denied it.

Later, Brown issued a statement insisting that on Jan. 22, 1971, the regents' minutes showed he was present and "not recorded in opposition" to a fee increase at UC-San Francisco.

Brown alleged that on Feb. 19, 1971, Moretti attended a regents meeting and didn't vote against another fee increase. He also said Moretti on Oct. 19, 1971, failed to vote against "a move to spend more student fees for capital improvements and less for instructional support."

Moretti issued a statement yesterday saying the minutes for the Jan. 22 meeting reveal "there was not even a record of a fee increase being discussed or voted on."

Moretti said he was not present at the Feb. 19 meeting due to legislative business and reported that the regents did not hold a meeting on Oct. 19.

The Assembly speaker said there was a Nov. 19, 1971, regents meeting which he attended and voted for passage of a motion that instead of proposing fee increases recommended $1.6 million be spent for student aid, especially for medical and dental students. He said the measure was adopted on a roll call vote.

grows through both decks of this hillside hideaway. Sweeping views thru walls of glass, tall ceilings, mellow woods. Just four rooms, but a great feeling of space, enhanced by two huge decks for private outdoor living. And then: elsewhere on the big wooded lot, remote from the house and everything else there's a well built one bedroom cottage with a good kitchen and bath and a sunny private view deck. It's all included at $59,950. 868-0882 evenings.

She Didn't Like Male Cellmate

KENT, Wash. (UPI) — Cecilia Dunn, 24, sued police for $40,000 yesterday because officers lodged a male prisoner in her cell.

Mrs. Dunn said she was asleep in the cell Feb. 3 when the man was locked up with her. This, she said in her lawsuit, constituted an invasion of privacy.

Her lawyer said the man did not harm his client but he was "pretty obnoxious."

Both the plaintiff and the man had been arrested on traffic charges.

She Didn't Like Male Cellmate

Mrs. Dunn said she was asleep in the cell Feb. 3 when the man was locked up with her. This, she said in her lawsuit, constituted an invasion of privacy.

Her lawyer said the man did not harm his client but he was "pretty obnoxious."

Both the plaintiff and the man had been arrested on traffic charges.

Director, Star Of 'Billy Jack' Fighting Network

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tom Laughlin, who wrote, produced, directed and starred in the movie "Billy Jack," Thursday accused ABC-TV of plagiarizing the movie for a fall series because the network could not make a deal with him.

Warner Bros., which owns distribution rights to "Billy Jack," filed suit in U.S. District Court yesterday asking for an injunction against the network, preventing it from broadcasting a planned fall series titled "Naikia."

Warner Bros. said the series is a spinoff of an ABC television movie of the same name broadcast in April. The suit included an affidavit from Laughlin saying the ABC movie contains 43 incidents that are exactly the same as incidents in his movie, nine identical characters and 10 similarities in settings.

He said that earlier he turned down a $4 million offer from ABC for the rights to "Billy Jack" as a movie and series.

Bill Asks Repair Of Auto Defects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bill has been approved by the House Commerce Committee to require car manufacturers to pay for repair of vehicles with safety-related defects.

Guitarists Get Break On Radio

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Guitarists tend to be a picky lot, but a magazine specifically written for them has been trying of late to strum up some business with a unique radio approach.

Ernest Beyl, a spokesman for Guitar Player Magazine, says the approach consists of 13 half-hour taped programs that illustrate differing guitar styles as played by the greats of the instrument.

Alas, this plectrum forum isn't heard on commercial radio. Beyl says it's only been heard on about 50 selected campus radio stations and wasn't really intended as a commercial radio program.

In fact, he says the stations got the programs free simply by asking for them.

He said the idea was to interest college-area guitarists in subscribing to the magazine by offering them a taste of what the professionals are doing, accompanied by a soft-sell pitch for GPM.

"So we started hunting for suitable colleges that had radio stations with a loose enough format to accommodate something like that," he said, adding that the shows began airing about six months ago.

Beyl, whose publication is based in Los Gatos, south of San Francisco, said the musical commentator on the series is Jim Crockett, editor of the seven-year-old magazine.

Beyl said the programs feature selections from albums by such varied virtuosos as Jose Feliciano, the late Charlie Christian, Eric Clapton, T-Bone Walker and classicist Christopher Parkening.

In addition he said each show has a five-minute interview on the state of the art with well-known guitarists, people like Les Paul, jazzman Barney Kessel and bluesman Doc Watson.

None of the interviewees plug new albums or current engagements at nearby bistros "because that would date the shows and we want them to be timeless, so to speak," Beyl says.

He said the entire package cost about $3,500 to put together, including tape publication and mailing costs. But none of the guitarists interviewed asked for or received any fees.

Only Campaign Deficit Gifts

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — State Sen. Betty Roberts, who came in a strong second in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor, doesn't want any flowers when she enters the hospital this week for surgery.

"I would rather they send a comparable contribution to my favorite charity — my campaign deficit," she said.

C. In the area between line A and line A-1 on the attached map there shall be no military forces.

D. This agreement and the attached map will be signed by the military representatives of Israel and Syria in Geneva not later than May 31, 1974, in the Egyptian-Israeli military working group of the Geneva peace conference under aegis of the United Nations, after that group has been joined by a Syrian military representative and with the participation of representatives of the United States and the Soviet Union.

The precise delineation of a detailed map and a plan for the implementation of the disengagement of forces will be worked out by military representatives of Israel and Syria in the Egyptian-Israeli military working group who will agree on the stages of this process. The military working group described above will start their work for this purpose in Geneva under the aegis of the United Nations within 24 hours after the signing of this agreement. They will complete this task within five days. Disengagement will begin within 24 hours after the completion of the task of the military working group. The process of disengagement will be completed not later than 20 days after it begins.

E. The provisions of paragraphs A, B and C of the United Nations comprising the United Nations Disengagement Observer Force under this agreement.

F. Within 24 hours after the signing of this agreement in Geneva all wounded prisoners of war which each side holds of the other as certified by the ICRC will be repatriated. The morning after the completion of the task of the military working group, all remaining prisoners of war will be repatriated.

G. The bodies of all dead soldiers held by either side will be returned for burial in their respective countries within 10 days after the signing of this agreement.

H. This agreement is not a peace agreement. It is a step toward a just and durable peace on the basis of Security Council resolution 338 dated Oct. 22, 1973.

Police Team Concludes Run Across Nation

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Police Department's 13-man cross country team loped up to city hall yesterday to claim a record in a run from Washington D.C.

The 3,867.6-mile run was completed in 21 days, 6 hours and 45 minutes.

The policemen ran in relays and rested in a motor home which traveled with them.

They experienced all kinds of weather, freezing temperatures and desert heat, high and low altitudes. A motorcycle drill team greeted them four miles from city hall and gave them an escort the rest of the way.

New Can Price

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Aluminum Company of America (Alcoa) yesterday announced it will increase from 10 cents a pound to 15 cents a pound the price it pays for aluminum beverage containers returned to its collection centers as scrap. The increase is effective June 3.

Singer Cat Stevens Has Unusual Aussie Greeting

SYDNEY (UPI) — Singer-songwriter Cat Stevens was stripped naked by Sydney Airport custom officers when he arrived here yesterday from Honolulu for an Australian concert tour.

The authorities found nothing on Stevens or in his luggage. But following a two-hour search a member of his 26-man troupe, Edward Allen Gold, 21, of North Ogden Drive, Los Angeles, later was charged with possessing and importing a small quantity of marijuana and hashish.

At his hotel Stevens told newsmen "they went through everything I had but the only thing they found were my virility pills.

"I was pretty tired and I wasn't really ennoyed. They were only doing their job.

"There has been a bit of trouble with groups and drugs, so I suppose they had to make a thorough search.

CAT STEVENS
A thorough check

"The narcotics people gave me a body check.

"They went through everything in my four cases and it was two hours before I got out of there," Stevens said.

"It was a bit of a surprise as it doesn't happen to us in other countries we go to."

Asked what a body-search actually meant, Stevens replied: "Nothing really. They just kind of view you."

Stevens said he would give all the profits, less expenses, from his two-week Australian tour to charity — about $300,000. He did not name the charity, saying the decision was still to be made.

The 26-year-old son of a Greek father and Swedish mother — real name Stephanio Georgiou Stevnes lives in London.

"I hope after this tour to start a musical commune for orphans and children in Greece," he said.

"I have some land there and I want to give people the chance to learn music."

Gold, described as a lighting technician and Stevens' bodyguard, was remanded on $300 bail to June 13.

A lawyer for Gold said in the special federal court Gold did not know the drugs were in his luggage and he intended to plead innocent.

Auto Service Includes Removal Of Bird Nest

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (UPI) — Larry Lamb took his new car in for a routine check this week — you know, change the oil, check the filters, remove the bird's nest and eggs from the manifold.

Actually, removal of the sparrow's nest and two small, speckled eggs wasn't on the routine maintenance list for the compact German import. But it became necessary when mechanic Michael Williams noticed sticks of straw and grass near the carburetor on the engine's manifold.

"I just started pulling the stuff out of there," Williams said. "It was hard to get at. I didn't even know there were eggs in there."

There were eggs, though — thoroughly baked from engine heat.

Lamb and Williams are scratching their heads about how the nest got on the manifold. Lamb says he has only had the car a short time and doesn't think he left it in any one place long enough for a bird to take up residence.

Williams said it's possible the car was shipped from Germany with the nest already in place.

Director, Star Of 'Billy Jack' Fighting Network

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tom Laughlin, who wrote, produced, directed and starred in the movie "Billy Jack," Thursday accused ABC-TV of plagiarizing the movie for a fall series because the network could not make a deal with him.

Warner Bros., which owns distribution rights to "Billy Jack," filed suit in U.S. District Court yesterday asking for an injunction against the network, preventing it from broadcasting a planned fall series titled "Naikia."

Warner Bros. said the series is a spinoff of an ABC television movie of the same name broadcast in April. The suit included an affidavit from Laughlin saying the ABC movie contains 43 incidents that are exactly the same as incidents in his movie, nine identical characters and 10 similarities in settings.

He said that earlier he turned down a $4 million offer from ABC for the rights to "Billy Jack" as a movie and series.

Guitarists Get Break On Radio

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Guitarists tend to be a picky lot, but a magazine specifically written for them has been trying of late to strum up some business with a unique radio approach.

Ernest Beyl, a spokesman for Guitar Player Magazine, says the approach consists of 13 half-hour taped programs that illustrate differing guitar styles as played by the greats of the instrument.

Alas, this plectrum forum isn't heard on commercial radio. Beyl says it's only been heard on about 50 selected campus radio stations and wasn't really intended as a commercial radio program.

In fact, he says the stations got the programs free simply by asking for them.

He said the idea was to interest college-area guitarists in subscribing to the magazine by offering them a taste of what the professionals are doing, accompanied by a soft-sell pitch for GPM.

"So we started hunting for suitable colleges that had radio stations with a loose enough format to accommodate something like that," he said, adding that the shows began airing about six months ago.

Beyl, whose publication is based in Los Gatos, south of San Francisco, said the musical commentator on the series is Jim Crockett, editor of the seven-year-old magazine.

Beyl said the programs feature selections from albums by such varied virtuosos as Jose Feliciano, the late Charlie Christian, Eric Clapton, T-Bone Walker and classicist Christopher Parkening.

In addition he said each show has a five-minute interview on the state of the art with well-known guitarists, people like Les Paul, jazzman Barney Kessel and bluesman Doc Watson.

None of the interviewees plug new albums or current engagements at nearby bistros "because that would date the shows and we want them to be timeless, so to speak," Beyl says.

He said the entire package cost about $3,500 to put together, including tape publication and mailing costs. But none of the guitarists interviewed asked for or received any fees.

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — State Sen. Betty Roberts, who came in a strong second in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor, doesn't want any flowers when she enters the hospital this week for surgery.

"I would rather they send a comparable contribution to my favorite charity — my campaign deficit," she said.

Singer Cat Stevens Has Unusual Aussie Greeting

SYDNEY (UPI) — Singer-songwriter Cat Stevens was stripped naked by Sydney Airport custom officers when he arrived here yesterday from Honolulu for an Australian concert tour.

The authorities found nothing on Stevens or in his luggage. But following a two-hour search a member of his 26-man troupe, Edward Allen Gold, 21, of North Ogden Drive, Los Angeles, later was charged with possessing and importing a small quantity of marijuana and hashish.

At his hotel Stevens told newsmen "they went through everything I had but the only thing they found were my virility pills.

"I was pretty tired and I wasn't really ennoyed. They were only doing their job.

"There has been a bit of trouble with groups and drugs, so I suppose they had to make a thorough search.

CAT STEVENS
A thorough check

"The narcotics people gave me a body check.

"They went through everything in my four cases and it was two hours before I got out of there," Stevens said.

"It was a bit of a surprise as it doesn't happen to us in other countries we go to."

Asked what a body-search actually meant, Stevens replied: "Nothing really. They just kind of view you."

Stevens said he would give all the profits, less expenses, from his two-week Australian tour to charity — about $300,000. He did not name the charity, saying the decision was still to be made.

The 26-year-old son of a Greek father and Swedish mother — real name Stephanio Georgiou Stevnes lives in London.

"I hope after this tour to start a musical commune for orphans and children in Greece," he said.

"I have some land there and I want to give people the chance to learn music."

Gold, described as a lighting technician and Stevens' bodyguard, was remanded on $300 bail to June 13.

A lawyer for Gold said in the special federal court Gold did not know the drugs were in his luggage and he intended to plead innocent.

Auto Service Includes Removal Of Bird Nest

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (UPI) — Larry Lamb took his new car in for a routine check this week — you know, change the oil, check the filters, remove the bird's nest and eggs from the manifold.

Actually, removal of the sparrow's nest and two small, speckled eggs wasn't on the routine maintenance list for the compact German import. But it became necessary when mechanic Michael Williams noticed sticks of straw and grass near the carburetor on the engine's manifold.

"I just started pulling the stuff out of there," Williams said. "It was hard to get at. I didn't even know there were eggs in there."

There were eggs, though — thoroughly baked from engine heat.

Lamb and Williams are scratching their heads about how the nest got on the manifold. Lamb says he has only had the car a short time and doesn't think he left it in any one place long enough for a bird to take up residence.

Williams said it's possible the car was shipped from Germany with the nest already in place.

She Didn't Like Male Cellmate

Mrs. Dunn said she was asleep in the cell Feb. 3 when the man was locked up with her. This, she said in her lawsuit, constituted an invasion of privacy.

Her lawyer said the man did not harm his client but he was "pretty obnoxious."

Both the plaintiff and the man had been arrested on traffic charges.

She Didn't Like Male Cellmate

Mrs. Dunn said she was asleep in the cell Feb. 3 when the man was locked up with her. This, she said in her lawsuit, constituted an invasion of privacy.

Her lawyer said the man did not harm his client but he was "pretty obnoxious."

Both the plaintiff and the man had been arrested on traffic charges.

Guitarists Get Break On Radio

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Guitarists tend to be a picky lot, but a magazine specifically written for them has been trying of late to strum up some business with a unique radio approach.

Ernest Beyl, a spokesman for Guitar Player Magazine, says the approach consists of 13 half-hour taped programs that illustrate differing guitar styles as played by the greats of the instrument.

Alas, this plectrum forum isn't heard on commercial radio. Beyl says it's only been heard on about 50 selected campus radio stations and wasn't really intended as a commercial radio program.

In fact, he says the stations got the programs free simply by asking for them.

He said the idea was to interest college-area guitarists in subscribing to the magazine by offering them a taste of what the professionals are doing, accompanied by a soft-sell pitch for GPM.

"So we started hunting for suitable colleges that had radio stations with a loose enough format to accommodate something like that," he said, adding that the shows began airing about six months ago.

Beyl, whose publication is based in Los Gatos, south of San Francisco, said the musical commentator on the series is Jim Crockett, editor of the seven-year-old magazine.

Beyl said the programs feature selections from albums by such varied virtuosos as Jose Feliciano, the late Charlie Christian, Eric Clapton, T-Bone Walker and classicist Christopher Parkening.

In addition he said each show has a five-minute interview on the state of the art with well-known guitarists, people like Les Paul, jazzman Barney Kessel and bluesman Doc Watson.

None of the interviewees plug new albums or current engagements at nearby bistros "because that would date the shows and we want them to be timeless, so to speak," Beyl says.

He said the entire package cost about $3,500 to put together, including tape publication and mailing costs. But none of the guitarists interviewed asked for or received any fees.

Only Campaign Deficit Gifts

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — State Sen. Betty Roberts, who came in a strong second in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor, doesn't want any flowers when she enters the hospital this week for surgery.

"I would rather they send a comparable contribution to my favorite charity — my campaign deficit," she said.

Police Team Concludes Run Across Nation

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Police Department's 13-man cross country team loped up to city hall yesterday to claim a record in a run from Washington D.C.

The 3,867.6-mile run was completed in 21 days, 6 hours and 45 minutes.

The policemen ran in relays and rested in a motor home which traveled with them.

They experienced all kinds of weather, freezing temperatures and desert heat, high and low altitudes. A motorcycle drill team greeted them four miles from city hall and gave them an escort the rest of the way.

Director, Star Of 'Billy Jack' Fighting Network

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tom Laughlin, who wrote, produced, directed and starred in the movie "Billy Jack," Thursday accused ABC-TV of plagiarizing the movie for a fall series because the network could not make a deal with him.

Warner Bros., which owns distribution rights to "Billy Jack," filed suit in U.S. District Court yesterday asking for an injunction against the network, preventing it from broadcasting a planned fall series titled "Naikia."

Warner Bros. said the series is a spinoff of an ABC television movie of the same name broadcast in April. The suit included an affidavit from Laughlin saying the ABC movie contains 43 incidents that are exactly the same as incidents in his movie, nine identical characters and 10 similarities in settings.

He said that earlier he turned down a $4 million offer from ABC for the rights to "Billy Jack" as a movie and series.

Bill Asks Repair Of Auto Defects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bill has been approved by the House Commerce Committee to require car manufacturers to pay for repair of vehicles with safety-related defects.

The measure approved yesterday also would require the Transportation Department to put into effect school bus safety standards.

Singer Cat Stevens Has Unusual Aussie Greeting

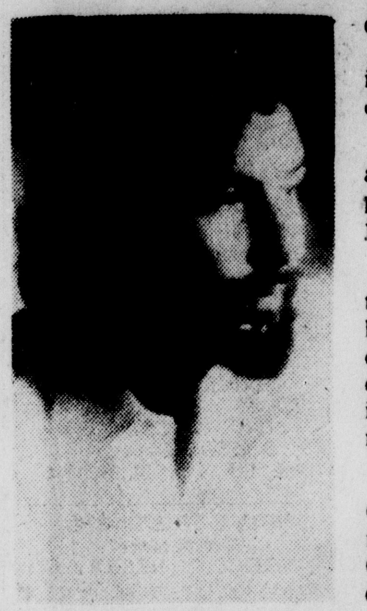
SYDNEY (UPI) — Singer-songwriter Cat Stevens was stripped naked by Sydney Airport custom officers when he arrived here yesterday from Honolulu for an Australian concert tour.

The authorities found nothing on Stevens or in his luggage. But following a two-hour search a member of his 26-man troupe, Edward Allen Gold, 21, of North Ogden Drive, Los Angeles, later was charged with possessing and importing a small quantity of marijuana and hashish.

At his hotel Stevens told newsmen "they went through everything I had but the only thing they found were my virility pills.

"I was pretty tired and I wasn't really ennoyed. They were only doing their job.

"There has been a bit of trouble with groups and drugs, so I suppose they had to make a thorough search.



CAT STEVENS
A thorough check

"The narcotics people gave me a body check.

"They went through everything in my four cases and it was two hours before I got out of there," Stevens said.

"It was a bit of a surprise as it doesn't happen to us in other countries we go to."

Asked what a body-search actually meant, Stevens replied: "Nothing really. They just kind of view you."

Stevens said he would give all the profits, less expenses, from his two-week Australian tour to charity — about $300,000. He did not name the charity, saying the decision was still to be made.

The 26-year-old son of a Greek father and Swedish mother — real name Stephanio Georgiou Stevnes lives in London.

"I hope after this tour to start a musical commune for orphans and children in Greece," he said.

"I have some land there and I want to give people the chance to learn music."

Gold, described as a lighting technician and Stevens' bodyguard, was remanded on $300 bail to June 13.

A lawyer for Gold said in the special federal court Gold did not know the drugs were in his luggage and he intended to plead innocent.

OWNER PUZZLED

Auto Service Includes Removal Of Bird Nest

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (UPI) — Larry Lamb took his new car in for a routine check this week — you know, change the oil, check the filters, remove the bird's nest and eggs from the manifold.

Actually, removal of the sparrow's nest and two small, speckled eggs wasn't on the routine maintenance list for the compact German import. But it became necessary when mechanic Michael Williams noticed sticks of straw and grass near the carburetor on the engine's manifold.

"I just started pulling the stuff out of there," Williams said. "It was hard to get at. I didn't even know there were eggs in there."

There were eggs, though — thoroughly baked from engine heat.

Lamb and Williams are scratching their heads about how the nest got on the manifold. Lamb says he has only had the car a short time and doesn't think he left it in any one place long enough for a bird to take up residence.

Williams said it's possible the car was shipped from Germany with the nest already in place.

Director, Star Of 'Billy Jack' Fighting Network

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tom Laughlin, who wrote, produced, directed and starred in the movie "Billy Jack," Thursday accused ABC-TV of plagiarizing the movie for a fall series because the network could not make a deal with him.

Warner Bros., which owns distribution rights to "Billy Jack," filed suit in U.S. District Court yesterday asking for an injunction against the network, preventing it from broadcasting a planned fall series titled "Naikia."

Warner Bros. said the series is a spinoff of an ABC television movie of the same name broadcast in April. The suit included an affidavit from Laughlin saying the ABC movie contains 43 incidents that are exactly the same as incidents in his movie, nine identical characters and 10 similarities in settings.

He said that earlier he turned down a $4 million offer from ABC for the rights to "Billy Jack" as a movie and series.

Guitarists Get Break On Radio

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Guitarists tend to be a picky lot, but a magazine specifically written for them has been trying of late to strum up some business with a unique radio approach.

Ernest Beyl, a spokesman for Guitar Player Magazine, says the approach consists of 13 half-hour taped programs that illustrate differing guitar styles as played by the greats of the instrument.

Alas, this plectrum forum isn't heard on commercial radio. Beyl says it's only been heard on about 50 selected campus radio stations and wasn't really intended as a commercial radio program.

In fact, he says the stations got the programs free simply by asking for them.

He said the idea was to interest college-area guitarists in subscribing to the magazine by offering them a taste of what the professionals are doing, accompanied by a soft-sell pitch for GPM.

"So we started hunting for suitable colleges that had radio stations with a loose enough format to accommodate something like that," he said, adding that the shows began airing about six months ago.

Beyl, whose publication is based in Los Gatos, south of San Francisco, said the musical commentator on the series is Jim Crockett, editor of the seven-year-old magazine.

Beyl said the programs feature selections from albums by such varied virtuosos as Jose Feliciano, the late Charlie Christian, Eric Clapton, T-Bone Walker and classicist Christopher Parkening.

In addition he said each show has a five-minute interview on the state of the art with well-known guitarists, people like Les Paul, jazzman Barney Kessel and bluesman Doc Watson.

None of the interviewees plug new albums or current engagements at nearby bistros "because that would date the shows and we want them to be timeless, so to speak," Beyl says.

He said the entire package cost about $3,500 to put together, including tape publication and mailing costs. But none of the guitarists interviewed asked for or received any fees.

Only Campaign Deficit Gifts

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — State Sen. Betty Roberts, who came in a strong second in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor, doesn't want any flowers when she enters the hospital this week for surgery.

"I would rather they send a comparable contribution to my favorite charity — my campaign deficit," she said.

Police Team Concludes Run Across Nation

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Police Department's 13-man cross country team loped up to city hall yesterday to claim a record in a run from Washington D.C.

The 3,867.6-mile run was completed in 21 days, 6 hours and 45 minutes.

The policemen ran in relays and rested in a motor home which traveled with them.

They experienced all kinds of weather, freezing temperatures and desert heat, high and low altitudes. A motorcycle drill team greeted them four miles from city hall and gave them an escort the rest of the way.

New Can Price

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Aluminum Company of America (Alcoa) yesterday announced it will increase from 10 cents a pound to 15 cents a pound the price it pays for aluminum beverage containers returned to its collection centers as scrap. The increase is effective June 3.

Singer Cat Stevens Has Unusual Aussie Greeting

SYDNEY (UPI) — Singer-songwriter Cat Stevens was stripped naked by Sydney Airport custom officers when he arrived here yesterday from Honolulu for an Australian concert tour.

The authorities found nothing on Stevens or in his luggage. But following a two-hour search a member of his 26-man troupe, Edward Allen Gold, 21, of North Ogden Drive, Los Angeles, later was charged with possessing and importing a small quantity of marijuana and hashish.

At his hotel Stevens told newsmen "they went through everything I had but the only thing they found were my virility pills.

"I was pretty tired and I wasn't really ennoyed. They were only doing their job.

"There has been a bit of trouble with groups and drugs, so I suppose they had to make a thorough search.

CAT STEVENS
A thorough check

"The narcotics people gave me a body check.

"They went through everything in my four cases and it was two hours before I got out of there," Stevens said.

"It was a bit of a surprise as it doesn't happen to us in other countries we go to."

Asked what a body-search actually meant, Stevens replied: "Nothing really. They just kind of view you."

Stevens said he would give all the profits, less expenses, from his two-week Australian tour to charity — about $300,000. He did not name the charity, saying the decision was still to be made.

The 26-year-old son of a Greek father and Swedish mother — real name Stephanio Georgiou Stevnes lives in London.

"I hope after this tour to start a musical commune for orphans and children in Greece," he said.

"I have some land there and I want to give people the chance to learn music."

Gold, described as a lighting technician and Stevens' bodyguard, was remanded on $300 bail to June 13.

A lawyer for Gold said in the special federal court Gold did not know the drugs were in his luggage and he intended to plead innocent.

Auto Service Includes Removal Of Bird Nest

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (UPI) — Larry Lamb took his new car in for a routine check this week — you know, change the oil, check the filters, remove the bird's nest and eggs from the manifold.

Actually, removal of the sparrow's nest and two small, speckled eggs wasn't on the routine maintenance list for the compact German import. But it became necessary when mechanic Michael Williams noticed sticks of straw and grass near the carburetor on the engine's manifold.

"I just started pulling the stuff out of there," Williams said. "It was hard to get at. I didn't even know there were eggs in there."

There were eggs, though — thoroughly baked from engine heat.

Lamb and Williams are scratching their heads about how the nest got on the manifold. Lamb says he has only had the car a short time and doesn't think he left it in any one place long enough for a bird to take up residence.

Williams said it's possible the car was shipped from Germany with the nest already in place.

Governor Candidates Rake Up $8 Million

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Political contributors have shelled out nearly $8 million to California gubernatorial candidates in Tuesday's primary election, making the contest the most expensive in state history.

The previous record for primary elections was in 1966 when candidates of both parties spent $2 million. The total for the general election that year was $2.9 million.

According to documents on file with the office of the secretary of state, the top fundraiser in this year's primary was San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto, who is seeking the Democratic nomination.

He collected about $1.6 million, much of it from organized labor.

Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr., the Democratic frontrunner, raised the next largest sum—about $1.4 million.

Brown, the only bachelor in the race, received $4,900 from Playboy Enterprises and a $10,000 loan from feminist singer Helen Reddy, who recorded "I Am Woman," and her husband.

Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, another Democrat, took in $1.2 million including $9,000 from fellow lawmakers and smaller amounts from legislative aides.

The totals were compiled by United Press International and included funds raised in 1973 and through May 25.

Republican candidate Houston I. Flournoy, state controller, reported Wednesday he collected more than $1.1 million.

Millionaire Democrat William Matson Roth of Ross raised $1.3 million, most of it coming from himself and his family.

Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Antioch, collected $563,000 while fellow Democrats Herb Hafif of Claremont reported $379,000 and Los Angeles County Supervisor Baxter Ward reported $11,344.

The California Labor Political Action Committee gave Alioto $50,000 with many other labor unions contributing lesser amounts.

San Francisco contractor R.M. Haynie donated $6,000 and Berkeley attorney Edward R. FitzSimmons added $12,000 for Alioto.

Brown received a $40,000 loan from Joan Palevsky of Los Angeles, a wealthy Democrat who supported George McGovern, and nearly $25,000 in loans from Leo S. Wyler of Beverly Hills, chairman of Tool Research and Engineering. A spokesman for Brown said the firm made aircraft parts.

Moretti collected $21,000 from the Retailers Good Government Council of Los Angeles. He received a $25,000 loan from California General Management and a $50,000 loan from Union Bank.

Assemblyman Willie L. Brown, D-San Francisco, gave Moretti's campaign $4,000. Democratic Assemblyman Charles Warren of Los Angeles, Jim Keysor of Sepulveda, Lawrence Kapiloff of San Diego and Alan Sieroty, of Beverly Hills chipped in smaller amounts. Rep. Yvonne Brathwaite, D-Los Angeles, paid a $2,000 printing bill for Moretti.

She was an assemblywoman until 1973.

Moretti also reported contributions of less than $100 each from a host of legislative aides including his press spokesman Marty Coren and Lou Angelo, David Doerr, Thomas Willoughby and Robert Toigo.

Flournoy's campaign statements showed he received $1,200 from Standard Oil and numerous contributions of $100 or less from individuals associated with the oil industry.

Flournoy is chairman of the commission which has jurisdiction over offshore oil drilling in state waters.

General Abrams Ill With Cancer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — General Creighton W. Abrams, chief of staff of the Army, is suffering from lung cancer, the Pentagon announced today.

Abrams, who will turn 60 this September, became ill last week while on a trip to Europe. He cut short his visit to return to Walter Reed Army Hospital near Washington where he was admitted last Thursday and diagnosed as suffering a mild case of pneumonia.

"Further tests will be performed to determine the extent of the malignancy," a spokesman said. "Medical authorities will then determine the appropriate treatment."

Abrams rose to colonel in World War II under General George S. Patton, who considered him his best tank commander. "I have one peer," Patton said. "He is Abe Abrams."

A native of Springfield, Mass., Abrams came to national attention during the Vietnam War when he first served as deputy to General William S. Westmoreland and then as Westmoreland's successor as commanding general of all U.S. forces in Vietnam from July 1968 until July 1972. He then became Army chief of staff. The Army said Abrams was resting comfortably at Walter Reed.

Governor Candidates Rake Up $8 Million

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Political contributors have shelled out nearly $8 million to California gubernatorial candidates in Tuesday's primary election, making the contest the most expensive in state history.

The previous record for primary elections was in 1966 when candidates of both parties spent $2 million. The total for the general election that year was $2.9 million.

According to documents on file with the office of the secretary of state, the top fundraiser in this year's primary was San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto, who is seeking the Democratic nomination.

He collected about $1.6 million, much of it from organized labor.

Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr., the Democratic frontrunner, raised the next largest sum—about $1.4 million.

Brown, the only bachelor in the race, received $4,900 from Playboy Enterprises and a $10,000 loan from feminist singer Helen Reddy, who recorded "I Am Woman," and her husband.

Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, another Democrat, took in $1.2 million including $9,000 from fellow lawmakers and smaller amounts from legislative aides.

The contributions were disclosed yesterday in the latest statements on file with Brown's office. They are the final ones before next Tuesday's primary election.

The totals were compiled by United Press International and included funds raised in 1973 and through May 25.

Republican candidate Houston I. Flournoy, state controller, reported Wednesday he collected more than $1.1 million.

Millionaire Democrat William Matson Roth of Ross raised $1.3 million, most of it coming from himself and his family.

Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Antioch, collected $563,000 while fellow Democrats Herb Hafif of Claremont reported $379,000 and Los Angeles County Supervisor Baxter Ward reported $11,344.

The California Labor Political Action Committee gave Alioto $50,000 with many other labor unions contributing lesser amounts.

San Francisco contractor R.M. Haynie donated $6,000 and Berkeley attorney Edward R. FitzSimmons added $12,000 for Alioto.

Brown received a $40,000 loan from Joan Palevsky of Los Angeles, a wealthy Democrat who supported George McGovern, and nearly $25,000 in loans from Leo S. Wyler of Beverly Hills, chairman of Tool Research and Engineering. A spokesman for Brown said the firm made aircraft parts.

Moretti collected $21,000 from the Retailers Good Government Council of Los Angeles. He received a $25,000 loan from California General Management and a $50,000 loan from Union Bank.

Assemblyman Willie L. Brown, D-San Francisco, gave Moretti's campaign $4,000. Democratic Assemblyman Charles Warren of Los Angeles, Jim Keysor of Sepulveda, Lawrence Kapiloff of San Diego and Alan Sieroty, of Beverly Hills chipped in smaller amounts. Rep. Yvonne Brathwaite, D-Los Angeles, paid a $2,000 printing bill for Moretti.

She was an assemblywoman until 1973.

Moretti also reported contributions of less than $100 each from a host of legislative aides including his press spokesman Marty Coren and Lou Angelo, David Doerr, Thomas Willoughby and Robert Toigo.

Flournoy's campaign statements showed he received $1,200 from Standard Oil and numerous contributions of $100 or less from individuals associated with the oil industry.

Flournoy is chairman of the commission which has jurisdiction over offshore oil drilling in state waters.

General Abrams Ill With Cancer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — General Creighton W. Abrams, chief of staff of the Army, is suffering from lung cancer, the Pentagon announced today.

Abrams, who will turn 60 this September, became ill last week while on a trip to Europe. He cut short his visit to return to Walter Reed Army Hospital near Washington where he was admitted last Thursday and diagnosed as suffering a mild case of pneumonia.

"Further tests will be performed to determine the extent of the malignancy," a spokesman said. "Medical authorities will then determine the appropriate treatment."

Abrams rose to colonel in World War II under General George S. Patton, who considered him his best tank commander. "I have one peer," Patton said. "He is Abe Abrams."

A native of Springfield, Mass., Abrams came to national attention during the Vietnam War when he first served as deputy to General William S. Army Of Arms On Redwood's Team

After watching Redwood High School win its opening game of the baseball Tournament of Champions last night one thing became very apparent. You don't beat that team by trying to take the extra base.

Sunset High of Hayward found out the hard way and it cost the team a 2-0 loss. The Sunset runners were fast enough and they probably run themselves into a lot of victories. But every time they tried for the extra base it was an out.

The Giants of Redwood looked like a platoon of riflemen last night. They usually win by the bat. Last night they won by the arms an army of arms. Third baseman Phil Bacigalupi, shortstop Gary LaTorre, catcher Doug Hartman, center fielder Rod Long and right fielder Marty Frey are all good throwers and Sunset found out the hard way.

Long, Bacigalupi and LaTorre all have chances of being drafted by the pros in June. Long is a sure choice and will go very high, if you can believe what the scouts say. And this tournament has a lot of them. Watch out. That guy sitting next to you taking down notes between puffs on a cigar just might be a bird dog for the Dodgers.

The scouts are also eyeballing pitcher Ed Andersen but because he's a junior they'll have to wait. He's very fast. Although Sunset got five hits off him last night, three of them were through the right side of the infield. The right-handed batters weren't able to come around on him. They couldn't pull the ball.

Nowadays, a tournament couldn't be a success without a streaker or two and a pair last night stopped the show for a few moments. Since they wore ski caps over their faces it would have been very difficult to identify them. They came from the right field foul area and the faster of the two went toward centerfielder Long and the other got a handshake from left fielder Jeff Vogel. Then the streakers disappeared through the left field bushes. Since they weren't carrying their clothes in typical streaker fashion, I assume they planned their attack well enough to have a set of clothes waiting for them on the other side of the left field fence. I don't know who they were but I'm sure neither was Ethel.

APOLOGIES, APOLOGIES. It was a chauvinistic male pig type of slip by I-J headline writer Ron Lent the other day when the I-J front sports page ballyhooed that "Four Qualify For State Track Meet," when in reality seven Marin high schoolers had qualified for the meet — four boys and three girls.

This goof was quickly pointed out in a letter to the I-J sports desk from Peg Hewett of the Women's Task Force at Tamalpais High. Wrote Ms. Hewett: "Once again the I-J has shown its sexism bias; please wake up! I feel you owe the three females an apology."

To Kate Keyes, Veronica Venezia and Celia Bodington: We I-J jock writers are sorry and I hope you all win first places this weekend at the state meet in Bakersfield.

CONGRATULATIONS to Dave Judnick of Novato and Jim Wilhelm of Kentfield, two of five University of Santa Clara players named to the West Coast Athletic Conference all-star team. Judnick, a pitcher, had a 5-0 win-loss record and 1.20 earned run average, and Wilhelm, a first baseman, batted .294. Santa Clara outfielder Gene Delyon, the National Collegiate Athletic Association's all-time single season home run hitter with 19, was named most valuable player.

Redwood, Irvington In Semis Tonight

Tourney Hosts Top Sunset, 2-0

By LEW CODDINGTON

There was simply no way that Sunset High School was going to score last night. The visitors from Hayward had to contend with Ed Andersen's pitching, Redwood High's fielding and — when things got rough — a flooded third base line.

The victory moved the defending champions into the semi-finals tonight at 9 o'clock against Irvington (Fremont). Skyline (Oakland) will face Moreau (Hayward) in the 7 p.m. semi-final, while Sunset was to meet Antioch at 5 p.m. and Hogan (Vallejo) was to battle Pinole Valley at 3 p.m. in consolation bracket games.

In yesterday's other action:

Irvington scored an unearned run in the sixth inning to defeat Antioch, 4-3;

Moreau shellacked Hogan, 6-0, as Matt Bottero pitched a six-hit shutout and Bill Foxworthy hit a bases-loaded triple in the first inning; and

Skyline edged Pinole, 2-0, as Mitch Miloslavich pitched a six-hitter and drove in the first run in the first inning with an infield grounder following Bob Haight's double.

Redwood's Andersen hurled a five-hitter, striking out six and allowing only one runner past first base after a shaky opening inning in which Sunset loaded the bases.

Surprisingly, it was the first shutout of the year for the 6-foot-4, 215-pound junior, who was 13-2 overall and 9-0 in the Marin County Athletic League.

He received the benefit of some spectacular fielding, especially in the early innings.

Even Redwood miscues were turned into outs with heads-up play. In the fifth, a fielding error following a passed ball following a strikeout was redeemed when second baseman Mark Endriss threw out O'Loughlin going for second. In the sixth, Frey let Norm Zaballos' single bounce past him, then retrieved the ball to throw Zaballos out at second.

If the fielding didn't work, there was always the flood.

The game was delayed for eight minutes in the sixth inning while the ground crew had to shovel dirt onto two puddles which formed mysteriously on the third base line.

An unduly suspicious man might see a link in the fact that the Redwood coach, who was clinging to a 1-0 lead at the time, was also the tournament director.

Redwood's Al Endriss denied any such creative groundskeeping, however, saying one of the players' spikes had touched off the underground water sprinkler system.

Another brief delay occurred in the fifth as two streakers, one in a red hat and one in a green one, dashed across the outfield. Neither ran as far or as fast as Vogel did chasing the foul fly.

Redwood scored a run in the first inning as Vogel walked, took second on Rob Long's single, moved to third on Gary LaTorre's infield out and tallied on a single by Phil Bacigalupi.

Seven Marin Track Stars Go To Meet

Marin County, which has not had a state track and field champion in a decade and a half, may have several by the time the weekend is over.

Four boys and three girls from Marin high schools left today for Bakersfield, where they will meet the best from the rest of California in the state meet.

Both the trials and finals will be held at night to avoid the searing valley sun. The combination of warm temperatures, evening breezes, top competition and fast tartan turf at Bakersfield Community College is expected to produce a swath of records.

Three of the Marinites will enter with qualifying times unsurpassed in the state, according to the Marin coaches, who have been combing newspaper reports from elsewhere.

Near the top are Darrell Elder of Redwood in the discus and Kate Kayes of Tamalpais in the girls mile. Faced with a tougher road are Ray Green of San Rafael in the boys mile, Mark Kilmer of Redwood in the long jump and Elder in the shot put.

Thye qualified by finishing high in the North Coast Section meet last Saturday at College of Marin. Similar sectionals throughout the state produced 27 boys qualifiers, who will compete in trials tonight to pare the field to nine for running events and 12 for field events tomorrow.

The girls are competing at the state level for the first time. Only the nine sectional winners qualified, so there is no need for trials.

The last Marinite to place was Alan Lee of Tam, who left the 1968 meet thinking he was sixth in the 220-yard dash, but was upgraded to fifth when the films were reviewed.

Cagle and Elder went to the state last year, Elder in the shot rather than the discus. Neither placed.

Cagle last Saturday ran the best 880 in Marin history, 1:52.6, as he glided away on the second lap to win North Coast. Though nobody in the state enters with a better qualifying time, four others come in under 1:53.

Venezia's 56.5 clocking in the 440 leaves her a second and a half better than her fastest known rival, and Bodington's 11.3 in the hurdles gives her an edge of two-tenths.

Elder's competition in the discus will come from Ray Burton of Vacaville, the national record holder who has thrown 201-6 twice, and the Redwood star is drawing tantalizingly close to him.

Burton qualified last week at 196, while Elder won North Coast at 194-2 in the latest of a remarkable set of improve-

Bryant Hurls For Giants Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The traveling, slumping San Francisco Giants have dropped from second to fifth in the National League West, and yesterday's 5-3 loss in Chicago was one of the more frustrating experiences on the trip.

San Francisco led 2-1 after the first inning and broke out of a 2-2 tie with a run in the sixth. But with two out in the eighth, Jerry Morales hit a two-run double that sent reliever Elias Sosa to his first loss after five victories.

So the Giants came here to open a three-game series against the Philadelphia Phils tonight relegated to fifth place by Houston's 10-inning, 4-3 triumph at Montreal. Houston is 9½ games behind Los Angeles, the West Division leaders; San Francisco is 10 back.

Ron Bryant, 1-4 and with an unbelievable 9.97 earned run average, will pitch for the Giants against Ron Schueler, 3-4, of the Phils.

Against Chicago's Bill Bonham, a big right-hander with a 4-8 record and 4.4 ERA, the Giants got their leadoff batter on first base in every inning but the seventh, and the second man up got on in that frame.

49ers' Fahnhorst Is Rookie In A Hurry

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — A guy who has to come through for the San Francisco 49ers in a hurry may do just that.

He's 255-pound Keith Fahnhorst, who has become a key performer now that all-pro tight end Ted Kwalick will join the World Football League after this season.

Coach Dick Nolan drafted Fahnhorst out of Minnesota before Kwalick made his move and Fahnhorst, wooed by many WFL teams, signed without knowing Kwalick was leaving.

Nolan said he just wanted to have Fahnhorst around for those goal line situations when two tight ends are required. He says he likes the big rookie's outlook.

"I've always had the ability to catch the ball," he says "and I think I can do it here. It's all in the mind. I get myself upset. I lose concentration and that's when I can have trouble catching the ball."

Army Of Arms On Redwood's Team

After watching Redwood High School win its opening game of the baseball Tournament of Champions last night one thing became very apparent. You don't beat that team by trying to take the extra base.

Sunset High of Hayward found out the hard way and it cost the team a 2-0 loss. The Sunset runners were fast enough and they probably run themselves into a lot of victories. But every time they tried for the extra base it was an out.

The Giants of Redwood looked like a platoon of riflemen last night. They usually win by the bat. Last night they won by the arms an army of arms. Third baseman Phil Bacigalupi, shortstop Gary LaTorre, catcher Doug Hartman, center fielder Rod Long and right fielder Marty Frey are all good throwers and Sunset found out the hard way.

Long, Bacigalupi and LaTorre all have chances of being drafted by the pros in June. Long is a sure choice and will go very high, if you can believe what the scouts say. And this tournament has a lot of them. Watch out. That guy sitting next to you taking down notes between puffs on a cigar just might be a bird dog for the Dodgers.

The scouts are also eyeballing pitcher Ed Andersen but because he's a junior they'll have to wait. He's very fast. Although Sunset got five hits off him last night, three of them were through the right side of the infield. The right-handed batters weren't able to come around on him. They couldn't pull the ball.

Nowadays, a tournament couldn't be a success without a streaker or two and a pair last night stopped the show for a few moments. Since they wore ski caps over their faces it would have been very difficult to identify them. They came from the right field foul area and the faster of the two went toward centerfielder Long and the other got a handshake from left fielder Jeff Vogel. Then the streakers disappeared through the left field bushes. Since they weren't carrying their clothes in typical streaker fashion, I assume they planned their attack well enough to have a set of clothes waiting for them on the other side of the left field fence. I don't know who they were but I'm sure neither was Ethel.

APOLOGIES, APOLOGIES. It was a chauvinistic male pig type of slip by I-J headline writer Ron Lent the other day when the I-J front sports page ballyhooed that "Four Qualify For State Track Meet," when in reality seven Marin high schoolers had qualified for the meet — four boys and three girls.

This goof was quickly pointed out in a letter to the I-J sports desk from Peg Hewett of the Women's Task Force at Tamalpais High. Wrote Ms. Hewett: "Once again the I-J has shown its sexism bias; please wake up! I feel you owe the three females an apology."

To Kate Keyes, Veronica Venezia and Celia Bodington: We I-J jock writers are sorry and I hope you all win first places this weekend at the state meet in Bakersfield.

CONGRATULATIONS to Dave Judnick of Novato and Jim Wilhelm of Kentfield, two of five University of Santa Clara players named to the West Coast Athletic Conference all-star team. Judnick, a pitcher, had a 5-0 win-loss record and 1.20 earned run average, and Wilhelm, a first baseman, batted .294. Santa Clara outfielder Gene Delyon, the National Collegiate Athletic Association's all-time single season home run hitter with 19, was named most valuable player.

Redwood, Irvington In Semis Tonight

Tourney Hosts Top Sunset, 2-0

By LEW CODDINGTON

There was simply no way that Sunset High School was going to score last night. The visitors from Hayward had to contend with Ed Andersen's pitching, Redwood High's fielding and — when things got rough — a flooded third base line.

The victory moved the defending champions into the semi-finals tonight at 9 o'clock against Irvington (Fremont). Skyline (Oakland) will face Moreau (Hayward) in the 7 p.m. semi-final, while Sunset was to meet Antioch at 5 p.m. and Hogan (Vallejo) was to battle Pinole Valley at 3 p.m. in consolation bracket games.

In yesterday's other action:

Irvington scored an unearned run in the sixth inning to defeat Antioch, 4-3;

Moreau shellacked Hogan, 6-0, as Matt Bottero pitched a six-hit shutout and Bill Foxworthy hit a bases-loaded triple in the first inning; and

Skyline edged Pinole, 2-0, as Mitch Miloslavich pitched a six-hitter and drove in the first run in the first inning with an infield grounder following Bob Haight's double.

Redwood's Andersen hurled a five-hitter, striking out six and allowing only one runner past first base after a shaky opening inning in which Sunset loaded the bases.

Surprisingly, it was the first shutout of the year for the 6-foot-4, 215-pound junior, who was 13-2 overall and 9-0 in the Marin County Athletic League.

He received the benefit of some spectacular fielding, especially in the early innings.

Even Redwood miscues were turned into outs with heads-up play. In the fifth, a fielding error following a passed ball following a strikeout was redeemed when second baseman Mark Endriss threw out O'Loughlin going for second. In the sixth, Frey let Norm Zaballos' single bounce past him, then retrieved the ball to throw Zaballos out at second.

If the fielding didn't work, there was always the flood.

The game was delayed for eight minutes in the sixth inning while the ground crew had to shovel dirt onto two puddles which formed mysteriously on the third base line.

An unduly suspicious man might see a link in the fact that the Redwood coach, who was clinging to a 1-0 lead at the time, was also the tournament director.

Redwood's Al Endriss denied any such creative groundskeeping, however, saying one of the players' spikes had touched off the underground water sprinkler system.

Another brief delay occurred in the fifth as two streakers, one in a red hat and one in a green one, dashed across the outfield. Neither ran as far or as fast as Vogel did chasing the foul fly.

Redwood scored a run in the first inning as Vogel walked, took second on Rob Long's single, moved to third on Gary LaTorre's infield out and tallied on a single by Phil Bacigalupi.

The run stood up until the sixth, when Bacigalupi walked, stole second and scored on a base hit by Steve Spelman.

IN BAKERSFIELD

Seven Marin Track Stars Go To Meet

Marin County, which has not had a state track and field champion in a decade and a half, may have several by the time the weekend is over.

Four boys and three girls from Marin high schools left today for Bakersfield, where they will meet the best from the rest of California in the state meet.

Both the trials and finals will be held at night to avoid the searing valley sun. The combination of warm temperatures, evening breezes, top competition and fast tartan turf at Bakersfield Community College is expected to produce a swath of records.

Three of the Marinites will enter with qualifying times unsurpassed in the state, according to the Marin coaches, who have been combing newspaper reports from elsewhere.

Near the top are Darrell Elder of Redwood in the discus and Kate Kayes of Tamalpais in the girls mile. Faced with a tougher road are Ray Green of San Rafael in the boys mile, Mark Kilmer of Redwood in the long jump and Elder in the shot put.

Thye qualified by finishing high in the North Coast Section meet last Saturday at College of Marin. Similar sectionals throughout the state produced 27 boys qualifiers, who will compete in trials tonight to pare the field to nine for running events and 12 for field events tomorrow.

The girls are competing at the state level for the first time. Only the nine sectional winners qualified, so there is no need for trials.

The last Marinite to place was Alan Lee of Tam, who left the 1968 meet thinking he was sixth in the 220-yard dash, but was upgraded to fifth when the films were reviewed.

Cagle and Elder went to the state last year, Elder in the shot rather than the discus. Neither placed.

Cagle last Saturday ran the best 880 in Marin history, 1:52.6, as he glided away on the second lap to win North Coast. Though nobody in the state enters with a better qualifying time, four others come in under 1:53.

Venezia's 56.5 clocking in the 440 leaves her a second and a half better than her fastest known rival, and Bodington's 11.3 in the hurdles gives her an edge of two-tenths.

Elder's competition in the discus will come from Ray Burton of Vacaville, the national record holder who has thrown 201-6 twice, and the Redwood star is drawing tantalizingly close to him.

Burton qualified last week at 196, while Elder won North Coast at 194-2 in the latest of a remarkable set of improve-

Bryant Hurls For Giants Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The traveling, slumping San Francisco Giants have dropped from second to fifth in the National League West, and yesterday's 5-3 loss in Chicago was one of the more frustrating experiences on the trip.

The Giants outhit the Cubs 11-7 but left 10 runners stranded.

San Francisco led 2-1 after the first inning and broke out of a 2-2 tie with a run in the sixth. But with two out in the eighth, Jerry Morales hit a two-run double that sent reliever Elias Sosa to his first loss after five victories.

So the Giants came here to open a three-game series against the Philadelphia Phils tonight relegated to fifth place by Houston's 10-inning, 4-3 triumph at Montreal. Houston is 9½ games behind Los Angeles, the West Division leaders; San Francisco is 10 back.

Ron Bryant, 1-4 and with an unbelievable 9.97 earned run average, will pitch for the Giants against Ron Schueler, 3-4, of the Phils.

Against Chicago's Bill Bonham, a big right-hander with a 4-8 record and 4.4 ERA, the Giants got their leadoff batter on first base in every inning but the seventh, and the second man up got on in that frame.

49ers' Fahnhorst Is Rookie In A Hurry

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — A guy who has to come through for the San Francisco 49ers in a hurry may do just that.

He's 255-pound Keith Fahnhorst, who has become a key performer now that all-pro tight end Ted Kwalick will join the World Football League after this season.

Coach Dick Nolan drafted Fahnhorst out of Minnesota before Kwalick made his move and Fahnhorst, wooed by many WFL teams, signed without knowing Kwalick was leaving.

Nolan said he just wanted to have Fahnhorst around for those goal line situations when two tight ends are required. He says he likes the big rookie's outlook.

Fahnhorst is ready for anything as he works out at the 49ers' rookie camp here.

"I've always had the ability to catch the ball," he says "and I think I can do it here. It's all in the mind. I get myself upset. I lose concentration and that's when I can have trouble catching the ball."

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Striper Reports Are Trickling In

For those striped bass fishermen chaffing at the bit waiting for those stripers to show up from the Delta, some good reports are beginning to trickle in.

Last week on those minus tide days, Bill Yager, his wife and "Two Rod" Kennedy took a few bass trolling around Red Rock. Yager had a monster on, but there are two stories attached to how this fish was lost.

Kennedy swears that Yager had a bum knot tied from the leader to the lure; Yager says Kennedy knocked the fish off the line with a bum netting job.

One thing not in your favor for this weekend is the subject of tides. The minus lows are at 5 a.m. so your best fishing time will be really early if you expect to catch the last of the outgoing. Later next week, the tides will be perfect in the morning as the low tides will be later by an hour each day.

Of course, low tides that early mean good incoming tides for the China Camp shellbank area later in the day. Some good sturgeon were taken there this past week on the incoming. Hans Sten of Santa Venetia hooked five on one outing, landing one, a nice fish that dressed out at 40 pounds.

Hal Lansing of the Loch Lomond Chevron station is singing the blues and running around with a busted rod. According to Hal the fish that did the damage must have weighed at least 100 pounds. One thing, there are some really big bat rays coming into the warming waters of the bay. They can weigh up to 150 pounds, and if you hook one of these, you can expect to have your reel stripped of all your line. We should have some good stories of the big ones that got away next week.

I talked to Sam Knoles, Bob Locki and the Lo-Hat gang about salmon fishing. Pretty rough going most of the time because of the big winds. Sunday, with the winds down, fishing was reported as good by the Farallones. Monday the winds were up again.

The Papermill Creek trout opener was slow. Game Warden Russ Ild said he checked about 10 cars of fishermen with just two limits.

Department of Fish and Game Wildlife biologists were in anything but a celebrating mood last week when they reported the release of four yearling black bears deep in wilderness country of Del Norte County.

'Those four bears are examples of why people should leave fawns, cubs and other wild animals alone,' said Dave Smith, wildlife biologist from Redding who headed the release project.

Fish and Game men said the bears — triplets born in Humboldt County and one born in southern Trinity County — were picked up by citizens last spring when the bears were infant cubs. The well-meaning people believed the mother bears had abandoned their youngsters, but the "rescue" acts were both illegal and possible kisses of death for the bears.

In actions duplicated annually by the Fish and Game, wardens took possession of the cubs and turned them over to wildlife management specialists.

Releasing a fawn or cub without its mother present means certain death for the animal. Giving the animal to a reliable zoo or animal compound is nearly impossible because the demand is low for common animals such as deer and bears.

The bears spent the early part of their life in isolation at a San Francisco zoo, then were moved for further work to the Louise Boyd Junior Museum in San Rafael, where they were kept away from humans and given experience in locating food.

A year older and 150 pounds heavier, the bears had outgrown their facilities and were ready for the test. The release in the Six Rivers National Forest was completed last week, but wildlife experts say the bears still face an uphill struggle for survival.

Exam Set Today For Marichal

Combined AP & UPI

BOSTON — Former San Francisco Giants' star righthander Juan Marichal, sold to the Boston Red Sox last winter, was to be examined today in connection with numbness in his pitching hand.

Marichal, 35, has appeared in just five games for Boston, compiling a 2-1 record. He was bothered early in the season by shoulder stiffness and more recently was sidelined by numbness in the thumb and first two fingers of his right hand.

Red Sox team physician Thomas Tierney was to examine Marichal today and report to manager Darrell Johnson.

MILWAUKEE — The Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association yesterday signed American Basketball Association All-Star guard George Thompson to a multiyear contract. Terms were not disclosed by the ex-Memphis Tams star.

Suyderhoud Is Leading Pack

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — Six contestants in the Marine World-Africa U.S.A. international ski jumping championships Thursday bettered the world record of 140-feet from a 5 ½ foot ramp.

Lesley Hunt Regains Top Singles Role

OAKLAND (UPI) — It will be Lesley Hunt back in the women's singles spot when she and the rest of the Golden Gaters play host to the New York Sets in World Team Tennis tonight.

Player-coach Roy Emerson thought he could experiment with his lineup Wednesday against a lightly-regarded Hawaii team and went with Ilana Kloss, 18-year-old southpaw from South Africa, in the women's singles. She lost and it took sharp doubles play by Frew McMillan to pull out a 29-26 victory to run the Gaters' record to 6-4.

"You can't take any team for granted," Emerson said. New York brings a 1-10 mark into the Coliseum Arena.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Striper Reports Are Trickling In

For those striped bass fishermen chaffing at the bit waiting for those stripers to show up from the Delta, some good reports are beginning to trickle in.

Last week on those minus tide days, Bill Yager, his wife and "Two Rod" Kennedy took a few bass trolling around Red Rock. Yager had a monster on, but there are two stories attached to how this fish was lost.

Kennedy swears that Yager had a bum knot tied from the leader to the lure; Yager says Kennedy knocked the fish off the line with a bum netting job.

One thing not in your favor for this weekend is the subject of tides. The minus lows are at 5 a.m. so your best fishing time will be really early if you expect to catch the last of the outgoing. Later next week, the tides will be perfect in the morning as the low tides will be later by an hour each day.

Of course, low tides that early mean good incoming tides for the China Camp shellbank area later in the day. Some good sturgeon were taken there this past week on the incoming. Hans Sten of Santa Venetia hooked five on one outing, landing one, a nice fish that dressed out at 40 pounds.

Hal Lansing of the Loch Lomond Chevron station is singing the blues and running around with a busted rod. According to Hal the fish that did the damage must have weighed at least 100 pounds. One thing, there are some really big bat rays coming into the warming waters of the bay. They can weigh up to 150 pounds, and if you hook one of these, you can expect to have your reel stripped of all your line. We should have some good stories of the big ones that got away next week.

I talked to Sam Knoles, Bob Locki and the Lo-Hat gang about salmon fishing. Pretty rough going most of the time because of the big winds. Sunday, with the winds down, fishing was reported as good by the Farallones. Monday the winds were up again.

The Papermill Creek trout opener was slow. Game Warden Russ Ild said he checked about 10 cars of fishermen with just two limits.

Department of Fish and Game Wildlife biologists were in anything but a celebrating mood last week when they reported the release of four yearling black bears deep in wilderness country of Del Norte County.

'Those four bears are examples of why people should leave fawns, cubs and other wild animals alone,' said Dave Smith, wildlife biologist from Redding who headed the release project.

Fish and Game men said the bears — triplets born in Humboldt County and one born in southern Trinity County — were picked up by citizens last spring when the bears were infant cubs. The well-meaning people believed the mother bears had abandoned their youngsters, but the "rescue" acts were both illegal and possible kisses of death for the bears.

In actions duplicated annually by the Fish and Game, wardens took possession of the cubs and turned them over to wildlife management specialists.

Releasing a fawn or cub without its mother present means certain death for the animal. Giving the animal to a reliable zoo or animal compound is nearly impossible because the demand is low for common animals such as deer and bears.

The bears spent the early part of their life in isolation at a San Francisco zoo, then were moved for further work to the Louise Boyd Junior Museum in San Rafael, where they were kept away from humans and given experience in locating food.

A year older and 150 pounds heavier, the bears had outgrown their facilities and were ready for the test. The release in the Six Rivers National Forest was completed last week, but wildlife experts say the bears still face an uphill struggle for survival.

Exam Set Today For Marichal

Combined AP & UPI

BOSTON — Former San Francisco Giants' star righthander Juan Marichal, sold to the Boston Red Sox last winter, was to be examined today in connection with numbness in his pitching hand.

Marichal, 35, has appeared in just five games for Boston, compiling a 2-1 record. He was bothered early in the season by shoulder stiffness and more recently was sidelined by numbness in the thumb and first two fingers of his right hand.

Red Sox team physician Thomas Tierney was to examine Marichal today and report to manager Darrell Johnson.

Basketball

MILWAUKEE — The Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association yesterday signed American Basketball Association All-Star guard George Thompson to a multiyear contract. Terms were not disclosed by the ex-Memphis Tams star.

Hockey

WASHINGTON — Jimmy Anderson, chief major league scout for the Boston Bruins, was to be named coach of the expansion Washington Capitals' National Hockey League team at a press conference today.

WATSON HELPS PUTT

Kemper Open golf leader Tom Watson yesterday leaned over trying to help his putt into the hole on the 18th green. He scorched the Quail Hollow course in Charlotte, N.C. for a record-tying seven-under-par 65 for a one-stroke lead going into today's second round. (AP Wirephoto)

Suyderhoud Is Leading Pack

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — Six contestants in the Marine World-Africa U.S.A. international ski jumping championships Thursday bettered the world record of 140-feet from a 5 ½ foot ramp.

SPACEMAN BILL LEE

Pouring It Out Like Alphabet Soup

By PHIL ELDERKIN
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

There are so many pieces to Boston Red Sox pitcher William Francis (Bill) Lee that he can almost be described as a puzzle. And even Lee isn't sure yet where all the pieces fit.

(Bill Lee was reared in Marin County and played high school ball at Terra Linda High. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Lee Jr., still reside in Terra Linda.)

This is a man who describes himself as a thinker, who is concerned with world problems like famine and birth control, and who believes in Einstein's theory of the continuing universe.

Yet stuck on the side of Bill's Red Sox locker with a piece of tape is a picture of him in a Boston uniform wearing differently designed socks on each leg. He is the egg that explains the chicken or maybe the chicken that explains the egg.

Perhaps never before in a professional athlete has mirth, mystery and meditation formed so much of a man's outward personality. The tapes that he plays on his car's stereo have titles like "Miles Beyond" and "Transcendental Meditation."

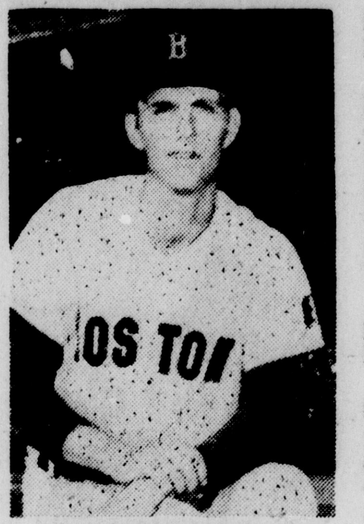
He is a regular reader of books and articles on reincarnation, yet says he isn't sure he believes in any of it. He is also a man who is forever thinking about his dreams and what they mean. And he has such a delightful way of describing those around him that maybe he should have been a writer.

His description of Baltimore pitcher Mike Cuellar is a classic. "The Orioles bring him out in a sanitation truck and dump him on the mound. He gets up and says: 'Here's a cabbage' and throws it. Then he says 'Here's a rotten grapefruit' and throws it. Have you ever seen how far a cabbage goes when you hit it?"

Bill simply pours it all out, like alphabet soup. But it's up to you to rearrange the letters, make the interpretation, and play Alan Funt with the candid camera of your mind.

"As a kid I wanted to be a dentist because my parents wanted me to be a dentist," Lee explained. "Then I thought I could combine pharmacy with baseball and learned that I couldn't. I guess what I've always wanted to be is a baseball player, only for a while other people kept getting in the way.

"I'm not sure how important playing baseball really is," he continued. "I used to think it wasn't important at all. But if it gives enough people pleasure, I think it's right and I'm glad to be part of it. But I'm not sure I want to stand up someday and answer the question, What did you do with your life?



BILL LEE
A thinker

"But I'll tell you something; in the past year I've consciously made an effort to be extra nice to people. If somebody wants me to sign an autograph, especially if he's a kid, I'll take the time and usually I say something, too. I want to like people and I want them to like me."

Bill's wife, Mary Lou, is an attractive young woman with charm, poise, and a smile with immense face value. Their four-year-old son, Mike, has the kind of self-winding energy that makes kids so interesting to be around. Madison Avenue would probably describe the Lees as a Poster Family — good for selling corn flakes, soap or any wholesome product.

Bill believes in cycles. What is happening now, he says, has already happened before. He thinks we do the same things over and over again until we get them right. He wonders if maybe on another planet, at this very minute, someone else isn't reading a story exactly like this one.

Lee's teammates call him Spaceman because of his way-out ideas and his interest in the mysterious. He likes the nickname because he feels it gives him a special kind of individuality and enhances his image as a colorful character.

Probably Bill's biggest disappointment in the past two years has been an automobile.

"There is a special kind of foreign car that I've always wanted," Lee explained. "But I didn't want it just because it was expensive. I wanted it because of its trouble-free reputation.

"Ten years I told myself I'd drive this car — 10 years," he continued. "But it's been nothing but trouble — in and out of the garage all the time. I'll probably get rid of it and buy something else."

Part of Bill's effectiveness as a pitcher, he says, is because of a quirk in his body.

"I can't tell you why, but I can never throw the same way or with the same speed twice in a row," he said. "Even if I put the same effort into my motion, the ball always comes up to the plate faster or slower than the time before.

"But muscles aren't the big thing with me anyway. I'd rather fool the hitter. I'd rather get him out with my head. And sometimes I can tell what's going to happen ahead of time because I know I've been there before!"

Competition will be tougher in the shot, where his 59-11 won North Coast but ranks below at least three other qualifying marks ranging up to 63-11.

Keyes won the girls mile in 5:10.2 at North Coast, but must deal tomorrow with Jill Caldwell of Westminster, who has run 5:05.1.

Green will be hoping to break the all-time Marin-mile best of 4:15.7 set in 1971 by Tam's Vian Collier, but even that may not be enough to get him into the finals. At least half a dozen runners are under 4:12. Green's best was 4:17.4 when he was third in North Coast.

Kilmer faces a rough field where perhaps a dozen jumpers have exceeded his 22-3, which put him fourth in the North Coast competition.

SPACEMAN BILL LEE

Report Links President To Milk Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Watergate investigators have concluded that President Nixon, aware milk producers had pledged $2 million to his reelection, "ignored" the opinions of his agricultural experts and ordered an increase in price supports for milk.

The conclusion is reached in a 359-page draft report prepared by the staff of the Senate Watergate Committee and approved by chairman Sam Ervin, D-N.C., following a yearlong probe into whether the campaign pledge and the increase were linked.

The report also said "allegations" that former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally received $15,000 from milk producers for using his influence with the Nixon administration were continuing to be investigated.

"When the President considered the price support decision, he was deciding a matter of great financial interest to one of his most important contributors," the report said.

"The President knew that the milk producers had pledged $2 million to his campaign. Even by the standards of the 1972 presidential campaign, the amount was enormous."

The report said that because the White House has withheld tapes and other documents, investigators have not been able to determine if Nixon did indeed order the price supports raised in return for the campaign pledge.

But the report put forth considerable evidence linking the contributions to the administration's milk support decision.

"It appears that the President, in making his decision to increase the milk price support level, ignored the opinion of every agricultural expert in his administration," the report said.

"At the very least the President's decision was an act of political one-upmanship..."

By increasing prices, the report said, Nixon "cost the government and the consumer hundreds of millions of dollars," but the "President apparently assured himself of the 'support' of the powerful political lobby of the milk producers."

The report includes a detailed rebuttal of Nixon's "white paper" defending his milk decision. Nixon has claimed the Democratic controlled Congress had held "a gun to the head" of the administration and was ready to pass a much higher price ceiling.

The report contends there was not that much pressure on Capitol Hill for a higher ceiling, and that the administration's decision was, in effect, much more costly than any of those proposed in Congress.

American author-poet Walt Whitman was born May 31, 1819.

On this day in history:

In 1889, a disastrous flood hit Johnstown, Pa., leaving 2,200 persons dead in its wake.

In 1902, the Boer War ended as Great Britain and the South Africans signed a peace treaty.

In 1962, Adolf Eichmann was hanged by Israel for his part in the slaying of six million Jews by Nazi Germany during World War II.

In 1973, the U.S. Senate voted to cut off all funds for continued bombing of Cambodia.

Word To Wise: Get Yourself Out While The Getting Is Good

NO MEDALS

No medals will be awarded for the bidding. There were several reasonable ways to get to the sensible contract of game in no-trump.

South won the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts, drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the top spades, discarding a heart from dummy, and ruffed a spade in dummy.

STAGE SET

With the stage thus neatly set, declarer led the remaining heart from dummy. This is where East did his door-slamming act. He went up with the queen of hearts. This locked East neatly into his own hand, just where he didn't want to be. If East led a diamond, dummy's king would make a trick; and if East led anything else, dummy would ruff while South discarded a diamond. Either way South was home safe.

MUST PLAY LOW

East's only chance is to play a low heart instead of putting up the queen. West is able to win the trick with the jack of hearts and then returns a diamond. East gratefully takes his two tricks.

The gentleman in the corner wants to know what sort of idiot East would be if South had J-5 of hearts instead of 10-5. In that case, South would win the second heart trick with the jack, and East would never win a heart trick. East would know that he made the only play that had a chance to defeat the contract. Putting up the queen of hearts gives him no chance at all; playing low gives him the chance that his partner has the jack of hearts.

Report Links President To Milk Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Watergate investigators have concluded that President Nixon, aware milk producers had pledged $2 million to his reelection, "ignored" the opinions of his agricultural experts and ordered an increase in price supports for milk.

The conclusion is reached in a 359-page draft report prepared by the staff of the Senate Watergate Committee and approved by chairman Sam Ervin, D-N.C., following a year-long probe into whether the campaign pledge and the increase were linked.

The report also said "allegations" that former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally received $15,000 from milk producers for using his influence with the Nixon administration were continuing to be investigated.

The draft went to the senators today for their consideration and UPI obtained a copy.

"When the President considered the price support decision, he was deciding a matter of great financial interest to one of his most important contributors," the report said.

"The President knew that the milk producers had pledged $2 million to his campaign. Even by the standards of the 1972 presidential campaign, the amount was enormous."

The report said that because the White House has withheld tapes and other documents, investigators have not been able to determine if Nixon did indeed order the price supports raised in return for the campaign pledge.

But the report put forth considerable evidence linking the contributions to the administration's milk support decision.

"It appears that the President, in making his decision to increase the milk price support level, ignored the opinion of every agricultural expert in his administration," the report said.

"At the very least the President's decision was an act of political one-upmanship..."

By increasing prices, the report said, Nixon "cost the government and the consumer hundreds of millions of dollars," but the "President apparently assured himself of the 'support' of the powerful political lobby of the milk producers."

The report includes a detailed rebuttal of Nixon's "white paper" defending his milk decision. Nixon has claimed the Democratic controlled Congress had held "a gun to the head" of the administration and was ready to pass a much higher price ceiling.

The report contends there was not that much pressure on Capitol Hill for a higher ceiling, and that the administration's decision was, in effect, much more costly than any of those proposed in Congress.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Two Questions On Wellington

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We have accumulated shares of Wellington Fund for 20 years. Is there another you would recommend for greater return? — F.S.

Q. The 588 shares of Wellington Fund I acquired in January, 1963, have doubled in number through reinvestment of distributions. Although I am retired, I do not need the cash for living expenses. Should I continue to hold this fund? — W.F.

A. Conservatively managed Wellington Fund, one of the oldest in the field, being founded in 1928, is also one of the largest with assets of $884 million as of March 31, 1974. As might be expected of a large balanced fund, Wellington has had a consistent if unspectacular record, with gains in bull market periods below average and losses in bear markets also less severe than average. The fund's portfolio features blue chips such as American Telephone, Exxon, General Motors, IBM and Xerox. About one-quarter of assets are invested in bonds, preferreds and convertible securities.

Under the same management group is Wellesley Income Fund, which would make a suitable replacement for reader F.S. Income distributions should be 83 cents this year for a yield of 7.8 per cent on current net asset value. By exchanging your shares for those of the Wellesley Income Fund — the transaction is executed at NAV plus a $5 fee — you would increase your annual return by 58 per cent.

Reader W.F. should consider changing to more aggressive Windsor Fund, another in the Wellington Group. While this fund had a difficult period in 1971-73, the 10-year performance record (1964-1973) was excellent. Furthermore, Windsor is one of the few growth funds in the $100-$500 million level to report a gain in NAV for the first four months of 1974. The fund's portfolio emphasis is on low price/earnings ratio stocks which are temporarily out of favor. Cyclical and income issues also hold a prominent portfolio position, which accounts for the better-than-average 4.5 per cent return available in this fund.

NEW LOOK ON CALEDONIA

Elliott's Laundry at 107 Caledonia Street in Sausalito, built in 1906, was bulldozed last week to make way for three smaller buildings constructed around a small courtyard with plantings and a fountain. A physician will have an office there, and one of the structures will be the new home of Soupcon Restaurant. Other possible tenants are a law firm, laundry, pharmacy and bookstore. Construction is expected to be complete in late September. The building has been approved by the Community Appearance Advisory Board of Sausalito. Tenants will have to be approved by the planning commission and must comply with zoning for the area, which is oriented toward resident-serving enterprises. The owners of the property are Dr. Jack Elliott of San Anselmo and his sister, Barbara Ward of Larkspur. Elliott's Laundry was established by their grandfather after the San Francisco earthquake and operated by their father, P.J. Elliott, until he died two years ago.

Florida Now Is Leader In Motels

For the first time, Florida has overtaken and passed California in the number of motor hotels and in total motor hotel units, according to a survey by Stephen W. Brener of New York, realtor and hospitality industry consultant and senior vice president of Helmsley-Spear Inc.

In 1973, Florida had 946 motor homes with 116,884 units, compared with California's 918 motor homes and 101,756 units. Since Brener's surveys began in 1965, California and Florida had been one-two every year until last year when Florida turned the tables.

The other states among the first are Texas, Georgia, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Tennessee.

For the survey, a motor hotel was defined as a property with transient lodging facilities, built or completely modernized since 1945, open year-round, and containing at least 50 guest units plus adequate on-site free parking.

Women Being Sought By Car Dealerships

The automotive industry is seeking women to work in car dealerships as "salespeople" and service adjusters in what once was one of the most male-oriented industries in the nation, according to Crocker Bank's current auto news bulletin.

Sales charts have revealed that, contrary to the industry's earlier convictions, women are more concerned about the car's features, such as automatic transmission, power steering and power brakes, than they are about its color and interior.

Because of the woman customer's interest in these extra-cost options, she is becoming an important influence and profitable entity for the auto industry.

Today's discriminating woman customer is particular about a car dealership's appearance and the treatment she receives from its salesmen.

In view of this, car dealerships are seeking women to work in sales and service capacities to deal with women customers. So far, the industry has found women to be exceptional in customer relations work.

Utilizing data from a study by the University of Michigan, Crocker's bulletin also reports that side guard door beam safety devices, which are federally required, could be a waste of billions of dollars.

The study was based on two parts. First, how seriously people were injured in cars with beams was compared with those injured in cars without beams. Secondly, door penetration was measured by matching the extent of damage done to caved-in doors on cars with beams, against the smashed doors on cars without beams.

In both cases, the findings were unable to conclude that the side guard door beams produce any effect on injuries or door penetration.

However, other studies, including one by General Motors' Fisher Body Division which pioneered the development of the side guard beams, argue that the beams are worthwhile features.

Stan's For Sports Now Known As Oshman's Sporting Goods

Stan's For Sports, the chain of sporting goods stores established in Marin by Stanley K. Goldsmith in 1954, is being renamed Oshman's Sporting Goods.

Stan's For Sports became a subsidiary of Oshman's Sporting Goods in June of 1972, at which time Goldsmith announced that his stores would continue to operate under the same Stan's For Sports name and policies. Recently, however, Oshman's decided to bring the stores' operations more in line with Oshman's merchandising concepts, Goldsmith explained. That accounts for the name change.

CENTER MARKET at 1119 San Anselmo Avenue in San Anselmo will be sold as of July 1, but the name and operations will be continued unchanged by the new owners, Fuad (Fred) Balat and his wife, Hala, who live in Corte Madera.

Balat, who has been operating Rainbow Market in Larkspur since August of last year, is selling the market back this weekend to former owner Ernest (Ernie Epidendio, who was eager to get back into the business.

Balat will take a month off before taking over Center Market from Victor V. Turkan of San Anselmo, who will retire after almost 30 years in the grocery business. Turkan has owned Center Market for the past 19 years and had the Inverness Park Grocery for 10 years before that.

FRANCIS E. CALLON
Wells Fargo veteran

FRANCIS E. CALLON of San Rafael, last of Wells Fargo Bank's 50-year employees, retires today to mark the end of an era. Because of changed hiring and retirement policies, Callon is the last Wells Fargo employee ever to achieve 50 years of service.

He joined the bank in December of 1923 and has been manager of the collection department, data processing division, in San Francisco since 1962 and assistant vice president since last year.

MOEN DESIGNS, specializing in designing and making authentic Greek apparel for men and women, is now affiliated with Greek Islands Imports at 1208 Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Moen Designs is owned by Harry N. Moen Jr. of 412 Woodland Place, San Rafael, who had about eight years of experience in Minneapolis before coming to San Rafael. He has dresses, caftans, and loungewear for both men and women on display at Greek Islands Imports and will put on a fashion show there in late June.

HUGH PESSNER of West Coast Timber Products Inc., San Rafael, has been appointed to the executive board of the National Wood Products Committee, headed by Chairman Carsten Johnson of Mount Lake Terrace, Wash.

RICK STRAND of Tiburon has been elected a vice president of Cunningham & Walsh Inc., San Francisco public relations agency. Strand, executive art director, working primarily on California Milk Advisory Board and Qantas Airways accounts, joined C & W in 1970.

WILLIAM TIMMER Realty announced that George DeSalvo has joined its Novato sales office at 400 Rowland Boulevard, Novato. A resident of Novato, DeSalvo was with Henry L. Hicks Realty for about a year before joining Timmer this month.

WOODACRE COUNTRY STORE at 10 Park Street in Woodacre will change from private ownership to a corporation with 50 shareholders, almost all living in San Geronimo Valley.

Michael and Alice Shiffman of Woodacre and Arthur and Carol Wells of Berkeley, who have operated the store since 1972, will sell the business to a new corporation called Woodacre Country Store Inc.

Shiffman said the legal changeover will probably occur this weekend. The new corporation plans to expand the services offered by adding a small lumber yard and catalog ordering. The store also sells beer and wine and has added Levis to its inventory.

"Under the new corporation, the store will be more community oriented than profit oriented," said Shiffman, an attorney, who is on the board of directors of the new corporation. Other directors are Burrell Devine, clothing manufacturer's representative; Mary Lou Giddings, Woodacre postmaster; Roger Rosenfeld, a photographer; and Doris Copening, a law student. All are residents of San Geronimo Valley.

Woodacre Country Store was formerly known as Cedric Tarr's General Store until Shiffman bought it in November of 1972.

SASAKI, WALKER, Roberts Associates of Sausalito announced the formation of a new engineering division called Sasaki Walker Associates Engineering.

The engineering division is headed by Bart Hooley of Larkspur, William L. Clarke of San Francisco, and Peter Schneider of the East Bay. All have extensive engineering backgrounds in diverse areas, but all are agreed that in executing land-use plans, engineering must be sensitive to proper environmental considerations, according to Peter Walker, president of SWR.

Mood Of Drifting On Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices drifted today in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Investors were encouraged by news First National City Bank, the second largest bank in the nation, did not raise its prime lending rate, the rate charged most creditworthy corporate customers.

But they were discouraged by a Federal Reserve Board report late Thursday showing business loan demands rose during the latest reporting period. This usually means interest rates will rise.

Occidental Petroleum was the most active issue, off ⅛ at 9 on 81,900 shares. Other oil and energy related issues were irregular. Getty Oil was down 5 after a delayed opening.

Gold mining issues were irregular. ASA Ltd. dropped 1 ⅜ and Homestake Mining 1.

Prices were lower in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex was the most active Amex issue, off 1 ½ at 44 ⅛ on 38,700 shares.

Bohemia Hikes Dividend Rate

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Directors of Bohemia Inc. have declared an increased quarterly cash dividend of 15 cents per share, payable July 3 to shareholders of record June 12.

L.L. Stewart, president, said the board action in raising the cash dividend by 20 per cent "reflects the company's excellent earnings gains, strong financial position and conservative planning for long-term growth."

Bohemia Inc., with corporate headquarters in Eugene, Ore., is engaged in wood products manufactured and specialized construction.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Two Questions On Wellington

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We have accumulated shares of Wellington Fund for 20 years. Is there another you would recommend for greater return? — F.S.

Q. The 588 shares of Wellington Fund I acquired in January, 1963, have doubled in number through reinvestment of distributions. Although I am retired, I do not need the cash for living expenses. Should I continue to hold this fund? — W.F.

A. Conservatively managed Wellington Fund, one of the oldest in the field, being founded in 1928, is also one of the largest with assets of $884 million as of March 31, 1974. As might be expected of a large balanced fund, Wellington has had a consistent if unspectacular record, with gains in bull market periods below average and losses in bear markets also less severe than average. The fund's portfolio features blue chips such as American Telephone, Exxon, General Motors, IBM and Xerox. About one-quarter of assets are invested in bonds, preferreds and convertible securities.

Under the same management group is Wellesley Income Fund, which would make a suitable replacement for reader F.S. Income distributions should be 83 cents this year for a yield of 7.8 per cent on current net asset value. By exchanging your shares for those of the Wellesley Income Fund — the transaction is executed at NAV plus a $5 fee — you would increase your annual return by 58 per cent.

Reader W.F. should consider changing to more aggressive Windsor Fund, another in the Wellington Group. While this fund had a difficult period in 1971-73, the 10-year performance record (1964-1973) was excellent. Furthermore, Windsor is one of the few growth funds in the $100-$500 million level to report a gain in NAV for the first four months of 1974. The fund's portfolio emphasis is on low price/earnings ratio stocks which are temporarily out of favor. Cyclical and income issues also hold a prominent portfolio position, which accounts for the better-than-average 4.5 per cent return available in this fund.

NEW LOOK ON CALEDONIA

Elliott's Laundry at 107 Caledonia Street in Sausalito, built in 1906, was bulldozed last week to make way for three smaller buildings constructed around a small courtyard with plantings and a fountain. A physician will have an office there, and one of the structures will be the new home of Soupcon Restaurant. Other possible tenants are a law firm, laundry, pharmacy and bookstore. Construction is expected to be complete in late September. The building has been approved by the Community Appearance Advisory Board of Sausalito. Tenants will have to be approved by the planning commission and must comply with zoning for the area, which is oriented toward resident-serving enterprises. The owners of the property are Dr. Jack Elliott of San Anselmo and his sister, Barbara Ward of Larkspur. Elliott's Laundry was established by their grandfather after the San Francisco earthquake and operated by their father, P.J. Elliott, until he died two years ago.

Florida Now Is Leader In Motels

For the first time, Florida has overtaken and passed California in the number of motor hotels and in total motor hotel units, according to a survey by Stephen W. Brener of New York, realtor and hospitality industry consultant and senior vice president of Helmsley-Spear Inc.

In 1973, Florida had 946 motor homes with 116,884 units, compared with California's 918 motor homes and 101,756 units. Since Brener's surveys began in 1965, California and Florida had been one-two every year until last year when Florida turned the tables.

The other states among the first are Texas, Georgia, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Tennessee.

For the survey, a motor hotel was defined as a property with transient lodging facilities, built or completely modernized since 1945, open year-round, and containing at least 50 guest units plus adequate on-site free parking.

Women Being Sought By Car Dealerships

The automotive industry is seeking women to work in car dealerships as "salespeople" and service adjusters in what once was one of the most male-oriented industries in the nation, according to Crocker Bank's current auto news bulletin.

Sales charts have revealed that, contrary to the industry's earlier convictions, women are more concerned about the car's features, such as automatic transmission, power steering and power brakes, than they are about its color and interior.

Because of the woman customer's interest in these extra-cost options, she is becoming an important influence and profitable entity for the auto industry.

Today's discriminating woman customer is particular about a car dealership's appearance and the treatment she receives from its salesmen.

In view of this, car dealerships are seeking women to work in sales and service capacities to deal with women customers. So far, the industry has found women to be exceptional in customer relations work.

Utilizing data from a study by the University of Michigan, Crocker's bulletin also reports that side guard door beam safety devices, which are federally required, could be a waste of billions of dollars.

The study was based on two parts. First, how seriously people were injured in cars with beams was compared with those injured in cars without beams. Secondly, door penetration was measured by matching the extent of damage done to caved-in doors on cars with beams, against the smashed doors on cars without beams.

In both cases, the findings were unable to conclude that the side guard door beams produce any effect on injuries or door penetration.

However, other studies, including one by General Motors' Fisher Body Division which pioneered the development of the side guard beams, argue that the beams are worthwhile features.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Stan's For Sports Now Known As Oshman's Sporting Goods

Stan's For Sports, the chain of sporting goods stores established in Marin by Stanley K. Goldsmith in 1954, is being renamed Oshman's Sporting Goods.

Oshman's, the parent company, is headquartered in Houston, Tex.

Stan's For Sports became a subsidiary of Oshman's Sporting Goods in June of 1972, at which time Goldsmith announced that his stores would continue to operate under the same Stan's For Sports name and policies. Recently, however, Oshman's decided to bring the stores' operations more in line with Oshman's merchandising concepts, Goldsmith explained. That accounts for the name change.

CENTER MARKET at 1119 San Anselmo Avenue in San Anselmo will be sold as of July 1, but the name and operations will be continued unchanged by the new owners, Fuad (Fred) Balat and his wife, Hala, who live in Corte Madera.

Balat, who has been operating Rainbow Market in Larkspur since August of last year, is selling the market back this weekend to former owner Ernest (Ernie Epidendio, who was eager to get back into the business.

Balat will take a month off before taking over Center Market from Victor V. Turkan of San Anselmo, who will retire after almost 30 years in the grocery business. Turkan has owned Center Market for the past 19 years and had the Inverness Park Grocery for 10 years before that.

FRANCIS E. CALLON
Wells Fargo veteran

FRANCIS E. CALLON of San Rafael, last of Wells Fargo Bank's 50-year employees, retires today to mark the end of an era. Because of changed hiring and retirement policies, Callon is the last Wells Fargo employee ever to achieve 50 years of service.

He joined the bank in December of 1923 and has been manager of the collection department, data processing division, in San Francisco since 1962 and assistant vice president since last year.

MOEN DESIGNS, specializing in designing and making authentic Greek apparel for men and women, is now affiliated with Greek Islands Imports at 1208 Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Moen Designs is owned by Harry N. Moen Jr. of 412 Woodland Place, San Rafael, who had about eight years of experience in Minneapolis before coming to San Rafael. He has dresses, caftans, and loungewear for both men and women on display at Greek Islands Imports and will put on a fashion show there in late June.

HUGH PESSNER of West Coast Timber Products Inc., San Rafael, has been appointed to the executive board of the National Wood Products Committee, headed by Chairman Carsten Johnson of Mount Lake Terrace, Wash.

RICK STRAND of Tiburon has been elected a vice president of Cunningham & Walsh Inc., San Francisco public relations agency. Strand, executive art director, working primarily on California Milk Advisory Board and Qantas Airways accounts, joined C & W in 1970.

WILLIAM TIMMER Realty announced that George DeSalvo has joined its Novato sales office at 400 Rowland Boulevard, Novato. A resident of Novato, DeSalvo was with Henry L. Hicks Realty for about a year before joining Timmer this month.

WOODACRE COUNTRY STORE at 10 Park Street in Woodacre will change from private ownership to a corporation with 50 shareholders, almost all living in San Geronimo Valley.

Michael and Alice Shiffman of Woodacre and Arthur and Carol Wells of Berkeley, who have operated the store since 1972, will sell the business to a new corporation called Woodacre Country Store Inc.

Shiffman said the legal changeover will probably occur this weekend. The new corporation plans to expand the services offered by adding a small lumber yard and catalog ordering. The store also sells beer and wine and has added Levis to its inventory.

"Under the new corporation, the store will be more community oriented than profit oriented," said Shiffman, an attorney, who is on the board of directors of the new corporation. Other directors are Burrell Devine, clothing manufacturer's representative; Mary Lou Giddings, Woodacre postmaster; Roger Rosenfeld, a photographer; and Doris Copening, a law student. All are residents of San Geronimo Valley.

Woodacre Country Store was formerly known as Cedric Tarr's General Store until Shiffman bought it in November of 1972.

SASAKI, WALKER, Roberts Associates of Sausalito announced the formation of a new engineering division called Sasaki Walker Associates Engineering.

The engineering division is headed by Bart Hooley of Larkspur, William L. Clarke of San Francisco, and Peter Schneider of the East Bay. All have extensive engineering backgrounds in diverse areas, but all are agreed that in executing land-use plans, engineering must be sensitive to proper environmental considerations, according to Peter Walker, president of SWR.

Mood Of Drifting On Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices drifted today in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Investors were encouraged by news First National City Bank, the second largest bank in the nation, did not raise its prime lending rate, the rate charged most creditworthy corporate customers.

But they were discouraged by a Federal Reserve Board report late Thursday showing business loan demands rose during the latest reporting period. This usually means interest rates will rise.

Occidental Petroleum was the most active issue, off ⅛ at 9 on 81,900 shares. Other oil and energy related issues were irregular. Getty Oil was down 5 after a delayed opening.

Gold mining issues were irregular. ASA Ltd. dropped 1 ⅜ and Homestake Mining 1.

Prices were lower in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex was the most active Amex issue, off 1 ½ at 44 ⅛ on 38,700 shares.

Bohemia Hikes Dividend Rate

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Directors of Bohemia Inc. have declared an increased quarterly cash dividend of 15 cents per share, payable July 3 to shareholders of record June 12.

L.L. Stewart, president, said the board action in raising the cash dividend by 20 per cent "reflects the company's excellent earnings gains, strong financial position and conservative planning for long-term growth."

Bohemia Inc., with corporate headquarters in Eugene, Ore., is engaged in wood products manufactured and specialized construction.

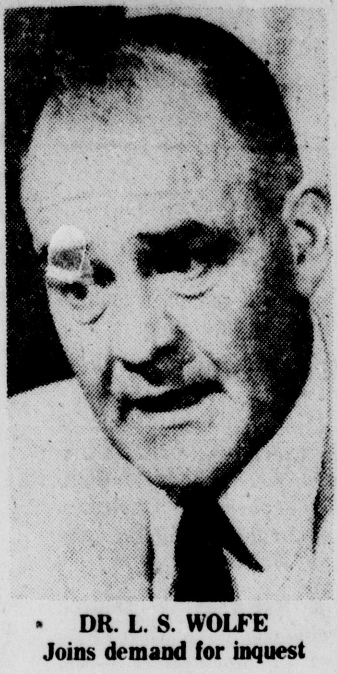
Hearst Says Shootout Aided SLA

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (UPI) — Patricia Hearst's father yesterday said he believes she can now hide out with radical sympathizers, "I think forever."

Randolph A. Hearst told newsmen that he felt the Los Angeles shootout with police in which six Symbionese Liberation Army members died would help his daughter and two other SLA fugitives in their flight from the law.

"Until the shootout, they didn't have the sympathy of the radicals," he said. "But now it is different. She can now go underground, I think forever."



DR. L. S. WOLFE
Joins demand for inquest

Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, said the deaths of the six SLA members offset the lack of support for the terrorists among the radical element after the assassination of Oakland School Superintendent Marcus Foster in November, 1973.

The SLA says it killed Foster, a black, because of a proposed new discipline plan for the Oakland schools. Members of the terrorist group kidnaped the newspaper heiress from her Berkeley apartment three months ago.

In Los Angeles, the father of one of those slain in the shootout complained to a news conference that his son and the other SLA members had been "slaughtered" by police and the FBI, and joined the American Civil Liberties Union in demanding an inquest into the deaths.

Dr. L.S. Wolfe, of Allentown, Pa., father of Willie Wolfe, 23, said the police had alternatives such as starving out the terrorists, and he would have gone into the gang's hideout and talked his son into surrendering.

Following the conference, Wolfe went to the coroner's office to claim his son's body. He appeared stunned when he was told that at the request of the dead man's mother —Dr. Wolfe's first wife —his son's body had been turned over to a local mortuary, where it was cremated.

The mortuary said the ashes were sent to Wolfe's mother, Virginia Wolfe, in Litchfield, Conn., where they were buried Tuesday.

Wolfe said he had talked to his former wife Monday night, and she had not told him that she had claimed the body.

Representatives of the ACLU said the families of five of the six dead SLA members had authorized the ACLU to act for them in seeking an inquest. The sole exception is the family of Nancy Ling Perry, daughter of a Santa Rosa, Calif., furniture dealer, a spokesman said.

Police and the FBI, responding to criticism of "excessive force," have pointed out that those in the house were warned by bullhorn to surrender, and that after 10 minutes elapsed, a tear gas grenade was fired through a window. The SLA then opened fire with automatic weapons and only then did police and FBI agents return the fire, authorities said.

Navy Tried To Conceal Demand From Grumman For Plane Loan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Grumman Aerospace Corp. has told the Navy it can't continue building the controversial F14 "Tomcat" fighter unless the Pentagon comes up with $125 million in advance cash payments, Senate sources say.

Grumman's demand for the unusual cash-in-advance procedure cannot be met without an okay from Congress, but the Navy has concealed the demand from Capitol Hill since January, the sources said.

The Navy action was discovered within the past week by a Senate Armed Services Committee aide. A memo detailing his findings was made public yesterday by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Committee sources said the group was "acutely embarrassed" by the Navy action because its $21.8 billion 1975 arms budget comes to the Senate floor today — and the bill contains $722.5 million more for F14s.

The committee is said to fear the new disruption of the trouble-plagued F14 program could lead the Senate to junk it altogether. The program has already encountered a cost overrun of more than $1 billion, and the plane does not perform anywhere near its original specifications.

The Navy's inability to pay Grumman in advance without congressional approval stems from a compromise worked out last year with Congress after the company refused to build more of the planes.

Grumman said then it would go bankrupt if the Navy insisted on buying more planes at the original contract price of $12.6 million a copy.

In a complex deal, Grumman agreed to take a $200 million loss on the first 150 planes, and the Navy got approval from Congress to raise the price on all subsequent models.

In a move to win congressional assent, the Navy and Grumman signed a contract for 48 planes at a price of $737 million last September. However, the contract was made contingent on the appropriation of funds by Congress.

When the 1974 appropriations bill reached the floor, Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., tacked on an "anti-bailout amendment" that prohibited the Navy from advancing more than $25 million without a congressional okay.

Its purpose was to make Grumman borrow from the banks to finance its work, rather than from the government. But Grumman's bankers withdrew from the deal because of the F14's political problems, the sources said.

Last January, when the Navy asked Grumman to go ahead with the contract, the company refused unless the Navy agreed to advance — in effect, loan — it $125 million in the next two years.

Proxmire called the Navy's actions "deceiftul" and said Grumman was conducting "corporate extortion" against the government.
